6. STATEMENTS AND COMMUNICATIONS BY:

6.1 The Executive Mayor

“Honourable Speaker, fellow Councillors, and Members of the Public,

This morning, I address you with a mix of emotions: concern for the challenges many of our residents face and deep appreciation for the strength and unity shown by our communities in times of hardship.

Over the past weeks, our municipality has experienced shack fires with one fatality that displaced families and damaged homes. These events have highlighted once again the dangerous and insecure conditions that many of our residents still live in. I want to thank the Ward Councillors, those in the affected areas, for their swift support, and our disaster management officials who were on the ground to assist. A heartfelt thank you also goes to the volunteers and the broader Plettenberg Bay community, who responded with generosity and care — with special mention to the Dignity Fund for stepping in to help.

As we support the recovery process, I want to urge all residents to exercise caution—especially as winter approaches. Shack fires are often preventable, and we are committed to strengthening awareness and safety education in our communities. This call is made not with blame but with empathy and concern for the well-being of every household.

In addition, we are deeply disturbed by the recent incidents of gender-based violence. At the end of May, the body of a woman was found in Kransbos and another in KwaNokuthula this past Sunday. These are tragic reminders of the ongoing violence faced by women in our society — and we mourn with the affected families. Incidents of violent crimes also occurred in other areas within Bitou

Violent crime, in general, remains a serious concern in our communities, robbing families of peace and stability. As leaders, we stand united in condemning all forms of violence. We continue to work with SAPS, community policing forums, and civil society to build safer communities. Still, this fight requires everyone within our communities to play a part — in speaking out, protecting one another, and shifting the culture that allows such violence to exist.

On a more constructive note, I want to remind our communities that the municipal draft budget is open for public comment. Ward-based public meetings are underway to ensure residents can participate meaningfully in shaping our priorities. Wards 1, 5, and 7 have already concluded their sessions. I sincerely thank Councillors Mhlana, Olivier, and the communities involved for their valuable contributions. I also want to apologize to the residents of Ward 5 for not being able to attend personally and thank Councillor Mgxaba for your leadership during that session.

Tonight, Ward 2 will hold its community engagement and alternative dates for Wards 4 and 5 — which were postponed — will be announced soon. I encourage all residents to attend these sessions. Your voice is not only welcome — it is needed.

Finally, to end on a positive note, I congratulate the recently graduated officials and councilors. Your achievement is a proud moment for our municipality and a testament to your dedication to growth and service. Well done, and may you continue to lead with knowledge and heart.

Let us keep moving forward — united in compassion, focused on service, and committed to the well-being of every resident of Bitou.

Thank you.”

3RD ADJUSTMENT BUDGET – ADJUSTMENT BUDGET OF THE 2024/25 MTREF

Portfolio Comm: Finance & CorporateFile Ref: 9/1/3/4Demarcation: All WardsDelegation: Council

The Executive Mayor, Councillor J N Kamkam addressed the Council and presented the 3rd Adjustment Budget.

“Honourable Speaker, fellow Councillors, and members of the public,

I wish to provide a brief but essential update regarding the adjustment budget, which is tabled by the revised grant allocations received through the 2024/25 DORA Adjustment.

The municipality has received confirmation of a decline in grant funding for the Water Services Infrastructure Grant (WSIG) project in Kurland, amounting to a reduction of R2.92 million in the current financial year. This is a significant adjustment that impacts on our 2024/25 capital program. More concerning, the WSIG allocation for the 2025/26 financial year has also been removed entirely, despite the project being approved as part of a multiyear allocation.

The nature of this project is critical, particularly for the Craggs community, where water security remains one of our highest priorities. To prevent delays and avoid further risks to service delivery, the municipality was left with no choice but to secure borrowings to ensure the continuation of the project. This decision was taken out of necessity, as the impact of halting the project would have been dire.

No changes have been made to the funding sources for the shortfall in this financial year. However, the municipality has managed to identify internal savings to supplement and bridge the gap.

This situation again draws attention to concerns previously raised by this Council regarding the risk to grant allocations, particularly where there are recurring issues such as slow capital budget performance, weak implementation, and a lack of urgency in responding to findings and recommendations. I request that the Municipal Manager conduct a detailed analysis into the root causes that may have contributed to this reduction — so that we may address weaknesses with urgency and restore confidence with our funding partners. The issue of consequence management It also needs to be addressed urgently.

The adjustment budget also contains revisions in operating expenditure, driven by changes in the following areas:

- 1. Depreciation and amortization*
- 2. Transfers and subsidies*
- 3. Contracted services*

These adjustments are in line with updated expenditure projections and accounting requirements

Resolved

1. That the 3rd Adjustments Budget of Bitou Municipality for the Financial Year 2024/2025, be approved as follows:
 - (a) Table B1: Adjustments Budget Summary
 - (b) Table B2: Adjustments Budget Financial Performance (expenditure by standard classification)
 - (c) Table B3: Adjustments Budget Financial Performance (expenditure by municipal vote)
 - (d) Table B4: Adjustments Budget Financial Performance (revenue by source)

 - (k) Supporting Tables SB1 – SB 20
2. That the Departmental Service Deliver Budget Implementation Plan (SDBIP) be reviewed within directorates where applicable.
3. That the Adjustments Budget be submitted to the authorities and in the format as required by law.

Annexure “A” Amended 2023/24 Integrated Development Plan
(Annexure A to be circulated separately)

Report from: IDP Manager

Date: 26 May 2025

PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

For the Council to review and formally approve the revised Integrated Development Plan (IDP) for the 2025/2026 financial year.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The IDP is crucial plan that outlines the strategic priorities and initiatives aimed at fostering sustainable development within our community. The council's approval is essential to ensure alignment with the long-term vision and to facilitate effective implementation of the proposed projects.

Integrated Development Plan

Section 34 of the Municipal Systems Act, Act 32 of 2000, requires each municipal council to review and amend its Integrated Development Plan according to the MEC's comments and the changing circumstances as necessary.

Public Participation

Council went on a public participation drive as required by Planning and Performance regulations. A public notice was also placed in the local newspapers and municipal website to invite public comments on the IDP and the Budget.

Main issues from the community

The most pressing issues are largely operational, including tasks such as grass cutting, cleaning mobile ablution facilities, and repairing streetlights. One notable request was for the Council to reduce the R6,000,000 allocated for upgrading gravel roads and instead use part of that funding to tar some roads.

Section 1: Office of the Municipal Manager

In general, the budget was welcomed and accepted in all wards.

Amendments to the 2022 – 2027 IDP

Nearly all sections of the IDP were revised. The key feature of the 2025/2026 IDP document is the enhanced strategic catalyst projects, which aim to stimulate growth and development while also providing essential services.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

To ensure the smooth implementation of the IDP, the 2025-2028 MTREF is aligned with the IDP for both capital and operational programs.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The IDP is compiled in accordance with an approved process plan, the MEC comments and SIME recommendations. This amended IDP document complies with sections 26 of the Municipal Systems Act, Act 32 of 2000 and Municipal Performance Management Regulations.

Mechanism for participation

A public notice was placed in the local newspapers and municipal website, inviting the public to comment on the draft IDP and Draft budget. In addition, public meetings were held in all wards

All community inputs were factored into the amended document.

RELEVANT LEGISLATION

The IDP was compiled per:

1. The Municipal Systems Act, Act 32 of 2000
2. The Municipal Finance Management Act, Act 53 of 2003; and
3. Local Government: Municipal Planning and Performance Management Regulations, 2001

5. Western Cape Land Use Planning Act, 2014 (Act 3 of 2014) (LUPA)

Attachments: Annexure “A”:- Council Resolution C/1/318/04/25: Application to waive a requirement of General Notice No 50737 of 30 May 2024 – Upper Limits of Total Remuneration Package Payable to Municipal Managers and Managers Directly accountable to Municipal Managers

PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

To request the Council to support an application to the MEC for Local Government in the Western Cape to provide support for an application for a waiver to the National Minister of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs for a waiver of the requirements as outlined in Section 56(7) of the Systems Act.

This request arises from the unique challenges that our Municipality faced regarding the Recruitment and Selection Process and ultimately the appointment of a Director Planning and Development.

BACKGROUND

Council at its meeting of 30 April 2025, supported an application to the Office of the MEC in the Western Cape to garner his support for a waiver application to the National Minister for Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs in respect to the Director Planning and Development and the Director Financial Services, to waive the upper limits of remuneration of Senior Managers as per notice No. 50737 of 30 May 2024.

Council at its meeting of 31 March 2025, appointed Mr. M Minne in the position of Director: Planning and Development as per Council Resolution C/1/313/03/25.

In terms of Section 56 (4A)(a) of the Municipal Systems Act together with Regulation 15(6) and 17 of the Regulations on Appointment and Conditions of Employment of Senior Managers, a Senior Manager means a municipal manager or acting municipal manager, appointed in terms of Section 54A of the Act, and includes a manager directly accountable to a municipal manager appointed in terms of section 56 of the Act.

Section 1: Office of the Municipal Manager

Section 56(7) states that a Municipal Council, may in special circumstances and on good cause shown, apply in writing to the Minister to waive any of the requirements listed in subsection (1) (b) if it is unable to attract suitable candidates.

It should be noted that Mr. Minne was previously appointed in the position of Spatial Planner, which reported to the Manager: Town Planner, which then reported to a Director, thus according to Section 56 of the Systems Act, Mr. Minne; as Spatial Planner is/was not regarded as a Manager. Although the Office of the MEC might not regard this position as a Manager position; the post level on our approved organizational structure do regard the position as being at middle management level.

Furthermore, it should be noted that the position of Director Planning and Development was declared vacant since March 2023 as per Council Resolution C/1/122/01/23 and remained vacant since the appointment of the Director Planning and Development on 01 May 2025. The position was advertised on more than five (5) different occasions.

The vacancy was re-advertised under notice 05 of 2025, a total of 12 applications were received of which only 5 candidates met the competency framework of the position. Only 1 candidate from the 5 shortlisted candidates was previously appointed as a Director, the rest were all had middle management experience; which are in possession of the prerequisite qualification, skills; experience and competency for the post.

The Council is satisfied that it managed to find a suitable qualified, experienced and competent candidate and confirmed the appointment Mr. M Minne as Director Planning and Development. Mr. Minne has more than 8 years' experience at Middle Management Level. Council further noted that Mr. M Ninne qualified at an advanced level for appointment as Director Planning and Development.

Section 56(7) of the Systems Act mandates specific qualifications and criteria for the appointment of municipal managers. While these regulations are crucial for ensuring accountability and professionalism within local governance, they can inadvertently create barriers in circumstances where the local government must act swiftly to address pressing needs.

CHALLENGES:

With the ongoing economic fluctuations and demographic changes, there is a notable shortage of qualified candidates who meet all the criteria set out in Section 56(7). This has hindered our ability to fill this critical leadership position timeously.

The prolonged vacancy caused delays in various decision-making and service livery matters and or issues which affected our ability to respond to community needs effectively and efficiently.

It is therefore requested that the Council endorse an application for a waiver of the requirements specified in Section 56(7).

PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

To inform Council of the progress regarding the dispute with the South African Revenue Services (SARS) on VAT treatment of grants received from Department of Cultural Affairs (DCAF) for Library services and to recommend a way forward.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

During training, provided by South African Revenue Services (SARS) and National Treasury in September 2022, it was made clear that all grants made to Municipalities where the function is not assigned to the Municipality, the standard rate of VAT must be applied, and the VAT must be paid over to South African Revenue Services (SARS). According to South African Revenue Services (SARS) and National Treasury the assigned must have taken place in terms of Section 156 of the Constitution, once the Constitution was promulgated.

The implication of that was that all grants received, for which the library function, that has not been assigned to Municipalities, according to South African Revenue Services (SARS) and The National Treasury, will be subject to Standard rate VAT (15%).

All the Municipalities in the Western Cape treated these grants in the past as a zero-rated grant. In layman's terms, it means that no Output VAT was paid over to South African Revenue Services (SARS) on the receipt of the grant, but the Input VAT on taxable supplies were claimed from South African Revenue Services (SARS) in delivering the service. The VAT on library funding has been treated like the aforementioned since the inception of the library grant framework.

Section 2: Finance

The consequence of the interpretation of South African Revenue Services (SARS) and National Treasury has a detrimental effect, not only for B Local Authorities in term of libraries but also for District Municipalities with the roads function. The consequence will affect the fiscus of Municipality direct.

As part of the AFS disclosure for 2023/2024, management have opted to disclose the actual VAT as a provision and the interest and penalties as a contingent liability. The previous year both components were treated as a contingent liability.

Various actions were taken, meetings and discussions were held. The accounting consultants, Mubeko, was requested to obtain the services of a tax expert. The Municipality worked together with 14 other Municipalities in a class action against South African Revenue Services (SARS). The route followed at that stage included initially to obtain a general binding ruling (GBR) from South African Revenue Services (SARS), as well as following the Voluntary Disclosure Program (VDP) with South African Revenue Services (SARS).

The outcome of these processes was not favourable and had to be reconsidered.

Annexure A - Progress report dated by the Tax Experts (ENS) on the matter dated 29/01/2025, explains the process as described.

DISCUSSION AND MOTIVATION

Annexure B - General Binding Ruling (GBR 74) issued on the 3rd of October 2024, actual forced Municipalities to change the accounting disclosures to a provision in the 2023/2024 financial year to please the Auditor General.

The advice from the tax expert team (ENS) on the general binding ruling (BGR 74) was as follow: That the legal interpretation of South African Revenue Services (SARS).

- Ruling is flawed. Per the General Binding Ruling (BGR 74 it is indicated that ordinances are not good law anymore. However, ENS confirmed through the public law lawyer that this is still applicable, as indicating in our class ruling.
- That appropriate treatment would be that the function is assigned, part (a) per the table on page 6 of the BGR 74. However, as per the interpretation of South African Revenue Services (SARS), it implied that it is a delegate function.
- Important is, as stated during meetings, a binding general ruling is not a must. This is only an interpretation of South African Revenue Services (SARS).
- In terms of the timeframe as per the General Binding Ruling (BGR 74, it is indicated that it applies from the date of the ruling. However, as indicated by South African Revenue Services (SARS) to ENS, it can still be applied retrospectively as General Binding Ruling (BGR 74) is only an interpretation.
- In terms of General Binding Ruling (BGR 74) a tax invoice must be issued to the Provincial Department; the municipality would have to issue a tax invoice to Province this would be for the full amount received and not only the portion spent.

After the issuing of the General Binding Ruling (BGR 74) dated 3 October 2024, some of the municipalities indicated that they are not going to participate any longer in the class action.

The Financial Directorate consulted with the Municipal Manager, whereafter the decision was taken to committed to the next step in obtaining Legal Counsel.

Section 2: Finance

Mossel Bay; Oudtshoorn; Cape Agulhas; Bitou; Bergervier; Cederberg and Overstrand have indicated that they will continue with the step to obtain a legal counsel opinion and then decide on the probability of success when taking the matter to court.

Attached as Annexure C the legal counsel opinion of Adv Michael Bishop dated 27 March 2025. On the 3 April 2025 a report back and way forward meeting took place with all the participating municipalities and the tax experts regarding the legal opinion.

A few key points from this meeting are as follow:

1. That the case against SARS is getting stronger and stronger. The assignment of the function has been done in terms of Provincial Library Service Ordinance 16 of 1981
2. That Ordinance 16 of 1981 was not repealed by the Constitution
3. That the way forward has two options:
 - a. Take the soft approach again and consult with SARS; or
 - b. Give notice that the 7 Municipalities is of intent to take the matter to court, in doing so due process will be followed.
4. That the respective Councils of the seven municipalities takes a decision regarding the abovementioned options
5. That the CFO's of the various Municipalities speak to the other and inform them of the outcome of the legal counsel and request to reconsider the possibility to join. This must be done in such a manner that the legal opinion is only provided to them as only the 7 Municipalities contributed to the cost of obtaining it

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

The technical support for the cost of accounting services rendered thus far is R57 032.81(Vat inclusive), that was paid in 2023/24 and R 57 032.81 for current financial year 2024/2025.

The share of the cost regarding the legal counsel opinion of Adv Michael Bishop dated 27 March 2025, amounted to R 28 635.00 VAT inclusive.

The estimated cost of the processes to follow, if the route of legal action is taken, will be +/- R 1 million to R 2.5 million for the High Court action, if proceed, and it is viewed it will go to the Constitutional Court, from start to end including the High court, is estimated at +/- R4.5 million.

Aforementioned cost must be shared by the participating Municipalities.

Between 30 and 50% of the cost will be recovered from SARS if successful, if not successful then SARS may request a ruling to the same effect for their cost.

Bitou Municipality have created a provision of R10 693 043 as at 30 June 2024 and a contingent liability for interest and penalties, should the VAT become due and payable.

RELEVANT LEGISLATION

All the relevant legislation is discussed, in detail, in the legal counsel opinion.

Section 2: Finance

COMMENTS FROM FINANCIAL SERVICES

The Financial Directorate is of the opinion that Council should consider commencing the process of legal action against SARS through a joint effort with the other 6 municipalities.

Various discussions were held with both SARS and Province with no or little commitment of any of the role players. There is then still a probability that the matter can be settled outside of the courts but then SARS will get the message that the Municipality is serious and prepared to defend its informed position.

VAT ON MUNICIPAL LIBRARY GRANTS: CONSIDERATIONS TO RESOLVE SARS DISPUTE

We write to you with reference to the our recent discussions.

The South African Revenue Service (“SARS”) has indicated that value-added tax (“VAT”) compliance at municipalities has been identified as a project and that the intention is to conduct VAT audits to assess compliance with the VAT Act. It is likely that compliance with SARS’ Binding General Ruling 74 (“BGR74”) will specifically be considered. Based on SARS’ interpretation as set out in BGR 74, SARS will raise additional assessments in respect of the provincial government library grants received by the municipalities for the last 5 years, as well as in respect of other risk areas identified by SARS.

1. Process followed to date

- 1.1. A VAT Class Ruling Application was submitted to SARS on behalf of the Municipalities requesting SARS to confirm that the grants received from Provincial Government for purposes of operating the libraries are subject to VAT at the zero-rate in terms of section 8(5A) read with section 11(2)(t) of the Value-Added Tax Act, 89 of 1991 (“VAT Act”) on the basis that the function has been assigned to them in accordance with the Provincial Library Service Ordinance 16 of 1981 (“1981 Ordinance”).
- 1.2. Voluntary Disclosure Programme (“VDP”) Applications were submitted on behalf of the each of the Municipalities in advance of the VAT Class Ruling to disclose the VAT liability in respect of the library grants in the event that a negative VAT Class Ruling is issued. The VDP applications were made subject to the outcome of the VAT Class Ruling Application. The purpose of the VDP application was to limit any potential penalty exposure should SARS issue a negative ruling. In terms of the VDP application, we disclosed the liabilities for the last 5 years in accordance with the principles of prescription contained in section 99 of the Tax Administration Act, 28 of 2011 (“TAA”).

- 1.3. Following the submission of the VAT class ruling application and subsequent interactions with SARS, SARS issued BGR74 which deals with the VAT treatment of supplies of goods or services made by municipalities to national or provincial government. While this BGR is not binding on the Municipalities, it is binding on SARS and reflects how they will apply the legislation. In terms of SARS’ interpretation, there was no assignment of the library function to the Municipalities in terms of the 1981 Ordinance and the Municipalities was thus required to levy and account for output tax at the standard rate on the grant receipts. We do not agree with SARS’ interpretation in BGR74 and are of the view that it is fundamentally flawed.
- 1.4. As a result of SARS issuing BGR74, SARS rejected the VAT Class Ruling on the basis that the application contains an issue that is the same as or substantially similar to an issue that is “the subject of a policy document or draft legislation that has been published”.
- 1.5. Following the issue of BGR74 and SARS’ rejection of the VAT Class Ruling, the VDP Application process commenced. We received correspondence from the Voluntary Disclosure Unit (“VDU”) stating that it is their view that prescription is not applicable in the circumstances and that the Municipalities are required to provide schedules reflecting the liability in respect of the municipal grants dating back to when it first arose, in order for the VDP Application to be accepted as valid.
- 1.6. On the basis of no limit to the prescription periods the VDP applications were withdrawn.
- 1.7. During our recent interactions with SARS, we were informed that SARS intends to commence with VAT audits of the municipalities in due course, and that they have already identified a number of risk areas in the industry which will form the basis of these VAT audits (including the VAT on grants received for libraries, roads and hospitals).
- 1.8. We have been requested to prepare this note on the various options available to the Municipalities in the circumstances.

2. Option 1: Engagement with SARS’ Revenue Augmentation Unit (“RAU”)

- 2.1. The RAU have indicated their willingness to engage with us to resolve the matter outside of the audit and VDP process. Based on our initial discussions, the RAU proposed that each Municipality will be required to calculate its VAT liability based on the VAT risk areas identified by SARS¹ and amend its VAT returns accordingly whereafter SARS will provide relief as follows:
 - 2.1.1. The liability period will be limited to 5 years in terms of prescription;

¹ We have not received a list of these potential risk areas. Items listed during our call with SARS included VAT on grants received in respect of “libraries, hospitals and roads.”

- 2.1.2. No understatement penalties will be levied;
 - 2.1.3. The 10% late payment penalty will be remitted; and
 - 2.1.4. Interest will be reduced. Prior experiences indicates that this reduction could be up to 50% of the total interest payable.
- 2.2. Payment plans could also be negotiated with SARS on a case-by-case basis.
- 2.3. By following this process, the Municipality accepts SARS' interpretation as set out in BGR74 and will not be able to dispute this legal position at a later stage.
- 2.4. From a timing perspective, this process must be initiated as soon as possible, before the SARS audit team can commence with the VAT audit process, as the RAU will no longer be able to deal with the matter if the audit has already commenced.

3. Option 2: SARS Audit

- 3.1. In terms of this option, the Municipality is not required to take any further steps at this stage.
- 3.2. When SARS notifies the Municipality of the VAT Audit, the Municipality will be informed of the transactions that SARS will audit with a request for certain information, data and documentation to be provided. Further samples, explanations and details may be requested. SARS may also conduct site visits.
- 3.3. As part of the VAT audit SARS will review the VAT issues that has already been identified for municipalities, as well as any other potential VAT non-compliance issues that may be identified as part of the process.
- 3.4. After concluding the VAT audit, SARS will issue a letter to the Municipality with its findings and proposed adjustments, allowing the Municipality 21 days to respond to the findings.
- 3.5. SARS will consider the Municipality's response and issue its finalisation of audit letter along with the VAT assessments (where applicable). SARS' system will levy an automatic 10% late payment penalty on the assessed amounts as well as interest. In addition, SARS may levy understatement penalties varying between 10% - 200%, depending on the taxpayer's behaviour in the circumstances.
- 3.6. SARS may also raise assessments in respect of prescribed periods (i.e. more than 5 years) to the extent that SARS is of the view that the fact that the full amount of tax chargeable was not assessed due to fraud, intentional or negligent misrepresentation, intentional or negligent non-disclosure of material facts, or failure to submit a return.
- 3.7. Once SARS raised the additional assessments, the normal dispute process will commence, which may include:

- 3.7.1. The Municipality must submit an objection against the assessment(s) raised, as well as request for remission of penalties and interest;
 - 3.7.2. SARS will respond to the objection in its notice of outcome of objection;
 - 3.7.3. If the objection is disallowed (which will likely be the case, specifically in respect of the library grants), an appeal may be submitted by the Municipality;
 - 3.7.4. It is unlikely that the matter will be suitable for ADR and will proceed for hearing in the tax court. Since the matter will likely be of a constitutional nature, the tax court will not have the necessary jurisdiction to hear the matter and will have to be heard by the High Court with potential further appeals to the Constitutional Court.
- 3.8. It is difficult to provide an accurate estimation of the duration and costs involved of the processes under this option.

4. Option 3: Institute legal proceedings

- 4.1. The Municipalities could institute legal proceedings at this stage by applying for a declaratory order from the High Court that BGR74 is legally flawed especially in relation to the status of Old Order Legislation. Such an application will be made on the basis that the municipalities will suffer financial prejudice should BGR74 be applied and relates exclusively to a question of law.
- 4.2. The detailed process and potential costs with regards to this option was set out in detail in our email dated 21 November 2024 and is attached to this note as Annexure B.
- 4.3. We recommend that you first obtain a written opinion from senior counsel to advise on the prospects of success of such litigation proceedings before instituting the proceedings.

We await your further instructions on the matter.

Kind regards

BINDING GENERAL RULING (VAT) 74

DATE: 3 October 2024

ACT : VALUE-ADDED TAX ACT 89 OF 1991
SECTION : SECTION 1(1) DEFINITIONS OF “GRANT” AND “INPUT TAX” AND SECTIONS 7(1)(a), 8(5A), (11)(2)(f) AND 54
SUBJECT : VAT TREATMENT OF CERTAIN SUPPLIES OF GOODS OR SERVICES MADE BY A MUNICIPALITY TO A NATIONAL OR PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

Preamble

For the purposes of this ruling –

- “BGR” means a binding general ruling issued under section 89 of the Tax Administration Act 28 of 2011;
- “section” means a section of the VAT Act;
- “VAT” means value-added tax;
- “VAT Act” means the Value-Added Tax Act 89 of 1991;
- “Constitution” means the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, Act 108 of 1996;
- “Republic” means the Republic of South Africa; and
- any word or expression bears the meaning ascribed to it in the VAT Act.

The table in 4 does not apply to any supplies that are deemed to be made, under section 8(23), by municipalities to the extent of any payment made to a municipality in terms a national housing programme contemplated in the Housing Act 107 of 1997.

1. Purpose

This BGR sets out the VAT treatment of supplies of goods or services that are made by municipalities to national or provincial government under each method of contracting. This BGR does not purport to determine the contractual agreement between the parties but gives the VAT implications based on the nature of the transaction and the contractual capacity of the parties to the agreement.

2. Background

According to section 40 of the Constitution, the government of the Republic is constituted as national, provincial and local spheres of government, which are distinctive, interdependent, and interrelated. Schedules 4 and 5 to the Constitution set out the powers and functions allocated to each sphere of government. Under section 41(f) of the Constitution, all spheres of government and all organs of state within each sphere must not assume any power or function except those conferred on them under the Constitution.

The Constitution allows the national and provincial government to assign aspects of their legislative or executive powers or functions to a municipality, to move the operational responsibilities to a municipality under an agency agreement or to delegate functions to a municipality. Each method of contracting has VAT consequences that are set out in 4. In a VAT system, government is an end-user, and therefore any sphere of government should pay VAT on goods or services acquired by it.

2.1 Assignment

Under an assignment, a municipality takes over the function and there is a complete shifting of the responsibility either through legislation or by executive decision. An assignment can only take place once all the requirements or limitations in 2.1.1 to 2.1.3 of this BGR are met.

2.1.1 National assignment of functions (section 99 of the Constitution)

A Cabinet member may assign any power or function that is to be exercised in terms of an Act of Parliament to a member of a provincial Executive Council or to a Municipal Council. An assignment –

- a) must be in terms of an agreement between the relevant Cabinet member and the Executive Council member or Municipal Council;
- b) must be consistent with an Act of Parliament in terms of which the relevant power or function is exercised or performed; and
- c) takes effect upon proclamation by the President.

2.1.2 Provincial assignment of functions (section 126 of the Constitution)

A member of the Executive Council of a province may assign any power or function that is to be exercised or performed in terms of an Act of Parliament or a provincial Act, to a Municipal Council. An assignment –

- a) must be in terms of an agreement between the relevant Executive Council member and the Municipal Council;
- b) must be consistent with an Act in terms of which the relevant power or function is exercised or performed; and
- c) takes effect upon proclamation by the Premier.

2.1.3 Assignment of legislative authority (sections 44, 104 and 156 of the Constitution)

Section 43 of the Constitution provides that the legislative authority of the various spheres of government is vested as follows:

- a) The national sphere of government is vested in Parliament as set out in section 44 of the Constitution. The National Assembly may, under section 44(1)(a)(iii) of the Constitution, assign any of its legislative powers, except the power to amend the Constitution, to any legislative body in another sphere of government.
- b) The provincial sphere of government is vested in the provincial legislature as set out in section 104 of the Constitution. The provincial legislature may, under section 104(1)(c) of the Constitution assign any of its legislative powers to a Municipal Council in the province.

- c) The local sphere of government is vested in the Municipal Councils as set out in section 156 of the Constitution. A municipality has, under section 156(1)(b) of the Constitution, the executive authority and the right to administer any matter assigned to it by national or provincial legislation.

2.2 Old order legislation (Schedule 6 to the Constitution)

Transitional measure

Old order legislation, as outlined in Schedule 6 to the Constitution, serves as a transitional measure to ensure legal continuity and does not assign functions under the current constitutional framework.

Preservation of pre-existing laws until amended

The purpose of Schedule 6 is to preserve pre-existing laws at the time until they are repealed or amended by the new democratic legislature, not to create new assignments of power or function under the new Constitution.

Procedures for assigning functions

The Constitution provides explicit procedures for assigning functions requiring legislative or executive action, precluding the automatic assignment of functions through old order legislation under the new Constitution.

Constitutional supremacy

Any interpretation suggesting that old order legislation assigns functions would undermine the principle of constitutional supremacy by allowing old order legislation to override the explicit provisions and procedures established in the new constitutional order.

Interpretation of transitional provisions

Transitional provisions should be interpreted to support and enhance the new constitutional framework rather than create ambiguity or conflict with its core principles.

2.3 Supremacy of the Constitution (section 2 of the Constitution)

Section 2 of the Constitution provides that the Constitution is the supreme law of the Republic and that any law or conduct which is inconsistent with it is invalid.

It follows that any assignment of a national function or a provincial function that is inconsistent with the provisions of sections 99 or 126 of the Constitution, respectively, is invalid.

2.4 Agency and delegation (section 238 of the Constitution)

Under an agency arrangement or contract, a municipality performs the function on behalf of a national or provincial government. It therefore merely implements the national or provincial instructions and plans as per the agency agreement or service level agreement (SLA). It does not take on the authority or responsibility of having to perform that function as part of its constitutional mandate as envisaged in Schedules 4B and 5B to the Constitution.

A delegation takes place when national or provincial government authorises a municipality under an SLA to perform the function on its behalf. In this regard a municipality will be making a taxable supply of services to the national or provincial government in its capacity as a principal.

An executive organ of state in any sphere of government may, under section 238 of the Constitution –

- a) delegate any power or function that is to be exercised or performed in terms of legislation to any other executive organ of state provided the delegation is consistent with the legislation in terms of which the power is exercised or the function is performed; or
- b) exercise any power or perform any function for any other executive organ of state on an agency or delegation basis.

If a municipality is contracted by means of an agency agreement or an SLA to implement a national or provincial function on behalf of a national or provincial department, the provisions of section 54 as set out in 3.5 will apply. It follows that the municipality will be making a taxable supply of services to national or provincial government to the extent that the rendering of such service gives rise to the payment of an implementation fee, agency fee or management fee.

If a function of a national or provincial government is delegated to a municipality by means of an SLA, the municipality is contracted in its capacity as a principal. In this regard the municipality will be making a supply of goods or services to a national or provincial government in its capacity as a principal.

The instrument of an agency or a delegation may not be used to assign any of the national or provincial government functions to a municipality.

2.5 Importance of a contract or agreement entered into between a municipality and a national or provincial government

A contract or an agreement entered into by the parties to a transaction is an essential source document that is called for when establishing and considering the details of a transaction to determine the VAT consequences of the transaction. In this regard, national, provincial and local government must carefully consider the details of their contracts to ensure that their intentions are accurately reflected and that actions are aligned with intentions.

3. Discussion

Value-added tax is levied under section 7(1)(a) on the supply of goods or services by a vendor in the course or furtherance of an enterprise carried on by that vendor. This is subject to the exemptions, exceptions and adjustments provided for in the VAT Act.

3.1 Grants

The term “grant” is defined in section 1(1) and specifically excludes, amongst others, payments made by public authorities for the actual supply of goods or services to the public authority.

Section 8(5A) will apply only to the extent that no actual supply of goods or services are made to national or provincial government in return for the payment received by a municipality.

3.2 Section 8(5A)

A vendor (excluding a designated entity) that receives a “grant” from a public authority in the course or furtherance of an enterprise carried on by the vendor is deemed to supply a service to the relevant public authority under section 8(5A).

3.3 Zero rate

A service that is deemed to be supplied under section 8(5A) is subject to VAT at the rate of 0% under section 11(2)(f).

3.4 Input tax

Value-added tax paid on goods or services acquired by a vendor may be deducted by the vendor to the extent that such VAT constitutes “input tax” as defined in section 1(1). The definition of “input tax” determines that, amongst others, the goods or services must be acquired by a vendor for consumption, use or supply in the course of making taxable supplies. The deduction is subject to sections 16(2) and (3), 17, and 20. Furthermore, the vendor’s deduction is limited to the five-year period contemplated in the proviso to section 16(3).

3.5 Agent (section 54)

The VAT Act does not define the term “agent”. In this regard the term “agent” will take its ordinary dictionary meaning, as applied to the subject matter with regard to which it is used.

Under section 54(1), if an agent acts on behalf of a principal in supplying goods or services, the supply is deemed to be made by the principal and not the agent for VAT purposes. To the extent that the supply made by an agent on behalf of the principal is not a taxable supply, the agent may not issue a tax invoice in respect of such supply.

Similarly, if any vendor makes a taxable supply of goods or services to an agent who is acting on behalf of a principal, the supply is deemed to be made to the principal and not the agent under section 54(2). This is the case even if the supplier may have issued the tax invoice in the name of the principal.

The effect of section 54(1) and (2) is that an agent may not account for output tax or deduct input tax on supplies of goods or services made or acquired by the agent on behalf of a principal.

The agent must, under section 54(3), notify the principal in writing within the prescribed 21-day period of the requisite particulars of the supply that was made or received on behalf of the principal.

Under the VAT Act, for an arrangement to qualify as that of agency, the agent may not make a margin on supplies made or received on behalf of a principal unless the agreement explicitly makes provision for this.

4. Ruling

This ruling, in table form below, sets out the VAT consequences applicable to each method of contracting in the form of assignment (of powers of functions and legislative authority), agency and delegation.

VAT consequences of functions assigned to or performed by a municipality under an agency or delegation basis
Assignment of powers or functions and legislative authority	Agency (May not be used to assign powers or functions)	Delegation (May not be used to assign powers or functions)

Sien asb hieronder 'n uiteensetting van die proses vorentoe, asook die skatting van fooie – hoe meer munisipaliteite deel raak van die proses, hoe meer “bekostigbaar” raak dit.

To challenge the validity of Binding General Ruling 74 that specifically says that Old Order Legislation is no longer valid, the municipalities would need to institute review proceedings in the High Court wherein it claims an order declaring BGR74 to be unlawful and invalid, and reviewing and setting it aside.

It is not possible at this stage to give an accurate estimate of the costs involved in instituting and finalising the High Court proceedings, as such costs would depend on a number of, as yet, unknown factors. For example, we cannot determine, at this stage, how many hearings will be required before the matter is finally determined. It may be that the matter is finally determined based on a non-constitutional ground, to the satisfaction of all the parties, after the first hearing in the High Court before a single judge. In such a case, only one hearing will be required. However, it could also be that one of the parties is not satisfied with the High Court judge's rulings, and that party appeals to all available courts, in which case there can be up to four court hearings (first before a single judge, then a full bench appeal, then an appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeal and thereafter an appeal to the Constitutional Court). It could also be that the matter is determined by a single judge in the High Court on the basis of constitutional invalidity and that the invalidity must then be confirmed by the Constitutional Court, resulting in two hearings.

An increase in the number of hearings will increase the costs involved in finalising the matter, because each hearing will need to be prepared for, and argued, separately.

The costliest stage would be the High Court review application, which has the following six distinct stages:

- First, we launch the application. This means we go through all the relevant documents and consult with counsel to prepare an affidavit setting out the case to the court. That affidavit is called a founding affidavit. It forms part of the papers that are issued by the court and served on SARS.
- Second, in terms of Uniform Rule 53 of the Uniform Rules of Court, SARS has 10 days to file a record of decision (we also call it a Rule 53 record). That record must contain all the documents that served before the SARS when it issued BGR74. For a legality review, we may want to consider expressly foregoing asking for a review record as a record may not be relevant and it would save time and costs to forego the filing of a record.
- The third stage – assuming we ask for a record – is we prepare supplementary founding affidavits, where we deal with the information in the record. We can supplement or amend our founding papers, based on what was revealed by the record. We then file that supplementary affidavit at court.
- The fourth stage is where SARS has to answer the founding affidavits and justify the legality of BGR74. They do that by way of an answering affidavit which they have 30 working days to prepare.
- The fifth stage is where we prepare a replying affidavit, to respond to SARS's answering affidavit.
- The sixth stage is where we prepare legal arguments for the court (called heads of argument) and the application is argued in court.

Based on our experience, a full opposed review application before the High Court can cost anything between R1m to R2,5m (excluding VAT), depending on the complexity of the matter and the complexity of the opposition and whether there are any interlocutory applications brought.

In addition, if the applicants are successful in the litigation, they may be able to recover approximately a third to a half of their legal costs from SARS. If, however, the review application is not successful, then SARS can recover the same percentage of its legal costs from the applicants. This means that in addition to the legal fees spent by the applicants, they must also contribute to SARS' costs.

The costs will also likely be split between the municipalities who are participation. Therefore, although there may be a notional increase in the cost if more applicants are added to the litigation, ultimately that notional increase will be significantly offset if the parties split the legal costs equally themselves.

The above costs are only indicative of one court hearing; an unsuccessful party may also take the court decision on appeal, in which case further legal costs will be incurred. The costs for each appeal hearing will likely be about R800,000 (excluding VAT). These costs may also increase if the applicants are the appellants, since they will then be responsible for the preparation of appeal record in accordance with the Supreme Court of Appeal Rules.

In our view, there will likely be three hearings because if leave to appeal is requested it may likely skip a full bench appeal and go directly to the Supreme Court of Appeal and thereafter to the Constitutional Court. Based on that assumption, an estimate of legal expenses (not considering any costs recovery and based on similar matters) the total costs of running the matter from the start to the Constitutional Court would realistically be approximately R4m to R4.5m (excluding VAT) (which costs can be split between all the applicants).

It would be sensible to first obtain a written opinion from counsel to advise on the prospects of success of such litigation proceedings before instituting the proceedings, so that we have a clear direction and strategy, which will guide our further engagements with SARS and may assist in the likelihood of the matter settling.

An estimate of the legal costs to prepare a comprehensive brief for counsel, and for counsel to consider the brief, the law and relevant documents, and perhaps consult with us and/or yourselves, and then to prepare a written opinion would amount to approximately R150 000.

Please let us know if you would like us to proceed in obtaining a written opinion from counsel.

Kind regards

Riette

OPINION

VARIOUS WESTERN CAPE MUNICIPALITIES

ON

THE ASSIGNMENT OF LIBRARY FUNCTIONS BY THE WESTERN CAPE
AND THE IMPACT FOR VALUE-ADDED TAX

Michael Bishop
27 March 2025

I INTRODUCTION

1. I have been briefed to provide an opinion for various local municipalities in the Western Cape (the Municipalities).
2. The Municipalities all operate libraries for their residents. They have done so since at least the 1950s. While they form part of a provincial library service, they are responsible for their own respective libraries. They rely, primarily, on grants from the Western Cape Government to pay for those services (the Grants).
3. In the Western Cape, the provision of libraries is still regulated by a pre-constitutional ordinance – the Provincial Library Service Ordinance 16 of 1981 (the 1981 Ordinance). But under the Constitution, the provision of libraries is an exclusive competence of provinces. The Municipalities seek advice on whether they operate the libraries under an assignment of executive and/or legislative authority from the Western Cape government.
4. The question matters for the purposes of value-added tax (VAT). Under s 11(2)(t) of the Value-Added Tax Act 89 of 1991 (VAT Act) the Municipalities can apply the zero-rate to the Grants if they are “grants” as defined in s 8(5A) of the VAT Act.
5. The South African Revenue Service (SARS) has taken the view that the Grants are not included in s 8(5A) because the Municipalities have not been assigned the function to operate libraries. The main reason for SARS’ conclusion is that powers the Constitution allocates to provinces cannot be assigned to municipalities through pre-constitutional legislation.
6. In my view, SARS is incorrect.

- 6.1. The 1981 Ordinance is “provincial legislation” as defined in s 239 of the Constitution.
 - 6.2. Provincial legislation – whether it pre-dates or post-dates the Constitution – can assign executive functions to municipalities in terms of s 156(1)(b) of the Constitution.
 - 6.3. The pre-constitutional status of the 1981 Ordinance is therefore largely irrelevant to assessing whether it assigns executive power to the Municipalities to operate libraries.
7. That leads to a further question – does the 1981 Ordinance in fact assign those executive functions to the Municipalities? In my view, it does:
- 7.1. An assignment requires the transfer of a power to another organ of state, not merely that one entity performs a service on behalf of another. However, it is consistent with assignment for the assigning entity to monitor and supervise the performance of the assigned function.
 - 7.2. The 1981 Ordinance empowers municipalities to “establish, control, conduct and close libraries”. That function is not performed by the Provincial Government.
 - 7.3. It is so that the “Administrator” must approve a municipality before it performs those functions. But that is not a separate assignment but the identification of the category of municipalities to which the 1981 Ordinance itself assigns powers.

- 7.4. The Grants the Provincial Government pays to the Municipalities to fund that function demonstrate the assignment. It is precisely because the function has been transferred that the Grants are paid.
8. There does not seem to be any debate that, if pre-Constitutional provincial legislation can assign powers and functions, and if the 1981 Ordinance in fact does so, that the Grants would be covered by s 8(5A) of the VAT Act, and that the Municipalities could, therefore, zero-rate them when submitting their VAT returns to SARS. As I conclude the 1981 Ordinance does assign the function of establishing, controlling, conducting and closing libraries to the Municipalities, they can zero-rate the Grants as they are used exclusively to perform those assigned functions.
9. This opinion is structured as follows:
- 9.1. Part II sets out the relevant background;
- 9.2. Part III considers whether pre-constitutional legislation can assign executive powers to municipalities; and
- 9.3. Part IV addresses whether the 1981 Ordinance in fact assigns the power to run libraries to the Municipalities.
10. I note that I have been briefed with the documents listed in Annexure A.

II THE BACKGROUND

11. The background can be divided into the following topics:

11.1. The historical functioning of municipal libraries;

11.2. The current operation of municipal libraries;

11.3. The proposed Western Cape Libraries Bill; and

THE HISTORICAL FUNCTIONING OF MUNICIPAL LIBRARIES

12. From the 1950s until the interim Constitutions came into force, local governments would render free public library services, supported by provincial government in accordance with the relevant applicable ordinances. As Baxter wrote in 1984, local governments had the delegated power to make by-laws on "a wide variety of subjects", and one of the "more important" was "the construction, maintenance and regulation of aerodromes, art galleries, libraries and museums".¹

13. In the Western Cape there were a string of ordinances starting in 1949, and culminating in the 1981 Ordinance.² Each ordinance made slight changes to

² They are detailed in the document Administration of Library Services from 1949-2024 prepared by my instructing attorneys.

the applicable regime. But all kept the basic structure that local government provided library services with support from the province.

14. The 1981 Ordinance repealed and replaced the previous ordinances. It provides for the continuation and control of the “free Provincial Library Service” in accordance with the ordinance.³ The service is run by a Provincial Library Board, headed by a Director.⁴
15. Section 5 provides for the establishment and control of the service. In terms of s 5(1), the Administrator “may take such steps and measures as he may deem fit for the provision of a free library service in the Province”. One of those steps is “the admission to the service, on such conditions as the Administrator may generally or specially determine, of libraries controlled and conducted by a library authority and the aiding of such libraries in such manner as he may deem fit”.⁵
16. The key provision is s 6, which reads: “A local authority may, with the approval of the Administrator, establish, control, conduct and close libraries.” The effect is that, once a local authority is given approval, they are a “library authority”, are part of the “library service”, and have free reign to manage libraries. No provision is made for how the Administrator must grant his approval. There is, in particular, no requirement that it be done by proclamation. This can be

⁴ 1981 Ordinance ss 3 and 4.

⁵ A “library authority” is defined as “any person who accepts responsibility for the control and conduct of a library”.

contrasted with the provision for “urban library services” where the Administrator is required to act “by proclamation”.⁶

17. Section 12 affords municipalities the power to make By-laws consistent with the 1981 Ordinance relating “relating to the control and conduct of any library of which such local authority is the library authority.”

CURRENT OPERATION OF MUNICIPAL LIBRARIES

18. As I expand on below, the Constitution assigns the function of “public libraries” to the provinces. Nonetheless, in practice, the Municipalities continue to operate libraries in accordance with the framework set by the 1981 Ordinance.
19. They are responsible for the day-to-day running of the libraries. They determine the plans, budgets and policies of the libraries. They own or rent the buildings and are responsible for their maintenance. They employ the staff. They set the rules for the operation of the libraries. All assets relating to public libraries are recorded on the Municipalities’ balance sheet as their own assets. The only part of the service they do not control is the books themselves, which belong to the province.
20. The libraries are funded by a mix of municipal and provincial funding.
21. Initially, following the allocation of the public library function to the Provincial Government in terms of Schedule 5A of the Constitution in 1996, nothing changed in the way the Municipalities and DCAS operated. The Municipalities continued to render (and fund) the public library services. Specifically, the Municipalities continued to operate the day-to-day running of the public libraries for the benefit of the local community, including local planning, policies, budgeting and financial management, daily operations, and maintenance by virtue of the assignment that was already in place. The DCAS continued to provide the libraries with new books and other library material and support services.

22. It was only in 2007 that the National Government introduced the Library Services Conditional Grant. This made provision for an allocation from the national revenue fund to the Provinces. The Western Cape uses the vast majority of that grant to transfer funds to the Municipalities for the rendering of the public library services. This grant is a crucial source of funds to municipalities to assist it with funding its existing activities relating to the public library services rendered by it. In January 2011, the Western Cape Provincial Treasury also introduced a Municipal Replacement Fund and other funding as the start of a process to fully fund the Municipalities for their expenditure in rendering the public library services.
23. Initially the Province funded only a small portion of the Municipalities' costs to run their libraries, but that quantum has increased over time. For example, in the 2024/5 year the Swartland Municipality budgeted R13 853 000 for libraries. It received R12 002 000 in operating grants from the Provincial Government, and R50 000 for capital grants.
24. Each of the Municipalities signs an annual "Memorandum of Agreement on the Community Library Services Grant" (the MoA). It records that the Provincial

Department “has received funding from the National Government of South Africa for the 2023/2024 financial year to assist B municipalities to deliver on the unfunded mandate of the provision of library services.”

25. The Provincial Department’s obligation is to pay money in six-monthly tranches.⁷ The Municipalities’ obligations are general governance obligations to ensure the grant is used for its intended purpose. They must, for example:

25.1. Ensure “effective, efficient and transparent financial management and internal control systems are in place”;⁸

25.2. Provide the Provincial Department with audited financial statements, a written assurance of compliance, and all other relevant documents;⁹

25.3. Utilise the funds, any interest earned on them, and any VAT claimed from SARS on the project in terms of an approved business plan;¹⁰

25.4. Pay back any unspent funds;¹¹ and 25.5. Submit written, monthly progress reports, attend regular meetings with the Provincial Department and allow it access to all “documentation, books, financial records and bank statements”.¹²

THE LIBRARIES BILL

26. The Western Cape Provincial Parliament has recently published the Western Cape Public Library Services Bill, B 1-2025 (the Libraries Bill) for public comment. The explanatory memorandum to the Bill is revealing:

26.1. It recognizes that “[p]ublic libraries in the Province are currently regulated by” the 1981 Ordinance. However, that Ordinance “predates the Constitution, and some of its provisions are outdated and redundant.”

The purpose of the Libraries Bill is to repeal the Ordinance and align the provision of library services with the Constitution.

26.2. It then records the historical and financial position set out above:

Municipalities have historically, since the establishment of the Provincial Library Service in 1955, been conducting public libraries, and continue to do so with cooperative support from the Department. In terms of this cooperative relationship, the Department provides professional and technical services, in addition to library material, that is made available to all public libraries, while municipalities provide the building, staff and operational costs of public libraries with funding from the Department. Funding for public libraries is sourced from the equitable share of revenue allocated to the Province and the Community Library Services Grant. The Department funds public libraries conducted by municipalities through the Municipal Replacement Fund, Additional Municipal Replacement Fund and the Metro Library Grant.

26.3. The explanatory memorandum recognizes that a “municipality, under section 156(1)(b) of the Constitution, has the right to administer any matter assigned to it by national or provincial legislation.”

27. The Libraries Bill does not, however, directly assign functions to municipalities. Instead, clause 5 authorises the Provincial Minister to assign “all or part of the administration of a function referred to in section 2(1) and (2)” to municipalities. Those functions are to “ensure that public library services are provided in the Province in accordance with this Act”, to “establish, control and conduct public libraries”, and to “promote equitable access to public library services, including by persons with disabilities and other categories of persons historically disadvantaged by unfair discrimination.”
28. I address the Libraries Bill in more detail below. But it is worth noting two elements that I cover in detail in Part III:
- 28.1. Clause 5 is redundant. The Provincial Minister already has that power under s 126 of the Constitution. There is no need to repeat the power in provincial legislation.
- 28.2. The Libraries Bill would constitute a significant departure from the current position where functions are assigned through legislation in terms of s 156(1)(b) of the Constitution, to a regime where functions are assigned by the Provincial Minister as envisaged in s 126 of the Constitution.

SARS' BINDING GENERAL RULING

29. In June 2024, the Municipalities applied to SARS for a Class Ruling on how it should treat the Grants for VAT purposes.¹³ They argued that, in terms of s 11(2)(t) of the VAT Act,¹⁴ they should apply the zero-rate to the Grants.
30. The application set out the historical background discussed above. It explained that the 1981 Ordinance was provincial legislation and that it assigned the function of running public libraries to the Municipalities.
31. It then argued that Municipalities are “vendors”,¹⁵ and that the Grants are “grants”¹⁶ as contemplated in s 8(5A) of the VAT Act,¹⁷ that are paid by a public authority, in the course or furtherance of an enterprise. As a result, the ¹³ The application was made in terms of s 41B of the VAT Act read with s 79 of the TAA.

¹⁵ The VAT Act defines “vendor” as: “any person who is or is required to be registered under this Act: Provided that where the Commissioner has under section 23 or 50A determined the date from which a person is a vendor that person shall be deemed to be a vendor from that date”.

¹⁶ The VAT Act defines “grant” as:

“any appropriation, grant in aid, subsidy or contribution transferred, granted or paid to a vendor by a public authority, municipality or constitutional institution listed in Schedule 1 to the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act 1 of 1999), but does not include-

(a) a payment made for the supply of any goods or services to that public authority or municipality, including all goods or services supplied to a public authority, municipality or constitutional institution listed in Schedule 1 to the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act 1 of 1999) in accordance with a procurement process prescribed-

(i) in terms of the Regulations issued under section 76(4)(c) of the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act 1 of 1999); or

(ii) in terms of Chapter 11 of the Local Government: Municipal Finance Management Act, 2003 (Act 56 of 2003), or any other similar process; or

(b) a payment contemplated in section 8(23)”.

Municipalities should be entitled to zero-rate the Grants when determining their VAT liability.

32. In a Binding General Ruling issued in October 2024 (the BGR), SARS disagreed. It took the view that, notwithstanding the Constitution's transitional provisions, the 1981 Ordinance could not assign provincial functions to the Municipalities. As it put it: "The purpose of Schedule 6 is to preserve pre-existing laws at the time until they are repealed or amended by the new democratic legislature, not to create new assignments of power or function under the new Constitution."¹⁸
33. In its view, only assignments that occurred after the Constitution came into force, and that complied with the Constitution's requirements for the assignment of executive or legislative functions, constituted an assignment for purposes of the VAT Act. Again, in SARS' words: "Any interpretation suggesting that old order legislation assigns functions would undermine the principle of constitutional supremacy by allowing old order legislation to override the explicit provisions and procedures established in the new constitutional order."¹⁹
34. SARS distinguishes between three methods of transferring powers and functions under the Constitution: assignment, agency and delegation.
 - 34.1. Assignments of executive functions occur only in terms of ss 99 and 126 of the Constitution. Assignment of legislative functions can only occur under ss 44, 104 and 156 of the Constitution.

¹⁹ BGR para 2.2

- 34.2. Under an agency agreement, an organ of state performs a function “on behalf of” another organ of state but “does not take on the authority or responsibility of having to perform that function as part of its constitutional mandate”.²⁰
- 34.3. Delegation occurs in terms of s 238 of the Constitution. The delegating organ of state again authorises the other organ of state to perform the function on its behalf, but retains responsibility for performing the function.²¹
35. In SARS’ view, if a municipality acts in terms of an agency or delegation arrangement, it provides a taxable supply of goods or services to the provincial government. However, if it performs a function in terms of an assignment, then it is exercising the function itself and is not providing a taxable supply to the provincial government.
36. The upshot of the BGR is that the Municipalities cannot treat the Grants as “grants” under s 8(5A) – and therefore zero-rated under s 11(2)(t) – because the 1981 Ordinance could not lawfully assign the function of operating libraries to the Municipalities. The Grants could only be paid as part of an agency or delegation agreement in terms of which the Municipalities perform a service on behalf of the Province. That is a supply in exchange for consideration (the Grants) and is not a “grant” for the purposes of s 8(5A).

²¹ BGR para 2.4.

III CAN PRE-CONSTITUTIONAL LEGISLATION ASSIGN FUNCTIONS?

37. SARS' view is that it is not possible for legislation that survived the constitutional transition to assign powers or functions. In my view, SARS is wrong. The Constitution provides for provincial legislation to assign executive functions to municipalities. It defines "provincial legislation" to include pre-constitutional ordinances that the President assigned to provinces during the transition. This is not a technical point – the transition would have been incredibly disruptive if it did not keep in place existing assignments of powers between the spheres of government.
38. I first discuss how assignment operates under the Constitution. I then consider the status of old-order legislation under the interim constitutional regime.

ASSIGNMENT UNDER THE CONSTITUTION

39. SARS states in its BGR that "any assignment of a national function or a provincial function that is inconsistent with the provisions of sections 99 or 126 of the Constitution, respectively, is invalid." This is simply wrong.
40. There are multiple ways in which one sphere of government can assign powers and functions to another sphere other than through ss 99 and 126. As far as provinces are concerned, the Constitution expressly provides for assignment in ss 104(1)(c) and 126:
- 40.1. Provincial executives can assign powers to municipalities in terms of s 126 of the Constitution which requires agreement from the municipality, consistency with the relevant legislation, and a proclamation by the Premier.²²

40.2. Provincial legislatures can assign legislative powers to municipalities in terms of s 104(1)(c) of the Constitution.²³

41. These provisions allow legislatures to assign legislative powers and functions, and executives to assign executive powers or functions. They do not directly contemplate legislation assigning executive powers.
42. But those are not the only sources of municipalities' executive functions under the Constitution. The primary source of municipalities' executive authority is s 156(1), which reads:

- (1) A municipality has executive authority in respect of, and has the right to administer -
 - (a) the local government matters listed in Part B of Schedule 4 and Part B of Schedule 5; and

²² Section 126 reads:

126. Assignment of functions

A member of the Executive Council of a province may assign any power or function that is to be exercised or performed in terms of an Act of Parliament or a provincial Act, to a Municipal Council. An assignment -

- (a) must be in terms of an agreement between the relevant Executive Council member and the Municipal Council;
- (b) must be consistent with the Act in terms of which the relevant power or function is exercised or performed; and
- (c) takes effect upon proclamation by the Premier.

²³ Section 104(1)(c) reads: "The legislative authority of a province is vested in its provincial legislature, and confers on the provincial legislature the power - ... (c) to assign any of its legislative powers to a Municipal Council in that province."

(b) any other matter assigned to it by national or provincial legislation.

43. Section 156(1)(b) permits provincial legislation that directly assigns executive authority to municipalities without the intervention of the provincial executive. This is not expressly provided for in either s 104 or s 126. But it is the necessary implication of s 156(1)(b). As Chaskalson AJ has explained: “Section 156(1)(b) of the Constitution recognises that a municipality will also have executive authority over “any other matter assigned to it by national or provincial legislation” but this is not original executive authority.”²⁴
44. The assignment of executive powers, however, necessarily confers legislative powers on municipalities. That is because “[t]he primary original powers vested in municipalities are executive powers, not legislative powers.”²⁵ The original legislative powers are incidental and “are conferred only in relation to, and in aid of, the executive powers of the municipalities” through s 156(2).²⁶ That provision enables municipalities to make by-laws on the matters they have the right to administer.
45. This reading of s 156(1)(b) is borne out by the recent case of Govan Mbeki Local Municipality. The Court had to determine whether municipalities had the power to impose embargoes on the transfer of properties. It did not have to directly consider the meaning of s 156(1)(b). But in explaining the constitutional framework for the assignment of powers and functions to municipalities, it determined that s 156(1)(b) is a source for the assignment of powers to municipalities.

45.1. It wrote that if “municipalities want powers over functional areas falling within ... provincial competence, they are entitled to request that such powers be vested in them or even assigned to them as contemplated by sections 99, 126, 156(1)(b), 156(4), and 238 of the Constitution in the case of executive powers”.²⁷ This treats assignment under s 156(1)(b) as separate from assignment under s 126.

45.2. And it concluded that “It is clear from sections 44(1)(a)(iii), 104(1)(c) and 156(1)(b) of the Constitution that Parliament and the provincial legislatures can assign powers, including by-law making powers, in municipalities over matters which fall outside the functional areas of original municipal competence.”²⁸

46. It is also consistent with the Guidelines on Allocation of Additional Powers and Functions to Municipalities published by the Minister of Local Government in terms of s 120(1)(c) of the Systems Act.²⁹ The Guidelines recognise that s 156(1)(b) “empowers a provincial legislature to assign any additional matter within a provincial legislature’s competence to municipalities.” As a result of s 156(2), the municipality will have both executive and legislative authority for any power or function assigned under s 156(1)(b).

47. There are no requirements for an assignment in terms of s 156(1)(b). The provincial legislation may expressly use the language of assignment. But ultimately, the question will always be one of interpretation. The provincial legislation must be interpreted to determine whether it assigned powers to municipalities or not.
48. In short, to identify an assignment of provincial powers and functions to municipalities, one can look either to the conduct of the provincial executive, or to the content of provincial legislation.

THE STATUS OF TRANSITIONAL LEGISLATION

49. While SARS refers to s 156(1)(b),³⁰ it then concludes that an assignment of functions cannot occur in old-order legislation even if it survived the constitutional transition. Only post-Constitution legislation that complies with the Constitution's requirements for assignment can, SARS argues, transfer functions from a province to a municipality.
50. The argument seems to rest on a failure to appreciate the import of s 156(1)(b). Assignments are not limited to legislative assignments under s 104 and executive assignments under s 126. Provincial legislation can assign executive functions under s 156(1)(b). SARS does not appear to contemplate that possibility.

51. More importantly, it fails to consider the definition of “provincial legislation” in s 239 of the Constitution to include “legislation that was in force when the Constitution took effect and that is administered by a provincial government.” When s 156(1)(b) refers to “any other matter assigned to it by national or provincial legislation”, it includes – by definition – any matter assigned to a municipality by pre-constitutional legislation administered by a province.

52. This has been confirmed by the Constitutional Court on several occasions.

52.1. In DVB Behuising, the Court held: “In terms of section 239 of the Constitution, the laws that were administered by the province when the Constitution took effect became provincial laws.”³¹ That meant that the provincial legislature had the power to repeal those laws.³²

52.2. In Maccsand, Lagoonbay and Habitat Council it held that the 1986 Land Use Planning Ordinance which – like the 1981 Ordinance – was adopted by the Provincial Council of the Cape of Good Hope – was “provincial legislation” for constitutional purposes.

³¹ Western Cape Provincial Government and Others In Re: DVB Behuising (Pty) Limited v North West Provincial Government and Another [2000] ZACC 2; 2000 (4) BCLR 347 (CC); 2001 (1) SA 500 (CC) at para 22.

53. SARS' approach also ignores the text and purpose of the transitional provisions which aim to ensure continuity in the provision of government services, not disruption. Item 2(1) of Schedule 6 of the Constitution is unambiguous: "All law that was in force when the new Constitution took effect, continues in force, subject to - (a) any amendment or repeal; and (b) consistency with the new Constitution."
54. As Van der Westhuizen explained in Weare, the purpose of the transitional provisions in both the interim and final Constitutions was "to preserve the existing legal order: considerations of practicality made it unavoidable to hold the pre-constitutional law in place until such time as the necessary changes could be made, notwithstanding that this legislation was the product of democratically illegitimate authorities."³³ The Court has applied that rationale even to unconstitutional laws passed by so-called "homelands".³⁴ The laws remain in force until they are declared invalid.³⁵
55. SARS offers a number of rationales for its position.
56. First, it asserts that old order legislation "serves as a transitional measure to ensure legal continuity and does not assign functions under the current constitutional framework."³⁶ But it offers no explanation for why some elements

³³ Weare and Another v Ndebele NO and Others [2008] ZACC 20; 2009 (1) SA 600 (CC); 2009 (4) BCLR 370 (CC) at para 28.

³⁴ See, for example, Mdodana v Premier of the Eastern Cape and Others [2014] ZACC 7; 2014 (5) BCLR 533 (CC); 2014 (4) SA 99 (CC); and Khohliso v S and Another [2014] ZACC 33; 2015 (2) BCLR 164 (CC); 2015 (1) SACR 319 (CC).

of old-order legislation should remain in force and others should not. There is no textual or principled basis to accept that the substantive content of old-order legislation remains law, but any assignment of functions – which may be central to the operation of the legislation – falls away.

57. Second, SARS argues that the transitional measures were intended to “preserve pre-existing laws at the time until they are repealed or amended by the new democratic legislature, not to create new assignments of power or function under the new Constitution”.³⁷ But the Municipalities’ argument is not that the 1981 Ordinance creates “new assignments of power”. The argument is that the assignments in the 1981 Ordinance – like everything else in the ordinance – is preserved.
58. Third, SARS contends that because the Constitution sets procedures for the assignment of functions, that “preclude[s] the automatic assignment of functions through old order legislation under the new Constitution.”³⁸ But again, this misunderstands the purpose of the transitional provisions. They were intended to preserve the status quo – including the assignment of powers and functions – until those were changed by new legislation. This was essential to provide an orderly transition.
59. Fourth, SARS relies on the principle of constitutional supremacy, arguing that “allowing old order legislation to override the explicit provisions and procedures established in the new constitutional order” would violate that principle.³⁹ But that ignores the command that the Constitution must be interpreted holistically. The Constitution includes the transitional provisions in Schedule 6. It does not undermine constitutional supremacy to give effect to those transitional measures.

³⁸ Ibid.

60. Fifth, to address this SARS argues that transitional provisions “should be interpreted to support an enhance the new constitutional framework rather than create ambiguity or conflict with its core principles.”⁴⁰ The Constitution must be interpreted harmoniously. But the transitional provisions must also perform their purpose. Their purpose was to maintain the legal framework that existed when the Constitution was enacted. They cannot achieve that purpose if some of their provisions are simply ignored, or they are not treated as provincial legislation when they meet the definition.
61. What SARS is arguing for is a form of implied repeal. It argues that any assignment in old-order legislation must be regarded as invalid because it was not done in accordance with the Constitution’s requirements for assigning powers and functions. But the Constitutional Court expressly rejected exactly this type of argument in Lagoonbay. The respondent had argued that LUPO had been “impliedly repealed” because it was inconsistent with the Constitution’s assignment of powers and functions to municipalities.⁴¹ The Court disagreed. It held: “As a matter of general principle, old-order legislation

⁴¹ Minister of Local Government, Environmental Affairs and Development Planning of the Western Cape v Lagoonbay Lifestyle Estate (Pty) Ltd and Others [2013] ZACC 39; 2014 (1) SA 521 (CC); 2014 (2) BCLR 182 (CC).

remains in force until the necessary steps are taken to have it set aside."⁴²

Those "necessary steps" could be either legislation repealing or amending LUPO, or a court declaring it invalid.⁴³

62. It is so that, in CDA Boerdery, the Supreme Court of Appeal accepted that provincial ordinances could be impliedly repealed if they were inconsistent with the Constitution.⁴⁴ But that cannot support SARS approach in the BGR for two reasons:

62.1. It is inconsistent with the general principle set in Lagoon Bay (which discussed and departed from CDA Boerdery) that law remains in force until set aside.

62.2. The Court continued in Lagoon Bay to hold that, even if some old-order legislation could be impliedly repealed, it would only be where: (a) "the unequivocal provisions of the Constitution ... [is] inescapably incompatible with" the old-order legislation;⁴⁵ and (b) where the old-order legislation is not of "fundamental practical importance" to the performance of government functions.⁴⁶

62.3. As I explain below, even accepting some scope for implied repeal, it could never apply to the 1981 Ordinance.

⁴⁵ Lagoonbay (n 41) at para 27.

⁴⁶ Ibid at para 28.

63. SARS' approach also ignores the reality of how local government functioned under the interim Constitution. It provided no original competencies for local government. Instead, local government's powers were determined "on the basis of statutory assignment of legislative and executive power."⁴⁷ If SARS was correct, it would have left local government with no powers and no functions whatsoever after the interim Constitution came into effect. There would have to be fresh assignments or delegations merely for local government to continue performing the functions it had, until then, performed. That is precisely the opposite of what the transitional provisions were intended to achieve.
64. The issue at stake is not about VAT. It is a constitutional issue about which organs of state have the power to perform what functions. The VAT consequences flow from that prior question, they do not dictate the outcome. It is difficult to predict all the consequences if SARS' approach was upheld. But it would undoubtedly be extremely disruptive to the functioning of local government.
65. In this context, it would not just mean that municipalities cannot zero-rate the Grants for VAT purposes. It would mean that they may not be able to operate libraries at all unless and until there was some other delegation or assignment. That would deny the population of the Western Cape access to all the services that libraries provide. The transitional provisions intended to achieve exactly the opposite result.

⁴⁷ Govan Mbeki Local Municipality at para 109, quoting s 175 of the interim Constitution (Dodson AJ dissenting, but there was no disagreement on this point).

CONCLUSION ON PRE-CONSTITUTIONAL LEGISLATION

66. In sum, the legal position is:

66.1. Provincial legislation can assign executive functions to municipalities in terms of s 156(1)(b);

66.2. Old-order legislation that was assigned to provinces to administer is “provincial legislation”; and 66.3. Provincial legislation remains valid even if it is inconsistent with the Constitution, save perhaps in very unusual circumstances.

IV THE 1981 ORDINANCE ASSIGNS POWERS AND FUNCTIONS

67. The next step is to apply those legal principles to the 1981 Ordinance. The questions are:

67.1. Is the 1981 Ordinance “provincial legislation”?

67.2. If so, does it assign the power and function of administering libraries to the Municipalities?

The 1981 Ordinance is Provincial Legislation

68. The definition of “provincial legislation” includes “legislation that was in force when the Constitution took effect and that is administered by a provincial government.” There are, therefore, two Questions

68.1. Was the 1981 Ordinance in force when the Constitution took effect?

68.2. If so, was it administered by a provincial government?

69. First, the 1981 Ordinance was in force when the Constitution took effect:

69.1. Section 229 of the interim Constitution provided: “Subject to this Constitution, all laws which immediately before the commencement of this Constitution were in force in any area which forms part of the national territory, shall continue in force in such area, subject to any repeal or amendment of such laws by a competent authority.” The 1981 Ordinance was in force, and so it continued to be in force after the interim Constitution came into effect.

69.2. As noted earlier, item 2(1) of Schedule 6 to the Constitution again provided for the continued validity of all laws in effect at the time it came into effect. That would include the 1981 Ordinance.

70. Second, when the Constitution came into force, it was administered by the Western Cape. The simple reason is that on 17 June 1994, acting under s 235(8) of the interim Constitution, the President issued a proclamation assigning the administration of the whole of the 1981 Ordinance to the Western Cape Government.⁴⁸

71. It is not necessary to enquire into the validity of that Proclamation – it is valid unless and until set aside. But even if we did, the Proclamation was validly made.

72. The path to the Proclamation is somewhat convoluted:

72.1. Section 235(8)(a) of the interim Constitution conferred on the President the power to assign the administration of a law referred to in s 235(6)(b) to “a competent authority within the jurisdiction of the government of a province”.⁴⁹

72.2. Section 235(6)(b) refers to “laws with regard to matters which fall within the functional areas specified in Schedule 6 and which are not matters referred to in paragraphs (a) to (e) of section 126(3)”.

72.3. The functional areas in Schedule 6 include “cultural affairs” and “education at all levels, excluding university and Technikon education”. That would include libraries.

72.4. Libraries were not referred to in s 126(3).

⁴⁹ Section 235(8) reads in full: “The President may, and shall if so requested by the Premier of a province, and provided the province has the administrative capacity to exercise and perform the powers and functions in question, by proclamation in the Gazette assign, within the framework of section 126, the administration of a law referred to in subsection (6) (b) to a competent authority within the jurisdiction of the government of a province, either generally or to the extent specified in the proclamation.”

73. Accordingly, the President had the power to assign the administration of the 1981 Ordinance to the Western Cape. It is, therefore, “provincial legislation” as defined in s 239 of the Constitution.

The 1981 Ordinance Assigns the Operation of Libraries to the Municipalities

74. The next question is whether the 1981 Ordinance “assigns” the executive function of operating libraries to the Municipalities as envisaged in s 156(1)(b) of the Constitution. To answer it, we first must understand what constitutes an “assignment” as opposed to a delegation or agency arrangement. We then need to interpret the 1981 Ordinance to determine if it meets the requirement for an assignment.

The Meaning of Assignment

75. The key distinction between assignment and delegation has been described in these terms: “When powers are assigned the authority and duty to exercise them, and the responsibility for their exercise, is transferred in full. A less complete transfer of powers is delegation, in terms of which one public authority authorises another to act in its stead.”⁵⁰ Murray and Stacey argue that the effect of this distinction is “that complete responsibility for a function is transferred *through assignment whereas in the case of delegation the authority to ensure that the power is properly exercised remains with the delegating authority.”*⁵¹

⁵⁰ Baxter (n 1) at 432, quoted with approval in C Murray & R Stacey ‘National Executive Authority’ in S Woolman & M Bishop (eds) Constitutional Law of South Africa (2 ed, 2008) at ch18-p61.

76. Steytler and De Visser – dealing specifically with local government – put the position slightly differently.⁵² While they too argue that an assignment must be “a complete transfer of power”, they distinguish between setting parameters and decision-making in individual cases:

76.1. A provincial government assigning powers “may set the parameters for the exercise of the assigned authority in the legislative act of assignment”.⁵³ It may also “ensure the success of an assignment thorough legislating a regulatory framework consisting of minimum norms and standards.”⁵⁴

76.2. But the local government must have “final decision-making power in individual matters.”⁵⁵

77. In addition, in an assignment, the municipality assumes the “financial risk”. This means that the municipality “attracts financial streams in terms of the annual appropriation of funds”.⁵⁶ This is an important point. The Constitution gives each sphere of government different means to raise revenue to perform their functions. In most cases, an assignment does not come with additional

⁵² N Steytler & J De Visser ‘Local Government’ in Woolman & Bishop (n 50) ch22-p58 to ch22-p59.

⁵⁵ Ibid at ch22-p59.

⁵⁶ Ibid at ch22-p63.

revenue-raising powers. The sphere that was initially responsible for the function will still need to fund it by transferring funds to the sphere to which it assigned the power.

78. An assignment need not be a total transfer of all responsibility for a functional area to all municipalities. There are two important ways in which there can be a limited but still legitimate assignment of powers and functions:

78.1. A provincial parliament can assign powers and functions “to the entire local government sphere or to a category of municipalities.”⁵⁷ Provincial legislation can identify specific municipalities or define conditions for municipalities to exercise a power. The purpose is that only those municipalities with the capacity to exercise the power should do so.

78.2. Similarly, it may assign parts of a functional area to municipalities, while retaining other parts of that functional area. The Housing Act,⁵⁸ for example, assigns multiple functions concerning the concurrent functional area of “housing” to local government. But it retains other functions to be exercised by national and provincial governments.

THE 1981 ORDINANCE ASSIGNS POWERS AND FUNCTIONS

79. Applying this understanding of an assignment, the 1981 Ordinance plainly assigns the function of operating libraries to the Municipalities. This requires an interpretation of the 1981 Ordinance itself, and an appreciation of how it fits into the current constitutional scheme. There are five factors to consider.

⁵⁷ Ibid.

⁵⁸ Act 107 of 1997.

80. First, the structure of the 1981 Ordinance is to have: (a) a provincial library service; and (b) libraries operated primarily by municipalities that make up that service. Nothing in the 1981 Ordinance envisages that the province itself will operate libraries. Rather the province maintains the service and “library authorities” control and conduct libraries. This can be contrasted with the Library Bill which would empower the Provincial Minister to “establish, control and conduct libraries”.⁵⁹
81. Section 6 assigns the power to local authorities to “establish, control, conduct and close libraries”. Save for the requirement of “approval of the Administrator” which I address below, nothing in the Ordinance grants the provincial government the power to second-guess a municipality’s decision to establish or close a library, let alone to interfere in how a municipality controls or conducts a library. That power is transferred to the Municipalities to exercise as they see fit.
82. The only power the Province retains is a general monitoring and supervision role, not the role to interfere with individual decisions. As I explained earlier, that is entirely consistent with assignment. It has the powers relating to the service as a whole, not powers or functions with regard to individual libraries.⁶⁰

⁶⁰ 1981 Ordinance s 5.

83. Second, the requirement in s 6 for the “approval of the Administrator” can be understood in two ways. It can be a gateway requirement that the Administrator must approve that a particular municipality can exercise the powers in s 6, whereafter it exercises those powers on its own. Or it could be interpreted that each exercise of any power listed in s 6 must have the “approval of the Administrator”. The former is the only tenable interpretation:

83.1. While it could notionally make sense to require the Administrator’s approval for decisions to open or close libraries, it would make no practical sense to require the Administrator’s approval for the day-to-day control and conduct of libraries.

83.2. If that was the requirement, then the Administrator would in fact be running the libraries, not the municipalities.

83.3. Yet that is not the structure of the 1981 Ordinance, and not what has occurred in the 44 years since it was adopted.

83.4. The heading of s 6 – “Local authorities may establish libraries – supports that reading. If municipalities could only establish libraries with the case-by-case approval of the Administrator, it would be the Administrator that would be establishing the libraries, not the municipality.

84. Accordingly, once a municipality obtains the approval of the Administrator, it has all the powers in s 6. There is no provision in the 1981 Ordinance for the Administrator to revoke that approval.

85. There is a question whether, because the approval of the Administrator is required, the assignment in s 6 is an assignment by provincial legislation under s 156(1)(b), or if it merely authorises an assignment by the executive in terms of s 126. Again, it can only be the former:

85.1. Section 126 concerns powers that legislation gives to the provincial executive. That provincial power can then be assigned to a municipality.

85.2. But that is not what s 6 envisages. It never provides for the provincial executive to “establish, control, conduct and close” libraries. An approval under s 6 is not an assignment of a provincial executive power to a municipality.

85.3. It is an identification of which municipalities can exercise the power already assigned to them by provincial legislation.

86. Again, this can be contrasted with the Library Bill which specifically provides for the Provincial Minister to assign functions in terms of s 126 of the Constitution.⁶¹

87. That approval need not exist in any formal document or proclamation. The Administrator clearly has approved that each of the Municipalities that operate libraries may do so. That is apparent from the long, uninterrupted history, and from the MoAs.

88. Third, the 1981 Ordinance empowers municipalities to make by-laws consistent with the Ordinance “relating to the control and conduct of any library of which such local authority is the library authority.”⁶² While under s 156(2) of the Constitution that now happens automatically following the assignment of executive powers, pre-constitution municipalities had to be expressly given the power to make by-laws. The conferral of that power indicates that municipalities would be independently responsible for the exercise of the powers. If they were acting merely as a service provider for the province, there would be no reason to enable them to make by-laws.

89. Fourth, as I explained above, the majority of the finances to fund the libraries are transferred from National Government to Provincial Government to the Municipalities. That is exactly what the Constitution contemplates for assigned powers.

89.1. Provinces have limited revenue-raising capacity. The majority of their funds to perform their constitutional functions come from the equitable share of the national revenue or from other national grants.

89.2. If the province performs the function itself, it keeps the funds.

89.3. If the province has assigned the function to a municipality, it will transfer the funds earmarked for the performance of the function to the municipality.

90. This is not conclusive. Provinces also pay municipalities when they delegate functions to municipalities. But the transfer of funds is certainly consistent with assignment.

91. There is also the related fact that, save for the books, the Municipalities directly own the relevant infrastructure and employ the staff. They have done so since the 1950s. Again, a Municipality may also perform delegated functions with its own equipment and staff. But there is nothing in the way libraries are operated that is inconsistent with an assignment.

92. Fifth, this understanding is consistent with the Provincial Government's own approach.

93. In its 2023/4 budget, the Western Cape explained the funding of libraries in these terms:

*The WCG makes substantial transfers to municipalities to support their delivery of basic services to communities. Enhancing the efficiency of these transfers and their use and impact is a key lever to enhance productive efficiency. Some of these transfers pass through conditional grant funds from national government in cases where the delivery model in the Province gives the responsibility for provision of services such as libraries ... to municipalities to implement.⁶³

94. The MoA, too, is drafted on the basis of an assignment of functions, not a delegation.

94.1. The preamble states: "the Department has received funding from the National Government of South Africa for the 2023/2024 financial year to assist B municipalities to deliver on the unfunded mandate of the provision of library services in their respective municipal areas". It goes on to provide that the sum the Province is transferring to the municipality is "a contribution towards partially addressing the unfunded mandate".

⁶³ Western Cape Provincial Treasury, Overview of Provincial Revenue and Expenditure (2024) at 43.

- 94.2. This clearly refers to the unfunded mandate of the Municipalities. It is the Municipalities' mandate, because the functions to provide "library services in their respective areas" has been assigned to them. It would make no sense for the Province to transfer funds to fulfil its own unfunded mandate.
- 94.3. That aligns with the meaning of "unfunded mandate" in s 35 of the PFMA which is headed "Unfunded Mandates". It then requires that draft national legislation that "assigns an additional function or power to, or imposes any other obligation on, a provincial government" must give a projection of the financial implications to the province. An unfunded mandate exists where powers have been assigned, not where they have been delegated.
- 94.4. The obligations imposed on the Municipalities are all about financial governance, monitoring and supervision. Those are all entirely consistent with an assignment. Nothing in the MoA recognises a power for the Province to interfere with the exercise of the assigned powers. Even in the case of breach, the Province's remedy is the recovery of the funds, not the withdrawal of the function.

CONCLUSION ON THE 1981 ORDINANCE

95. On a conspectus of those factors, the 1981 Ordinance assigns the function and power of managing libraries to the Municipalities.

96. This is not inconsistent with the Constitution. Section 156(1)(b) of the Constitution contemplates that provincial legislation will directly assign executive functions to municipalities. That is all the 1981 Ordinance does. Even if there was scope for an implied repeal, there would be no basis for it here because the 1981 Ordinance is consistent with the Constitutional framework for the assignment of powers.
97. The nature of the transfer of powers is not consistent with a delegation or agency arrangement. The Province has no role in the operation of the Municipalities' libraries. Under the 1981 Ordinance, the Province has no power to exercise those functions itself.

V CONCLUSION

98. Pre-constitutional legislation that was assigned to provinces under the interim Constitution and was still in force when the Constitution came into force is “provincial legislation”. Provincial legislation can, in terms of s 156(1)(b) of the Constitution, assign executive functions to municipalities.
99. The 1981 Ordinance is such pre-constitutional legislation and therefore is “provincial legislation” that can assign powers. It assigns the power to open, conduct, control and close libraries to the Municipalities.
100. If that is so, SARS accepts that the grants the Western Cape pays to the Municipalities are “grants” as defined in s 8(5A) of the VAT Act and can be zero-rated under s 11(2)(t) in determining the Municipalities VAT liability.
101. I advise accordingly.

It should be mentioned that all proposed draft policies are aligned with the Staff Regulations requirements as legislative framework that should be considered whenever possible.

- 6.1.2. The need to develop a system of education, training and development that is accessible to all levels of personnel, and capable of meeting individual and organisational specific and distinctive needs; and
- 6.1.3. The need to replace the current fragmented system of ETD with a more coherent and coordinated one, without resorting to a highly centralized and prescriptive framework that could easily stifle initiative and replace one set of inefficiencies with another.

6.2. PRIORITISATION

In order to be relevant to operations and ensure that ETD programmes are tailored effectively to meet local needs and circumstances all, Directorates and Sections should set their own priorities for education training and development. These priorities have to be aligned to be broad national training priorities laid down for the short term to medium term in the performance imperatives as defined by the Mayoral Committee and Senior Management;

- 6.2.1 ETD programmes bases on an objective and systematic assessment of company and individual needs will succeed in building motivation, capacity and performance of Bitou Municipality employees;
- 6.2.2 All ETD interventions should be based on objective and systematic individual employee and organizational needs assessment.
- 6.2.3 The needs identified by individuals might be personal, performance related or career whilst organizational needs will be based on strategic objectives;
- 6.2.4 Due to budgetary constraints not all the needs will be catered for thus a transparent decision-making mechanism based on priorities for transformation, specific strategic planning priorities and circumstances should be done. There must be a drive to seek optimal balance between individual needs and organizational priorities. Potential conflicts may arise between the needs of different individuals needs and between organizational and individual needs; and

- 6.2.5 To get a precise analysis of individual needs and organizational needs, each portfolio needs to assess, describe and define the occupational categories that exist within each directorate. The description of jobs within each occupation should be based upon the portfolio's strategic intent as outlined in the Organisational Strategic Plans.

6.3 LEARNING PRINCIPLES

The ETD policy has been developed in accordance with the following learning principles:

6.3.1 ACCESS AND ENTITLEMENT TO TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

The Directorates should create and make accessible on an ongoing basis, meaningful ETD opportunities for staff.

6.4 NEEDS BASED TRAINING

For training and development programmes to have meaning and to assist the Directorates in achieving its objectives the duties and responsibility should be based on a detailed assessment of individual/Directorial and occupational needs.

6.5 COMPETENCY BASED TRAINING

ETD should be aimed at developing the competencies required for effective job performance. For this reason, ETD should also be based on competencies required to perform various jobs and execute various functions within the Directorate.

6.5.1 Alignment Of Staff EDT with the Organisational Strategic Plan

Staff ETD is central to effective and successful implementation of the division's strategic plan or business plans. To achieve the Directorate's objectives, the ETD of staff should be aligned with the Directorate's strategic plan and the business plans of the various sections.

6.6 ADEQUATE FINANCIAL RESOURCES

ETD and the Directorate objectives cannot be achieved without provision of an adequate training budget. A training budget should be an integral part of the organizational budget. All grants received from the LGSETA must be utilized for Training and Development as per legislation. Bitou Municipality will, as required by legislation commit 1% of its total payroll each financial year towards education training and skills development initiatives in the form of training of budget.

6.7 CAREER PATH PLANNING

To facilitate development and progress of staff, career paths within the Directorates and Sections should be developed, with a parallel learning pathway.

6.8 LEARNING ORGANISATION

To address its client's needs, the Directorates need to continuously identify and adapt to the changing needs. This is not only vital for the Directorate's continuous growth but is equally important for lifelong learning and continuous development of staff in the Directorates.

6.9 EQUITY AND EMPOWERMENT

Training initiatives in the Directorates should be aligned with the broader plans and programmes aimed at promoting equity and empowerment of the previously disadvantaged groups. For this reason, it is of vital importance that the Directorate strategy is aligned with the employment equity plan as well as its recruitment and selection policies.

6.10 FUNCTIONAL MAPPING AND JOB PROFILING

Functional analyses will be conducted. This entails the functional mapping by analyzing the work in terms of core and support work processes and forms a basis for identifying units of competence and best practices that could be used for establishing competitive edge and standards.

6.11 COMPETENCY PROFILES: A COMPETENCY-BASED APPROACH TO EDUCATION, TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

For the purpose of this ETD implementation guidelines for competence will be defined as the application of skills, knowledge and attitudes to tasks or a combination of tasks to standards under operational conditions. Such competence does not refer to the unique characteristics of an individual worker, but rather serves as a measure against which individuals may be judge for the purpose of formal or informal evaluation and accreditation.

6.12 COMPETENCY STANDARD DESCRIPTIONS FOR PERFORMANCE REFERRING TO:

What competencies do people need, to be effective in their job?

How does an individual know that she or he is carrying out the job effectively?

- 6.12.1 Standards are expressed as a desired outcome of the competence or a set of performance criteria/standards, which are observable, measurable and assessable;
- 6.12.2 A competency profiling methodology (as a tool) should be utilized to identify specific outcomes per job category, and the outcomes will be linked to SAQA unit standards;

6.12.3 The competency-based approach will assist in forming an effective and measurable basis for:

- 6.12.3.1 The objective evaluation of current performance, and the effective assessment of current and future needs;
- 6.12.3.2 The design and delivery of ETD programmes and courses, as well as other staff development interventions, targeted at the achievement of specific and meaningful competencies;
- 6.12.3.3 The standardization and accreditation of such programs and courses through the NQF framework; and
- 6.12.3.4 Improvements in the current systems of performance appraisal, recruitment and selection, and promotion which places too much emphasis on the possession of formal qualifications and experience (which may not always be a reliable indicator of actual competency), and too little on prior learning and experience obtained through less formal means. This does not imply that formal qualifications and experience will no longer be used as a criterion for recruitment or promotion. For many positions within the different divisions of Bitou Municipality, the possession of appropriate qualifications and/or experience will continue to be essential.

6.13 ETD NEEDS ASSESSMENT

- 6.13.1 ETD needs analyses should be conducted every 5 years at the same time as the development of WSP and drafting of budget occurs;
- 6.13.2 Pre-assessment training analysis is important so that staff at more or less the same level attend the same courses, to avoid embarrassing situations or boredom at some courses, due to lack of pre-assessment, by the convener of the session in conjunction with the service provider;

- 6.13.3 Assessment of individual learning needs will be done on a continuous basis as part of the performance reviews. ETD will need to be systematically needed to the broader processes of human resources development; and
- 6.13.4 The needs assessment process will ensure that the Workplace Skills Plans and Learning Programmes identifies as the result of the Learning/ETD needs assessment are effectively prioritized, equipped with the appropriate levels of budgetary support, and provided with the necessary commitment and support from the top management to ensure their success.

6.14 THE PROCESS WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

- 6.14.1 Needs assessment (Individual and Organizational);
- 6.14.2 Consideration of possible solutions (including ETD and other non-ETD interventions);
- 6.14.3 Identifying ETD programmes and activities, together with their costs;
- 6.14.4 Establish priorities in the light of prevailing budgetary constraints;
- 6.14.5 Identifying appropriate resources (human, physical and financial) to implement the prioritized ETD Programmes;
- 6.14.6 Formulate, communicate and implement an annual Workplace Skills Plan (strategic plan) for ETD; and
- 6.14.7 Monitor, evaluate and feedback into ongoing process of planning and review.

6.15 ASSESSMENT AND MODERATION INCLUDING RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

- 6.15.1 A skills audit tool should be devised to allow for the assessment of employee productivity improvements, viz:
- 6.15.2 Individual competence against current job profile;
- 6.15.3 Individual performance against current job profile; and
- 6.15.4 Individual work environment effectiveness.

6.16 INDIVIDUAL/PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT PLANS (IDP'S OR PDP'S)

- 6.16.1 In order to ensure a needs-based approach to ETD, Individual Development Plans (IDP's) will be drawn up (where feasible and appropriate) for all members of staff.
- 6.16.2 These will be designed to identify the needs of staff within the context of the individual's overall career progress, as well as within the context of the organizational objectives and priorities of the Directorates concerned;
- 6.16.3 An IDP is an individually tailored programme of staff development, training, education and support designed to enable staff to acquire competencies that will need to be developed to enable staff to successfully meet their current work and career targets as well as future personal and career aspirations;
- 6.16.4 IDP's will be drawn up in a negotiated way between the line manager/supervisor and the individual staff member, with the assistance of the training component. They will be reviewed quarterly and will be formally appraised and updated on an annual basis; and

- 6.16.5 The effective implementation of an IDP is subject to the budgetary constraints, time and capacity within each Directorate and Section.

6.17 RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION OF LEARNERS/TRAINEE

- 6.17.1 Not only applies to full time or part time personnel, but also individuals identified for training:

This training will be based on the following triggers, viz:

- a) New entrants;
- b) Promotions;
- c) Transfers;
- d) Appraisals;
- e) Accidents;
- f) Qualification plus Control Records;
- g) Grievances;
- h) New positions;
- i) Special Assignments;
- j) Job descriptions;
- k) New Products;
- l) New machinery;
- m) Succession planning;
- n) Career pathing;
- o) Employment Equity; and
- p) Learnerships etc.

6.18 STANDARD SETTING AND QUALIFICATIONS

- 6.18.1 The move to a needs-based and competency-based system will require new and improved forms of standard setting and qualifications;

6.18.2 The processes, procedures and systems as prescribed by the relevant legislation guide Bitou Municipality's actions herein; and 6.18.3 The relevant SETA (s) provides the required guidelines.

6.19 ACCREDITATION AND QUALITY ASSURANCE

As per SETA guidelines and requirements.

6.20 OUTSOURCING OF ETDS INITIATIVES

Outsourcing will only take place in the following situations: -

- 6.20.1 Non-availability of such training in the Bitou Municipality;
- 6.20.2 Cost effectiveness and economics of scale;
- 6.20.3 Capacity constraints;
- 6.20.4 In line with Bitou Municipality Procurement Policy and where possible with a skills transfer
- 6.20.5 contract; and
- 6.20.6 The SDF's role will also be to monitor such ETD initiatives to ensure that it conforms to national criteria and standards.

6.21 TENDERING

6.21.1 The increasing reliance envisaged in this document on external ETD providers would obviously place growing pressure on tender processes and procedures as per Council's Supply Chain Management Policy.

The tender processes in Directorates will need to ensure in particular that:

6.21.2 Clear and relevant criteria are established;

- 6.21.3 These and other information relevant to the tender are appropriately advertised in ways that solicit a response from a diverse range of providers, and in particular from organisations that have been previously disadvantaged, with preference to accredited providers within the Drakenstein area;
- 6.21.4 Bids are assessed in an objective, non-discriminatory and transparent way;
- 6.21.5 The introduction of a more systematic framework for accreditation will imply that tenders will only be invited in the future from accredited providers in consultation with the Procurement, Human Resource Manager and the SDF;
- 6.21.6 A need may arise from time to time for a small group of individuals to receive short-course or workshop training on a once-off basis from particular provider with acknowledges expertise in the specific field. To submit such once-off events through the revised tender procedures may still be unnecessarily expensive, slow and cumbersome. It is therefore proposed that the Procurement Section draw up criteria for ETD interventions, which can be excluded from the tender process; and
- 6.21.7 ETD service providers chosen to run such interventions will nevertheless, still be required to demonstrate accreditation status to the SDF.

6.22 THE CODE OF CONDUCT FOR SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT NEEDS TO BE ADHERED TO:

All officials and other role players involved in Supply Chain Management must adhere to the National Treasury's Code of Conduct of Supply Chain Management Practitioners. If a supply chain management official or other role player, or any close family member, partner or associate of such officials or other role player, has any private or business interest in any contract to be awarded, that official or other role player must:

- 6.22.1 Disclose that interest; and
- 6.22.2 Withdraw from participating in any manner whatsoever in the process relating to that contract

6.23 TYPES OF ETD

- 6.23.1 An approach will be designed to promote access to competence and accreditation by recognizing that there are many different routes to obtaining knowledge and skills, and that the choice of “best route” for an individual will depend on a variety of circumstances, including the experience and learning that have occurred to date (recognition of prior learning); and
- 6.23.2 A key assumption of this approach is that their learning will be more effective when individuals are enabled to use learning styles and contexts that more closely match their needs.

6.24 LEARNERSHIPS AND SKILL PROGRAMS AS PER SETA GUIDELINES AND REQUIREMENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVES

The attendance by employees to seminars, workshops and conferences must be job related. The directorate will sanction such attendance and the cost thereof will be borne by the directorate.

7 BUDGET

- 7.1 Since 1 July 2004 the Bitou Municipality could no longer provide employees with study loans. This is a forbidden practice according the Municipal Finance Management Act.

- 7.1.1 Adequate budgetary allocations within each directorate should be secured to ensure financial provision for adequate implementation of the new ETD policy, and to ensure that ETD budgets are not the first thing to be sacrificed in times of financial stringency. A formula should be developed by the Human Resources Directorates in collaboration with the Training Committee, for implementation in Directorates and Sections. This will be based on agreed norms and standards in relation to;

7.1.2 The time to be made available for training and education;

7.1.3 A specified financial target for training and education; and

7.1.4 A more sophisticated formula should be developed; as more reliable data becomes available. Once the annual ETD budget is approved AS PER WSP, it will be up to the HOD's to implement the agreed ETD strategy.

7.2 CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

7.2.1 Learners/trainees shall be required to comply with Bitou Municipality stipulated policies and contracts for:

- (a) Bursaries;
- (b) Learnerships;
- (c) Specialised Training; and
- (d) Any other initiative as governed by Company policy.

7.2.2 All costs in respect of training are to be budgeted for at the Training Committee in conjunction with the (Executive Directors) and functionaries and be indicated by specific allocation for various Directorates, including the Fire Section and Traffic Section.

7.2.3 Learner Commitment Forms will be completed by each learner approved to attend as part of avoiding wasteful expenditure that come with unauthorized learner dropouts.

7.3 TRAINING BUDGET AND LEVIES

- 7.3.1 Training and development must be budgeted for on an annual basis of 1% of the Council's total salary expenditure;
- 7.3.2 The Training Division will be responsible for coordinating expenses to ensure the optimal utilization of training funds; and
- 7.3.3 A Training Levy will be paid to SARS as per SETA requirements.

7.4 COMMUNICATION ON ETD

- 7.4.1 Poor communication, conflicting information and a lack of co-ordination of ETD between and among different levels of employees within the organisation and providers usually complicate training delivery. To carry out their work effectively supervisors and managers will be orientated, trained and supplied with ongoing advice and support by the Human Resources Section;
- 7.4.2 To provide information on training and development opportunities to various ETD Stakeholders/users, the newsletter will be used as a powerful tool for this purpose. A resource guide will be developed on the intranet, maintained and be made accessible to staff; and
- 7.4.3 The introduction of this central database for human resource development and ETD related matters would facilitate information sharing and dynamic interchange. It should be continuously updated to meet clients' information needs.

The information systems will be used as an ETD management tool and it will, inter alia, store the following:

- a) List of providers, products and schedules;

- b) Skills/Knowledge/Provider Matrix;
- c) List of Qualifications and Unit Standards offered;
- d) An indication of accreditation;
- e) Alternative development opportunities; and
- f) Self-study, on-job-training, videos, literature, etc.

7.4.4 Given the need to ensure that the training and education strategy proposed in this document is effectively integrated into NQF and SAQA frameworks, as well as into Directorate of Labour's National Skills Development Strategy (NSDS), an additional priority will be to arrange workshops and training courses for managers and staff (HR managers and staff in particular) in the operation of such things as the NQF, SAQA, National Standards Bodies, Standards Generating Bodies, Education and Training Quality Assures (ETQA's), Sectoral Education and Training Organizations (SETA's), and Learnerships and Skills Programs.

7.5 SYSTEMS

The following needs to be considered:

- 7.5.1 Library – Knowledge and Resource Centre;
- 7.5.2 Performance Management System (regular reviews);
- 7.5.3 Job and Competency Profiling for all disciplines (upgrading of skills/competency shortages);
- 7.5.4 Skills database (continuous evaluation and re-evaluation of grades and Skills transfer);
- 7.5.5 Programme management – key performance areas (KPA's); and
- 7.5.6 Balances scorecard (BCS) and business planning (return on investment and increase productivity).

7.6 QUALITY MANAGEMENT PROCESS

- 7.6.1 All ETD interventions must be reported according to stipulated guidelines as determined by the relevant SETA;
- 7.6.2 Regular and continuous reporting of ETD undergone at Sections/Directorates to be sent to the SDF;
- 7.6.3 Annual Training Evaluation reports to identify ETD provided against training WSP's submitted at the beginning of the ETD cycle as per SETA requirements;
- 7.6.4 Budget reviews to assess cost of ETD and money actually spent on ETD against budgeted amounts;
- 7.6.5 The impact and effectiveness of the ETD Programmes and courses will be evaluated through customer reviews at two different levels:-
 - a. At the levels of recipients of these Programmes (employees) through the improvements of their performances.*
 - b. At the level of the public or the beneficiaries of the goods and services provided by the particular directorate with regards to improvements in service delivery.*

This would help to reconcile employee learning/ETD needs with the broad aims, objectives and goals of the Directorates. Congruity between training courses and the actual competencies required in performing effectively at the particular level is greatly emphasized. Wherever possible, this should be linked to the NQF framework.

7.7 MONITORING AND EVALUATION OF THE IMPLEMENTATION OF ETD POLICY

- 7.7.1 To ensure that the implementation of the ETD policy is effectively monitored and evaluated in accordance with realistic and relevant performance measures, targets and time frames, effective systems of monitoring and evaluation will be introduced and implemented in Directorates/Sections;
- 7.7.2 Detailed performance measures and the actual monitoring and evaluation mechanisms specifying mechanisms for ensuring compliance will be put in place; and

- 7.7.3 Monitoring data (both quantitative and qualitative) will be interpreted sensitively, rather than being used in an over-simplistic way as conclusive proof of success or failure. Such data will instead be used to try and obtain a realistic view of improvement of investigation.

8 TRAINING: WORKING HOURS

- 8.1 Study leave will be granted for an employee one day before an exams or evaluation and on the day of the exams or evaluations; Study leave will be regulated in accordance with current Collective Agreements and /or Leave Policy;
- 8.2 Employees attending block weeks, will be granted 50% study leave and 50% vacation leave, for example a two-week block will be, one-week study leave and one week vacation leave;
- 8.3 All relevant documentation for study leave must be signed one week in advance and must be accompanied by an exam time-table; and
- 8.4 All other training coordinated and presented through the training component will be conducted during working hours, and therefore the relevant Directorates should release personnel.

9 UTILISING RESOURCES

Training and development will be undertaken with all available resources, namely Council's own personal, official regional structures, private service providers, in addition to personnel from other local authorities.

10 PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIP FEES

- 10.1 In order to ensure retention and effective management of a capable workforce that is relevant to improved service delivery requirements, the municipality supports employee affiliation to a single professional body. The professional body should be recognized by the South African Qualifications Authority or at least be in process of acquiring such recognition.

- 10.2 Employees should obtain approval from the respective Manager and Executive Director before undertaking professional body application processes.
- 10.3 Professional body membership (statutory and non- statutory) may be considered and/or approved for permanent personnel only if it is applicable to the Local Government sphere and subject to the following conditions:
 - 10.3.1 The membership is relevant to the employee's current position and/ or potential future career development as secondary priority;
 - 10.3.2 Any future projects or Council objectives which the membership may impact upon;
 - 10.3.3 Employees may only apply for membership to a single professional body or alternatively cover additional membership costs should he/she affiliates to more than one professional body; and

- 5.1.12 All relevant Collective Agreements.

5.2 Succession Plan of the Bitou Municipality.

6. IMPLEMENTING SUCCESSION PLANNING AND CAREER PATHING

- 6.1 The responsibility for implementing succession planning and career pathing rests with management (more specifically departmental management), the Human Resources Division and the employees themselves.
- 6.2 The trade unions should also play a supportive role in the process. The responsibility for succession planning and career pathing should be seen as a partnership between these parties.
- 6.3 More specifically, the responsibilities of the partners in the succession planning and career pathing process are as follows:

7. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE COUNCIL (MANAGEMENT)

- 7.1 The council must accept the responsibility for the training and development of all its employees.
- 7.2 The council must, further, participate in skills training and development on all levels in the organization and commit itself to the implementation and continuous participation in the succession planning and career pathing program.
- 7.3 The council also has a responsibility to make resources (financial and other) available in order to promote the implementation of succession planning and career pathing. Provision must be made in the training budget of the municipality for this funding.
- 7.4 The council must establish and maintain structures, policies and procedures (job enrichment, job rotation, job enlargement, special projects, career counselling, discussion groups, workshops, assessment centres) to facilitate succession planning and career pathing within the organization.

- 7.5 The council must support the development of each employee by availing/creating the necessary resources viz. facilities, training personnel, transport, course materials and stationery as well as paid time-off for training.
- 7.6 The council should, at its discretion, allow employees to repeat the training and development programs or part thereof, where the employee has not developed the required competency, in accordance with prescripts as contained in the Education, Training & Development policy.
- 7.7 The council may decide, based upon fair criteria, which employees are suitable for specific training and development.

8. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE UNIONS

- 8.1 The unions should continuously encourage and motivate their members to participate in training and development programs.
- 8.2 The unions should play a supportive role in the implementation of succession planning and career planning, in particular in assisting with implementation of employment equity.

9. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE EMPLOYEES

- 9.1 Employees should commit themselves to participation in training programs so that the process of training and development can succeed and be carried to its full extent.
- 9.2 It is necessary that employees make use of these programs in an enthusiastic manner by voluntary participation, continuous attendance, acceptance of responsibility for personal development, providing continuous positive input etc.
- 9.3 Employees must accept the principle that age is of no importance in training and development.

10. PREPARATION OF SUCCESSION PLANNING & CAREER PATHING DOCUMENTS

- 10.1 Managers, together with the Human Resources official responsible for skills development should obtain the following:
 - 10.1.1 Departmental organogram.
 - 10.1.2 Skills audit results.
 - 10.1.3 Performance appraisal forms for all of the staff within the department. Obtaining these forms necessitates the implementation of a Performance Management System (PMS) within the municipality. Municipalities are legally required, in terms of the Municipal Systems Act, to have a performance management system in place for senior staff members. It is recommended that this system be applied to all staff members within the municipality and the Performance Appraisal Forms resulting from the Implementation of the PMS are necessary to undertake succession planning.
 - 10.1.4 Departmental estimates or staff budget.
 - 10.1.5 Schedule showing the ages of current staff and dates of retirement. This can be obtained from the Human Resources Division.
 - 10.1.6 Job descriptions for all the posts in the department together with competency-based job outcomes for each post. These job outcomes must comply with the format of the unit standards as prescribed by the National Qualifications Framework (NQF).
 - 10.1.7 All relevant legislative prescripts pertaining to human resources management processes and procedures.

11. PROCEDURE FOR COMPILING A SUCCESSION PLANNING DOCUMENT

11.1 Once all of the information mentioned above has been obtained, it will then be possible to compile a succession planning document. The following steps must then be followed:

11.1.1 Step 1

- (a) Each year, the Directors; together with the Senior HR Officer: Skills Development and Employment Equity, must examine the organogram of the directorate to establish:
 - (i) Which posts are likely to become vacant over the next five years owing to retirements (from the schedule of ages of employees mentioned above). Provision should also be made for cases of possible termination due to the resignations, deaths, dismissals etc.
 - (ii) Which posts on the organogram are already vacant and have funds provided for them on the annual estimates.
 - (iii) Which previously disadvantaged individuals and other employees within both the department and the municipality as a whole can possibly be groomed or developed for more senior posts (this information can be obtained from the skills audit).
 - (iv) Which posts require specialist technical or formal training, e.g. university degrees and for which there are presently no suitable qualified internal staff members.

11.1.2 Step 2

- (a) The Director, together with the Senior HR Officer: Skills Development and Employment Equity should then prepare a draft organogram of how the departmental structure should look over the next one to five years. This draft organogram should reflect new posts that will be needed and any- possible improvements to the current staff organogram.

(NOTE: Directors must bear in mind that there are limited funds available for new staff members and a realistic assessment of future staff needs must be made.)

11.1.3 Step 3

- (a) The Director should then begin to "pencil in" the names of possible employees within the department who could be groomed for promotions for new posts or for posts becoming vacant as a result of retirements etc. Previously disadvantaged employees must be given preference where necessary to comply with the provisions of the Bitou Municipality Employment Equity plan to ensure Equal opportunity to all staff members.
- (b) Information on which employees can be earmarked for possible promotion can be obtained from the Skills Audit results and the Performance Appraisal forms.

11.1.4 Step 4

- (a) A competency development plan, to improve the competency of identified employees must then be implemented.

- (b) Where there are specialist posts which are expected to arise and which require formal qualifications, employees who have shown the necessary potential and interest should be offered bursaries (subject to finance being available), or alternatively generally be encouraged to register at University on a part-time or correspondence basis. All possible assistance and encouragement must be provided to the employees.

11.1.5 Step 5

- (a) Where additional informal training is necessary, suitable training courses must be identified and arrangements made for the identified employees to attend. This should be done in consultation with the employee concerned who should be informed that should he/she show promise, he/she will stand a better chance of promotion. However, no promises must be made.
- (b) It is important that the training courses which the employees are given cover all competencies and that, at the end of the course, the employee must be able to deliver the performance outcomes required for the job.

11.1.6 Step 6

- (a) Where on-the-job (or in-service) training is necessary, arrangements should be made to allow the identified employee to act in the higher post when the present incumbent is on leave, in order to confirm his suitability. In this way, the Director will be able to establish whether the employee has the ability to meet the performance standards set for the post.

11.1.7 Step 7

- (a) If no suitable in-service training within the municipality exists, some local authorities can be approached to assist in this matter.
- (b) Arrangements can be made to send the identified employees to other municipalities for limited periods, in order to obtain in-service training and experience by working with persons who are undertaking those duties. Some municipalities are prepared to assist in this matter, provided there is no cost implication for them.

11.1.8 Step 8

- (a) Identified employees can also be allowed to work directly under a qualified employee within the municipality, who would be his/her mentor. This would enable him to acquire skills at limited cost.

12. PURPOSE OF THE COMPETENCY DEVELOPMENT PLAN

- 12.1 The purpose of the Competency Development Plan mentioned under Steps 4 - 8 above is to improve the competency of the employees in order that future staff needs are met. It is important that after undergoing the competency development process, staff members are able to fully comply with the unit standards. This means, for example, that they must be able to do all of the tasks set out in the example column of Annexure A.

13. PROCEDURE FOR COMPILING A CAREER PATHING DOCUMENT

13.1 Where staff members have been shown to be competent in their jobs (as identified from the Performance Appraisal forms) and where they display the necessary potential and aspirations, special career path documents should be drafted for these employees. Other staff should also not be overlooked and career paths for them should also be determined, bearing in mind any limited aspirations or interest in promotion.

13.2 The following steps should be taken in preparing a career pathing document:

13.2.1 Step 1

- (a) Once per year, the Director (preferably with the Senior HR Officer: Skills Development and Employment Equity) should hold a meeting with each member of staff in order to ascertain how great the employee's aspirations or ambitions are. The employee's past performance (as identified from the Performance Appraisal form) should also be discussed, as well as any possible improvements that are needed and any additional training which is required.

13.2.2 Step 2

- (a) It is important that the Director be flexible in his/her view of the potential of the employees. The human resources representative can assist in maintaining objectivity in these cases. The employee's aspirations must then be compared with his/her current performance and any improvements needed must be set out.

13.2.3 Step 3

- (a) If the employee is at a fairly junior level, and wishes to progress to higher levels, he/she must be given every opportunity possible to develop the necessary skills. A possible career path document (an example is attached as Annexure B) should be shown to him/her and he/she should be informed that his progress will depend entirely on his/her ability, enthusiasm, dedication and hard work in his/her job.

13.2.4 Step 4

- (a) The document set out in Annexure A (as amended to suit the employee's particular career field) should be personalised with the employee's name on the top. Meetings with the Director and the Senior HR Officer: Skills Development and Employment Equity should be held every year to discuss his/her progress and training and development needs.

13.2.5 Step 5

- (a) Once the employee can prove by means of competency evaluation that he/she possesses the necessary skills and competence to perform the key tasks, he/she may then move to the next higher level of competency on his/her career path.

14. AMENDMENTS

- 14.1 The Council may from time to time amend this policy and introduce any measure(s) to ensure efficient, economic and effective management of Council resources.

15. EFFECTIVE DATE

- 15.1 The Succession Planning and Career Pathing Policy will become effective upon approval thereof by the Council of the Bitou Municipality.

QUARTERLY REPORT FOR THE PLETT SHARK SPOTTING PROGRAMME

Portfolio Comm: Engineering & Community Services

Demarcation: All Wards

File Ref: 17/11/13/5

Delegation: Council

Attachments Annexure “A” – Plett Shark Spotters annual report

Report from: Acting Director Community Services

Author: Manager Facilities Management

Date: 6 May 2025

PURPOSE OF THE REPORT:

To provide Council with an update on the implementation and progress of the Plett Shark Spotting Programme following Council’s prior resolution to enter in partnership with the Plett Shark Spotters Non-Profit Organisation and to co-fund the programme for the period 2023–2026.

BACKGROUND /DISCUSSION

The Council, at its meeting held on 26 September 2023, resolved under item C/4/126/09/23:

- 1. That Council enter into a Memorandum of Agreement with the Plett Shark Spotters in a similar fashion as the City of Cape Town and contribute an amount of R800 000.00 towards the employment costs of 14 Plett Shark Spotters on an annual basis for a period of 3 years.*
- 2. That the Municipal Manager be delegated to conclude a Memorandum of Agreement with the Plett Shark Spotters.*
- 3. That the Plett Shark Spotters, a registered Non-Profit Organisation, Public Benefit Organisation be responsible for raising the remainder of the funds required for scientific and research inputs as well as education and awareness initiatives.*

Following the Council’s resolution, the Memorandum of Agreement (MoA) was concluded and signed by both parties. The agreement is effective from 01 July 2023 to 30 June 2026. The MoA establishes a formal collaborative framework in which Bitou Municipality supports the operational sustainability of the programme while Shark Spotters retains responsibility for supplementary funding and programme enrichment.

The Shark Spotting Programme enhances public safety along Plettenberg Bay’s coastline, promotes marine conservation awareness, creates employment opportunities for local youth, and supports applied scientific research on shark activity. The Annual Report for 2024 is attached as Annexure A.

Section 4: Community Services

Plett Shark Spotters has been highly effective in mitigating shark-human conflict, restoring beachgoer confidence, and promoting the local tourism-driven economy. The program has created 17 full-time jobs for local residents, with 16 of those positions filled by individuals from under-resourced communities. Beyond safety services, Plett Shark Spotters has implemented impactful environmental education initiatives, reaching over 1 273 individuals, mainly scholars from under-resourced communities in 2024.

According to the annual report submitted (Annexure A), there were multiple successful sightings, public alerts, and no incidents of shark-related harm in monitored areas. The programme has thus met its core objectives and continues to build positive community and stakeholder relationships. The Plett Shark Spotting Programme recorded a total of 281 White shark sightings across key beaches to date (from December 2022), with Robberg 5 and Lookout being the most active sites. Over 60,000 water users were observed over the year (2024), with trained shark spotters actively monitoring conditions and ensuring swift response times. Central Beach experienced the highest number of precautionary beach closures as a result of confirmed shark sightings, with no reported incidents or injuries. These interventions highlight the effectiveness of the programme in safeguarding both residents and visitors, while maintaining public confidence in beach safety.

The Plett Shark Spotters have also played a valuable supporting role in the recent seal and rabies situation along the Plettenberg Bay coastline. Their daily coastal presence and trained observation skills have allowed them to assist in early identification and reporting of unusual cape fur seal behavior, aiding authorities in monitoring potential rabies outbreaks.

Despite its success, the program faces significant financial challenges. The current funding model, relying on a combination of municipal contributions, corporate sponsorships, public donations, and fundraising, has proven insufficient to cover the growing operational costs. A reduction in annual contributions from Sanlam Ltd, coupled with rising operational expenses, has resulted in a substantial funding gap. To cover the shortfall, Cape Town Shark Spotters has provided interest-free loans to Plett operations. While this temporary solution has enabled the program to continue, it is not a sustainable long-term strategy.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATION

The Memorandum of Understanding remains in force until 30 June 2026 which commits an annual amount of R800 000.00 to the Plett Shark Spotting Programme.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. The Plett Shark Spotters has been established through a partnership with Bitou Municipality, Plett Shark Action Group (PSAG) and the Cape Town Shark Spotters in November 2022.
2. Seventeen work opportunities have been created in Bitou, consisting of one local Operations Manager and 16 spotters residing in the following communities, New Horizons, Kwanokuthula, Pine Trees and Qolweni.

Section 4: Community Services

3. The shark safety programme has been successfully implemented to date recording 281 white shark sightings to date and has been well integrated into existing beach safety programmes.
4. To date the programme has been jointly funded by Municipal contributions, public donations, corporate sponsorship and the advancing of funds from the Cape Town Shark Spotters programme.
5. The Plett Shark Spotters program has been facing financial challenges due to reduced contributions from a major supporter and rising operational expenses.
6. The Plett Shark Spotters provide on-the-ground support throughout the Cape Fur seal rabies outbreak by monitoring seal behaviour, reporting concerns to authorities, and assisting with public awareness along the coastline.

Message from our local Managers

Melissa Nel &
Nicky Namntu

As co-managers of this unique and evolving program, we're proud to reflect on a year of growth, resilience, and impact along the coastline of Plettenberg Bay. We are deeply grateful to our supporters, funders, collaborators, and community members whose continued belief in our mission allows us to keep our beaches safe, contribute to meaningful marine science, and inspire ocean stewardship.

From January 1st to December 31st, 2024, our team worked tirelessly to deliver on our core objectives. We experienced a particularly busy shark season, with elevated sighting activity that highlighted the importance of real-time monitoring and adaptive safety measures. Our dedicated spotters maintained daily operations at key beaches, recording marine wildlife activity and ensuring that beachgoers could enjoy the ocean with confidence.

The foundation of our work continues to be rooted in three key values: safety, through proactive shark spotting and beach management; science, through robust data collection and research; and sustainability, through education and community engagement.

This report offers a window into the highlights and achievements of 2024 – and a shared vision for a safer, smarter, and more connected coastal future.

Organisation Overview

Vision

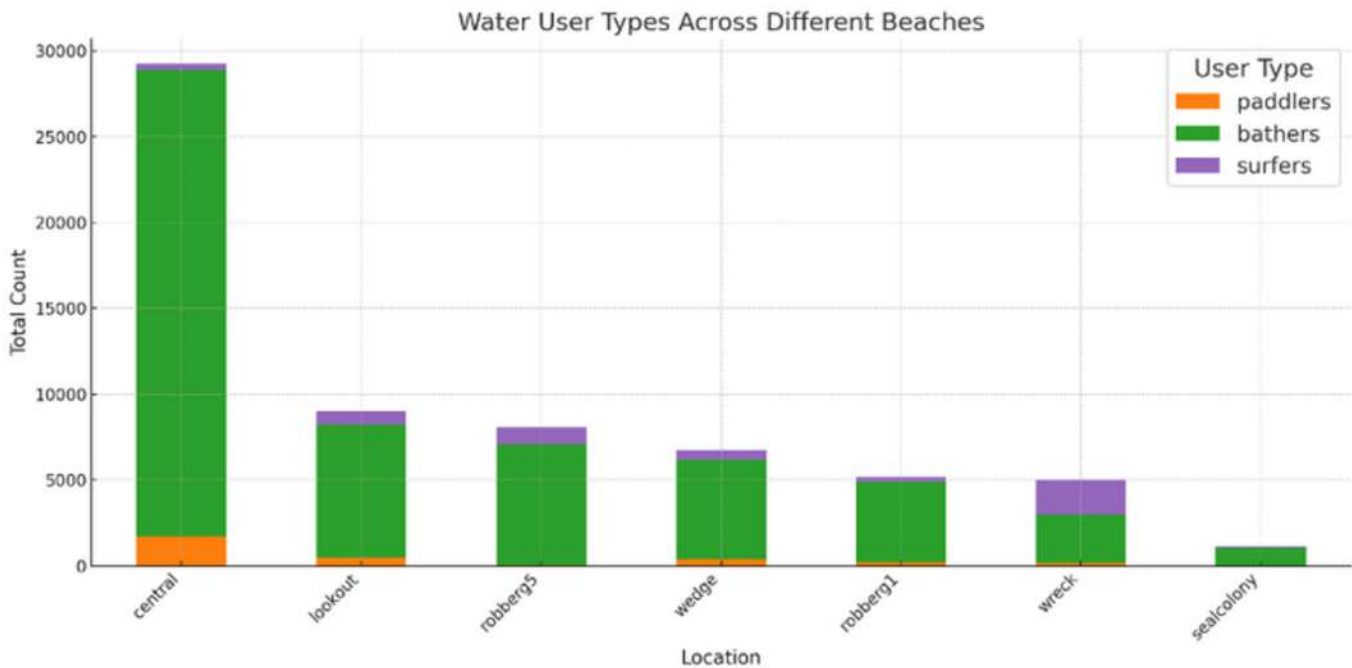

Shark Spotters is a pioneering shark safety and research organisation that has attracted international attention because of the novel way it pro-actively reduces interactions and conflict between recreational water users and white sharks. Started in 2004, in response to a spate of shark bite incidents and increased shark sightings, Shark Spotters is the primary shark safety strategy used in Cape Town, and expanded to Plettenberg Bay in 2022. Shark Spotters improves beach safety by applying innovative and responsible shark safety solutions that reduce the spatial overlap between people and sharks, thereby reducing the risk of a shark bite.

We also provide emergency response in the event of a shark incident, as well as conduct cutting-edge applied research on shark behaviour and ecology, raise awareness about shark safety and conservation issues, and provide employment opportunities and skills development for shark spotters.

Mission

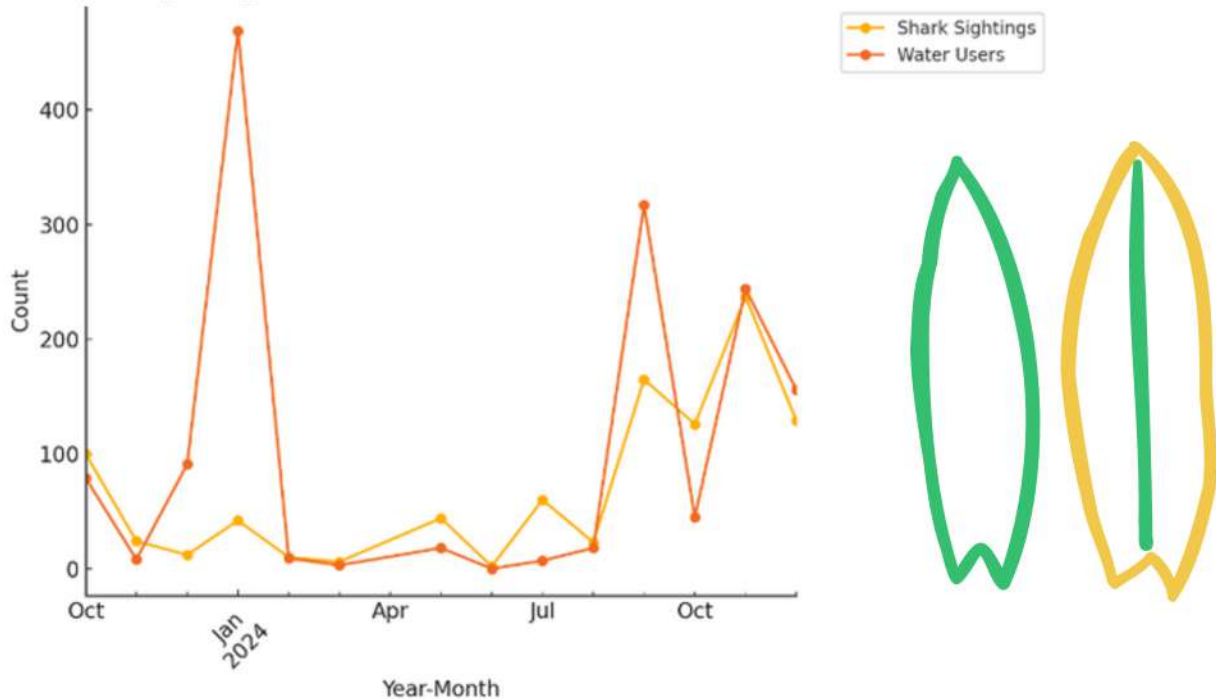

Our mission is to provide environmentally responsible, non-lethal shark safety solutions that protect both people and marine life through real-time monitoring, applied research, and public education. We aim to promote conservation, informed decision-making, and inclusive employment while sharing knowledge to support sustainable shark management locally and beyond.

Operational Statistics

This graph illustrates the number of ocean users recorded at each monitored beach between 2023 and 2024. Central Beach had the highest level of activity, with a large number of bathers, as well as some paddlers and surfers. Lookout and Robberg 5 also experienced high usage, while the remaining sites saw lower levels of water user activity. Bathers made up the majority of ocean users across all sites, although locations such as Wreck and Robberg 5 recorded a relatively higher proportion of surfers.

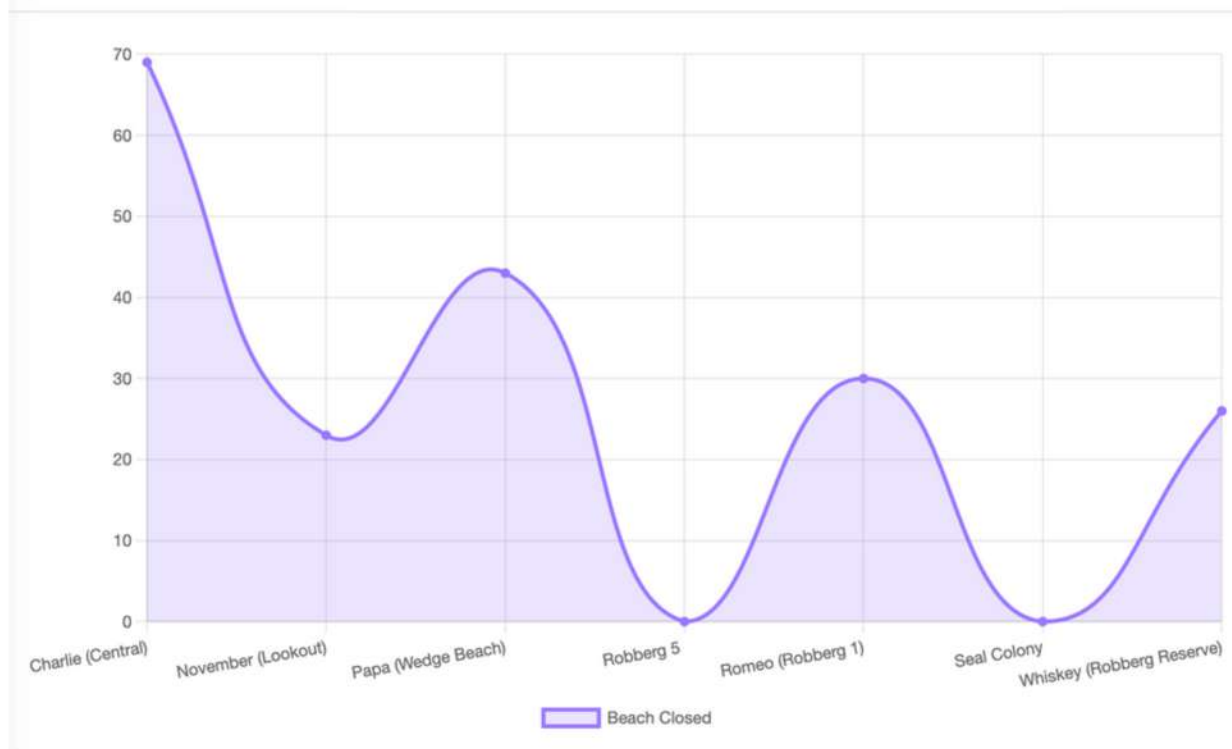

Overlap of shark sightings & water users (from October 2023)

This graph presents the monthly trends in all shark sightings and water user activity from October 2023 to December 2024. A notable increase in ocean users was observed in January, aligning with the summer holiday period. Shark sightings decreased during the early winter months but showed a clear rise again in early spring. Understanding these seasonal patterns supports proactive planning, enhances safety communication, and improves our ability to anticipate periods of higher shark activity.

Beach Closures as a Safety Measure

Beach Closures

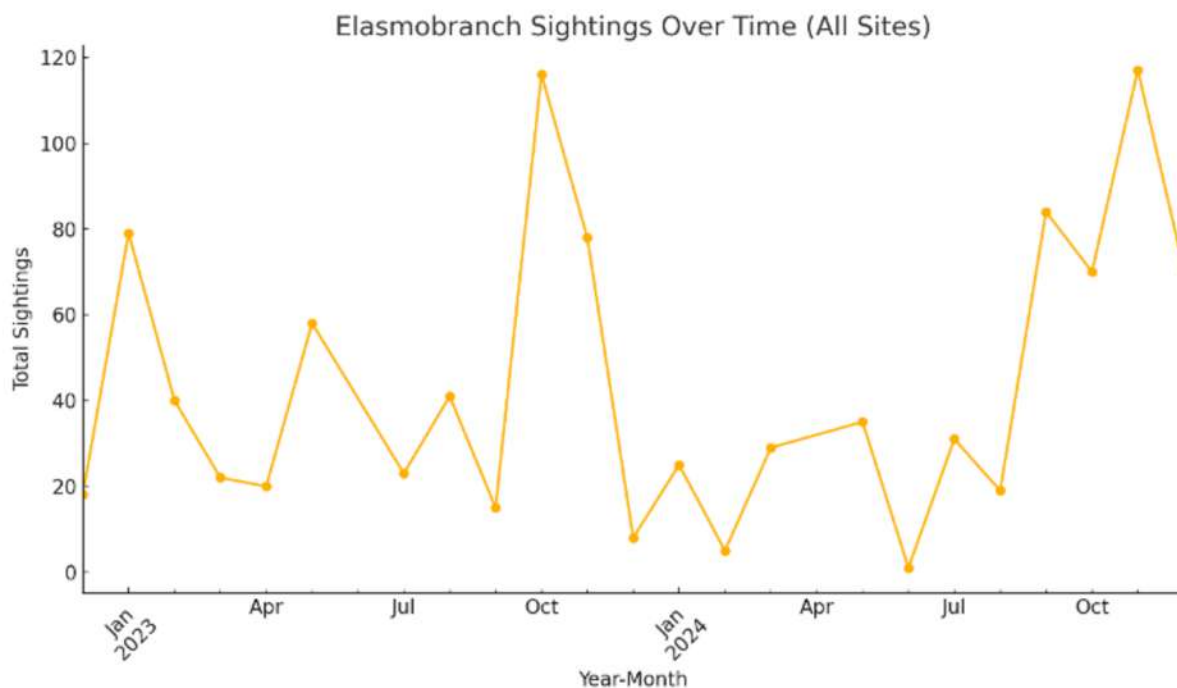

This graph shows how many times beaches were temporarily closed in response to shark sightings or other potential threats near the bathing area. In line with our standard operating protocol, if a white shark is seen in the vicinity of a beach, the area is immediately closed to the public. If the shark is not seen again within an hour, the beach is reopened.

Central Beach experienced the highest number of temporary closures in 2024, with just under 70 precautionary shutdowns during our peak shark season. These timely interventions are critical in reducing the risk of shark-human encounters and highlight the important role the Shark Spotters team plays in keeping bathers safe.

Shark sightings

This graph shows the total number of elasmobranch (sharks and rays) sightings recorded each month across all monitored locations. Sightings were highly variable, with noticeable peaks in October 2023 and again in November 2024. Seasonal increases in sightings, especially during spring and summer months, reflect both changes in environmental conditions and higher observer effort during peak beach seasons.

White shark sightings to date.

White sharks are the species most likely to pose a risk to bathers in Plettenberg Bay. Thanks to the proactive efforts of the Shark Spotters team, there have been zero incidents involving white sharks at monitored beaches since the program began.

Other Wildlife Sightings

Cetaceans

In 2024, the Shark Spotters team recorded a total of 676 cetacean sightings along the Plettenberg Bay coastline. These included both dolphins and whales observed near bathing areas.

Dolphins:

- Bottlenose dolphin: 287 sightings
- Common dolphin: 13 sightings

Whales:

- Southern right whale: 193 sightings
- Humpback whale: 178 sightings
- Bryde's whale: 5 sightings

300

Dolphin sightings

376

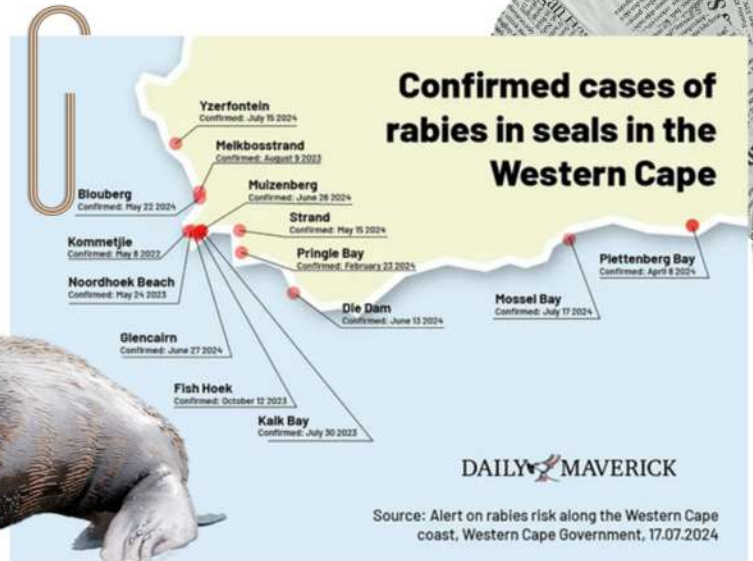

Whale sightings

These sightings not only contribute to our biodiversity records but also help build public appreciation and awareness for marine life in the bay. All sightings are monitored with care to ensure both animal welfare and beach safety.

Rabies Mitigation

In 2024, a total of 137 seals were recorded in or near designated bathing areas by our spotters. In light of confirmed cases of rabies in seals along parts of the South African coastline, we implemented additional precautionary measures to safeguard beachgoers.

Our team communicates directly with Bitou Lifeguards whenever seals are observed in the area. The behaviour of each animal is closely monitored, and if any signs of distress or abnormality are detected, the beach is proactively cleared until the animal moves safely out of range. These protocols ensure that both public safety and animal welfare remain a priority.

Community Education & Outreach

In 2024, we engaged 1,273 people through our education and outreach activities in Plettenberg Bay. The majority of participants were youth from local schools and communities, many of whom come from historically disadvantaged backgrounds. We also hosted sessions for adults, including educators, parents, and community members.

Our interactive sessions covered a range of ocean-related topics, including:

- Shark diversity and conservation
- Shark safety and awareness
- The role of the Shark Spotters program
- Marine food webs and ecosystems
- Beach clean-ups and coastal stewardship

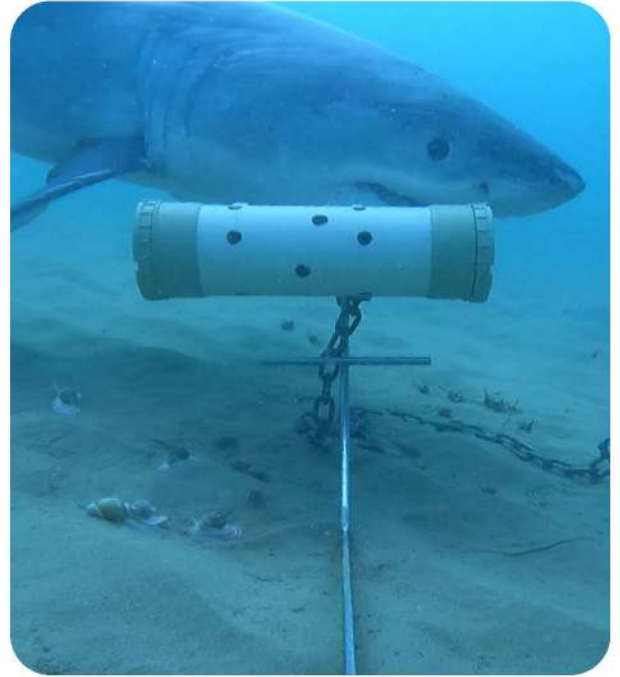

These efforts aim to inspire the next generation of ocean ambassadors, promote informed and safe interactions with the marine environment, and encourage care for the coastline we all share.

RESEARCH

ROBBERG OBSERVATIONS

In collaboration with the ORCA Foundation, we conducted regular land-based surveys from Robberg Peninsula, hiking the mountain trails once to twice a week to observe and record large shark and ray species. These visual surveys help us monitor seasonal trends, track species presence, and document behavioural patterns over time. This long-term dataset is key to understanding how these animals use the area and how their movements may relate to environmental changes or human activity.

BAITED REMOTE UNDERWATER VIDEO SYSTEM

Also in partnership with the ORCA Foundation, we deployed underwater video systems at two key sites in 2024: Jacob's Reef, a well-known scuba diving location, and Meidebank, located within the Robberg Marine Protected Area. These non-invasive surveys aim to assess the diversity, relative abundance, and habitat use of sharks, rays, and skates in the region. The footage collected provides valuable insight into species composition and supports broader conservation efforts by contributing to regional biodiversity records.

PUBLIC PRESENTATIONS

PLETT OCEAN FEST

In 2024, Plett Shark Spotters proudly shared our work at local, regional, and international levels. We presented at key events such as the Plett Marine Science Symposium and participated in the Mission Blue South African Hope Spot Tour, where we had the honour of presenting our work to renowned oceanographer Dr. Sylvia Earle. We also hosted several local shark awareness sessions for coastal user groups in Plettenberg Bay, helping to grow a more ocean-conscious community.

Internationally, Sarah Waries represented the Plett Shark Spotters as a plenary speaker at White Sharks Global in Australia—a significant honour and a testament to the credibility and reach of our work. These opportunities not only raised awareness of our unique program but also helped build global connections around ocean safety, conservation, and community science.

FINANCES

2024 FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

For the first time since our inception in 2022, Plett Shark Spotters finished the financial year (30 June 2024) with our income exceeding our expenses - a huge achievement! A small operating surplus allowed us to repay a portion of our debt to Cape Town Shark Spotters, reducing it R 183 558 from R 286 721 in the previous financial year.

1 JUL 2023 - 30 JUN 2024 FINANCIAL POSITION:

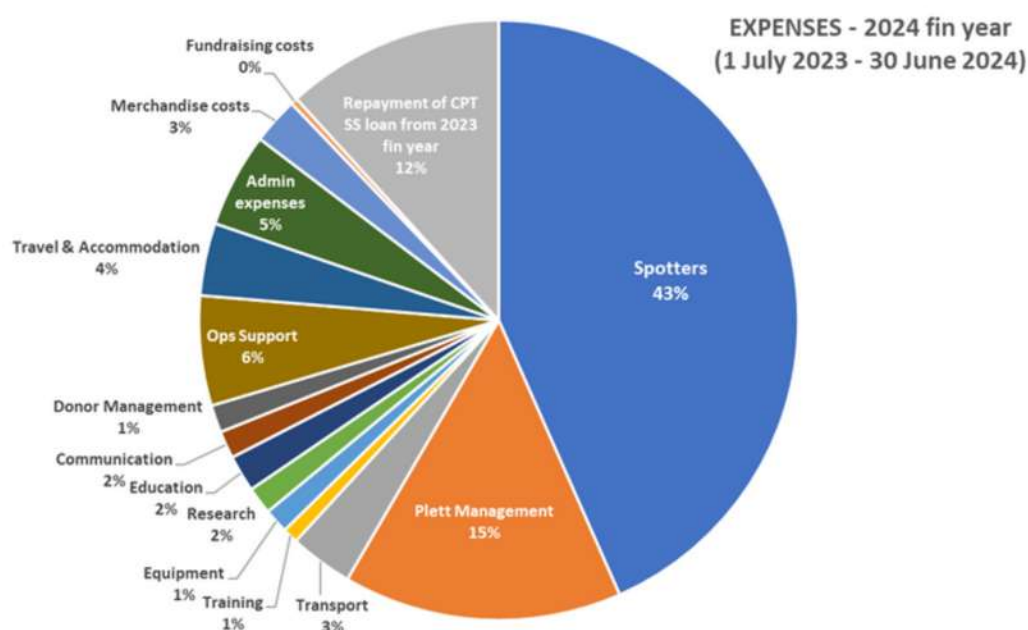

Income - R 2 251 776

Expenses - R 2 110 056

Operating surplus - R 141 720

Loan balance to CPT SS as of 30 June 2024 - R 183 558

We would like to thank everyone who contributed to the programme in the 2024 financial year for their incredible support with special mention to Bitou Municipality, Save Our Seas Foundation, Sanlam Ltd, the Lubner Foundation, Hunter Hotels, Whale Rock and Robberg Beach End estates, John Duthrie, Ian Landell, Plett Country Club, Avalon, the Old Rectory, Global Village and the Mermaid and Surfers Balls.

Employment of Bitou locals

accounted for 68% of operating expenses in the 2024 financial year

In December 2024, through an astounding fundraising effort by the family of Kimon Bisogno, who was one of the tragic shark bite deaths in Plett in 2022, and additional funds raised from The Mermaid Ball, we were able to purchase a second-hand vehicle for the programme! We are finally mobile and can expand our reach through education and awareness as well as being able to respond to issues in the field timeously. A massive thanks to all involved!

2025 FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

1 July 2024 - 30 June 2025

OPERATING BUDGET

= R 2 573 139

This budget includes an inflationary based increase for all staff members as well as the addition of a spotter at Robberg 5 beach as a dedicated safety officer.

Plett Shark Spotters' plans for 2025 included expanding our reach and impact through more spotting, more research and more education events. After the success in fundraising in 2024 we expected to be able to source adequate income to fund all of these efforts and therefore went full steam ahead.

Unfortunately, our income for the year has not matched our enthusiasm and due to a number of factors, including a reduction in funding from Bitou Municipality and Sanlam Foundation due to budgetary constraints, we find ourselves in a precarious financial position once again.

With only three months left of the financial year we are looking at an operating shortfall of close to R1 million. At present this is being funded through a further interest free loan from Cape Town Shark Spotters, however they cannot sustain this level of support and we need to take urgent action to significantly increase our income ASAP.

SUPPORT URGENTLY NEEDED

INVEST IN PLETT BY SUPPORTING OUR SPOTTERS!

As winter approaches we expect white shark activity to increase significantly in Plett, as is normal for this time of year. It is therefore vital that spotting services continue uninterrupted to ensure water user safety and avoid the social, economic and environmental repercussions of shark bites on our local community.

We need to urgently raise R980,000 before 30 June 2025 - just under three months - to keep Plett Shark Spotters operational!

Please help us to raise enough funds to cover our operating shortfall and make sure we have spotters on Plett's beaches keeping locals and visitors safe. By making a recurring or one-off donation to Plett Spotters you are making a significant investment in the people, environment, and economy of our area.

ITEM C/6/196/05/25

BITOU MUNICIPALITY: THIRD GENERATION AIR QUALITY MANAGEMENT PLAN
(2025 – 2030)

Portfolio Comm: Strategic Services and Office of the MM

Demarcation: All Wards

File Ref: 9/1/3/7

Delegation: Council

Attachments: Annexure A – Bitou Municipality Air Quality Management Plan (Third Generation, 2025 – 2030)

Report from: Director: Planning and Development

Author: Environmental Management Officer

Date: 6 May 2025

PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

To table the Bitou Municipality: Third Generation Air Quality Management Plan (2025 – 2030) for approval and see for the designation of an Air Quality Officer.

BACKGROUND /DISCUSSION

In terms of Section 15(2), each municipality must include in its integrated development plan contemplated in Chapter 5 of the Municipal Systems Act, an Air Quality Management Plan (AQMP). Section 24 of the Constitution provides for the rights of citizens to an environment that is not harmful to their health or well-being. In terms of the National Environmental Management: Air Quality Act (NEMA: AQA, Act No. 39 of 2004) it is compulsory for each municipality to draft and adopt an Air Quality Management Plan which must align with the National Framework for Air Quality Management in South Africa.

Bitou Municipality entered into a Memorandum of Agreement with the Garden Route District Municipality to collectively, with the other local municipalities of the District, appoint a service provider to undertake the review of the previous Air Quality Management Plan, generate a third generation AQMP and to subject the Bitou AQMP to relevant and required public participation. Various stakeholder engagements and public participation occurred in August and November of 2024 with a public participation meeting held at the Piesang Valley Community Hall on the 7th of November 2024.

The third generation Bitou Municipality Air Quality Management Plan is hereby submitted for approval. Please find attached as Annexure A.

THIRD GENERATION AIR QUALITY MANAGEMENT PLAN

Annexure A is the third iteration of the Air Quality Management Plan (AQMP) for the Bitou Local Municipality, developed by Rayten Engineering Solutions (Pty) Ltd. The AQMP has several layers of aims, immediate objectives for the current iteration, and overarching goals with specific objectives derived from the Western Cape Province (WCP) AQMP framework. The AQMP is designed to ensure the sustained enforcement of air quality standards in alignment with the National Environmental Management: Air Quality Act (NEM: AQA, Act No. 39 of 2004), thereby promoting long-term environmental sustainability. The plan upholds the constitutional right of every citizen to live in a healthy, harm-free environment, as outlined in Section 24 of the Constitution of South Africa and reinforced by the NEM: AQA. It sets out clear methodologies and procedures for monitoring air pollution parameters in accordance with national, provincial, and local standards (Section 9), and includes the ongoing evaluation and enhancement of the municipality's air quality monitoring systems to ensure improved effectiveness (Section 24). Additionally, the AQMP seeks to revise and update protocols related to data collection, processing, quality control, and assurance to meet the legislative requirements outlined in Section 28 of the Act. It also emphasizes the importance of accurate interpretation and archiving of air quality reports in line with national guidelines. A key component of the plan involves the development of a comprehensive emissions inventory for the region, identifying and quantifying pollution sources using tools such as Geographic Information Systems (GIS), as specified in Section 29 of the NEM: AQA. Lastly, the AQMP commits to providing sustainable support and air quality management services to all stakeholders within the Bitou Local Municipality, ensuring broad compliance and participation in maintaining clean air standards as mandated by the Act.

The AQMP for the Bitou LM also adopts overarching Goals and their respective Objectives tailored to the municipality's specific context. These are aimed at ensuring that the Bitou LM can effectively contribute to improving air quality while meeting legal obligations. The goals are summarized as follows:

Goal 1: Implement the Air Quality Management Plan within Bitou Municipality to Enhance Air Quality Management

Focuses on building human resources for effective air quality management, including designating Air Quality Officers (AQOs) and strengthening their capacity. It also emphasizes cooperation between government spheres and securing adequate funding and resources.

- Implement the AQMP and ensure legislative compliance.
- Build air quality management capacity.
- Develop knowledge and specialised skills.

Goal 2: Compliance Monitoring and Enforcement of Air Quality Legislation, Policies and Regulations

Ensures the effective monitoring and enforcement of air quality regulations through the implementation of a Compliance and Enforcement Programme, including investigating illegal activities and promoting self-regulation.

- Compliance monitoring and enforcement
- Strengthen and enhance air quality complaints management.

Goal 3: Ensure effective and consistent air quality monitoring activities.

Focuses on establishing and maintaining systems for monitoring ambient air quality and emissions to assess compliance and track changes.

- Improve air quality monitoring.
- Management of Air Quality Information.

Goal 4: Enhance Air Quality Awareness and Corporative Governance

Emphasizes effective communication and engagement with stakeholders to raise awareness about air quality management and climate change response. It encourages collaboration with various groups and integrating air quality considerations into broader planning.

- Improve and enhance education and communication mechanisms.
- Strategies and programmes
- Enhance and ensure engagement with internal departments.

These goals and objectives provide the framework for the actions the Bitou LM plans to take to manage and improve air quality in the region over the next five years.

DESIGNATION OF AIR QUALITY OFFICER

In terms of Section 14(3) of the National Environmental Management: Air Quality Act, 2004 (Act 39 of 2004 as amended), each municipality must designate an Air Quality Officer(s) from its administration to be responsible for coordinating matters pertaining to air quality management in the municipality.

Bitou Local Municipality currently does not have a dedicated air quality department, and as a result, there are no staff members assigned exclusively to air quality management. This is largely due to the additional responsibilities carried by the designated Air Quality Officer (AQO). Furthermore, the municipality's designated AQO (Mr Douglas Baartman) resigned at the end of 2024, leaving the position vacant.

It is proposed that the Bitou Local Municipality designates the Environmental Management Officer to assume the responsibilities of the Air Quality Officer (AQO). This designation will ensure continuity in the implementation and oversight of air quality management functions as outlined in the National Environmental Management: Air Quality Act (Act No. 39 of 2004). The AQO will be responsible for coordinating air quality monitoring activities, reporting, stakeholder engagement, and compliance with relevant legislative requirements, thereby supporting the municipality's commitment to promoting a healthy and sustainable environment.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATION

The report covers general operations and does not have additional financial implications.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. Each municipality must include an Air Quality Management Plan (AQMP) in its Integrated Development Plan (IDP) as per Chapter 5 of the Municipal Systems Act.

Section 6: Development and Planning

2. The NEM: AQA requires all municipalities to draft and adopt an AQMP that aligns with National Framework for Air Quality Management in South Africa.

I would like to thank Mrs Elanie Van Staden for her guidance and support during the initiation stages of the project.

I would also like to express my appreciation to my colleague, Mr. Victor Wepener, whose contributions to the emissions inventory calculations and the creation of all maps included in the Air Quality Management Plan were instrumental in the completion of this project.

Furthermore, I extend my gratitude to my manager, Mr. Christopher Rankin, for his unwavering guidance and support throughout the course of this project.

Lastly, I would like to thank each individual who participated in the various PSC meetings, stakeholder engagements, and public participation sessions. It has been a privilege to collaborate with all those involved, and I deeply appreciate the collective effort and commitment demonstrated by everyone throughout this process.

FOREWORD FROM THE MAYOR OF THE GRDM

As the Executive Mayor of Garden route district Municipality, it is both an honour and a responsibility to oversee the well-being of our district and its residents. We are a vivacious district that thrives on progress, innovation, and collaboration. I am proud to announce the beginning of a crucial step toward a healthier future for everyone in our district: the renewal and development of our comprehensive 4th generation Air Quality Management Plan.

Air quality is fundamental to the health, safety, and quality of life for all those who call our district home. It influences the air we breathe, the environment we live in, and the health of our children, elderly, and vulnerable populations. With increased urbanization and industrial activity, it has never been more important to address the air we breathe in a meaningful way.

This Air Quality Management Plan is designed with a bold vision: to have air quality worthy of the name “Garden Route” and to ultimately reduce air pollution, protect vulnerable groups, and ensure sustainable development that balances growth with environmental stewardship. The plan will be a collaborative effort, drawing from data, scientific research, and input from residents, businesses, and environmental experts alike. This plan identified the sources of pollution, set actionable goals, and create programs that promote cleaner, healthier air.

Our commitment to this plan is not only about compliance with environmental standards but about ensuring that our district remains a place where people can live, work, and thrive. Cleaner air will lead to healthier communities, improved economic opportunities, and a more sustainable future for generations to come.

As we move forward, I encourage every member of our community to stay informed, get involved, and share your thoughts and concerns with us. Together, we can build a future where clean air is a shared reality for all.

Sincerely,

Alderman Andrew Stroebe

Executive Mayor: Garden Route District municipality

INTRODUCTION

1 INTRODUCTION

As per Section 24 of South Africa's Bill of Rights, citizens have the right to “an environment that is not harmful to their health and well-being, and to have the environment protected, for the benefit of present and future generations, through reasonable legislative and other measures that prevent pollution and ecological degradation; promote conservation; and secure ecologically sustainable development and use of natural resources while promoting justifiable economic and social development.”

Air quality in South Africa is governed under the National Environmental Management Air Quality Act, 2004 (Act No. 39, 2004) (NEM:AQA) and related legislation, for example the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) (Government Notice No. 1210, 2009). The NEM:AQA (Section 15(2)) requires municipalities to introduce Air Quality Management Plans (AQMPs) which are logical descriptions of interventions and required resources aimed at implementing strategies to achieve specific air quality objectives. Municipalities are required to include an AQMP as part of their Integrated Development Plans (IDP).

The Western Cape Province (WCP) consists of five district municipalities and one metropolitan municipality. The Garden Route District Municipality (GRDM) is one of the five district municipalities in the WCP, with the City of Cape Town classified as the metropolitan municipality. Within the GRDM there are seven local municipalities (or B-municipalities) namely, Bitou, George, Hessequa, Kannaland, Knysna, Mossel Bay and Oudtshoorn. According to the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa (RSA, 1996), a district municipality (DM) (or Category C Municipality) holds executive and legislative authority in an area with more than one local municipality, as is the case with the GRDM.

The primary goal of this project is to review and renew the Bitou local municipality (LM) AQMP, in accordance with chapter 3 of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39, 2004). This AQMP will mark the third iteration, indicating a commitment to continuous enhancement and adaptation in air quality management practices by the Bitou LM.

Five years have passed since the establishment of the 2019 AQMP (2nd generation AQMP), during which environmental conditions, regulatory standards, industries and developments may have evolved significantly. Therefore, this updated AQMP presents an opportune moment to reassess prevailing air quality challenges, identify emerging issues, and devise updated strategies to effectively address them.

In the interest of the B-municipalities in the GRDM, it is essential to foster proactive engagement between town planners and air quality officers regarding future developments within the region. Such collaboration is crucial for facilitating effective communication and for identifying potential areas of air pollution concern in relation to population density. Furthermore, this partnership will serve as a guide for upcoming developments, ensuring that considerations regarding the impact of these developments on air quality are integrated into the AQMP.

1.1 General aims of the Bitou LM AQMP

The main aims of the Bitou LM AQMP are:

- Ensure the sustained enforcement of air quality standards within the Bitou LM to promote environmental sustainability, as mandated by the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- Uphold the constitutional right of every citizen to live in a healthy environment, free from harm, as enshrined in the Bill of Rights (Section 24) of the Constitution of South Africa, 1996 and supported by the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- Define methodologies and procedures for monitoring pollution parameters aligned with national, provincial, and local standards, as stipulated by the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004) (Section 9).
- Evaluate and enhance the municipality's air quality monitoring system for improved effectiveness, in accordance with Section 24 of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- Revise protocols for data collection, processing, quality control, and assurance to ensure compliance with the requirements of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004) (Section 28).
- Update protocols for interpreting and archiving reports effectively, adhering to the guidelines set out in the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- Develop an emission inventory for the region, identifying sources and quantifying pollution using systems like the Geographic Information System (GIS), as per the Pollution Prevention Plan section (Section 29) of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- Provide sustainable support and services for air quality management to all stakeholders within the Bitou LM, ensuring compliance with Section 24 of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).

Immediate Objectives of this iteration of the AQMP:

- a) Conduct a comprehensive status quo assessment to identify pollution sources, assess ambient concentration of criteria pollutants such as Particulate Matter (PM), Sulphur Dioxide (SO₂), Nitrogen Dioxide (NO₂), Ozone (O₃), Benzene (C₆H₆), Lead (Pb), and Carbon Monoxide (CO), and evaluate potential human health impacts in the Bitou LM, in accordance with Section 24 of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- b) Compile an emissions inventory to identify and quantify sources of atmospheric pollution.
- c) Outline strategies for improving current air quality and propose recommendations for enhanced monitoring, as required by the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).
- d) Draft a comprehensive AQMP tailored to the Bitou LM's specific needs, guided by the provisions of the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004).

1.1.1 Review of Previous AQMP

The review of the previous AQMP adopts a structured approach, featuring a table dedicated to the Bitou LM. This table delineates the four overarching goals as set out in the previous AQMP, along with their corresponding objectives and detailed action points under each objective. Each action point is thoroughly addressed and, where necessary, explained comprehensively. There is a column dedicated to “the degree to which the action point was met” which is displayed as a number (0 to 3). The number scale was defined as follows:

- Zero (0), the action point was not addressed in any way during the past five years.

- One (1), the action point was considered and there was mention of the action point during the past five years, but nothing was done past this point.
- Two (2), the action point was considered and there were efforts made to achieve the goal, but the action point was not achieved in full.
- Three (3), the action point was achieved in full.

Rayten Engineering Solutions (Pty) Ltd (hereafter Rayten) conducted an interview with the Air Quality Officer (AQO) of the Bitou LM. To facilitate the participation of all involved, this interview was held via Microsoft Teams and recorded to ensure that no information was overlooked. The questioning followed a structured format based on the table outlined in this review document. A detailed account of the interview is provided.

The interview with Mr Douglas Baartman from the Bitou LM was productive. Mr Douglas Baartman has subsequently resigned as the local AQO and so this will need to be taken into account going forward. The GRDM is actively supporting the Bitou municipality as required, and the communication and collaboration between the GRDM and Bitou municipality are commendable.

The AQO mentioned that some of the objectives in the 2019 AQMP were less applicable to the local municipality and so this was taken into consideration during the assessment of the degree to which the action points were met in the Bitou LM (Table 1-1). At present, air quality issues are not given sufficient priority, and the department lacks adequate staffing to effectively address air quality concerns. Should this be remedied, this would provide valuable support and enhance the municipality's capacity to oversee and improve air quality initiatives.

1.1.1.1 Assessment

This review considers the degree to which each action point was met by the Bitou LM, as seen in the table above (Table 1-1). The Bitou LM achieved 51.0% of their goals. This was calculated by adding the values in the “degree to which AP met” column in the table above and then dividing that number by the total number of “points” the Bitou LM could have achieved, had all action points been met to the fullest. It is important to note that some of the action points above were given a N/A (not applicable) score. These APs were not considered in the calculation described above.

1.1.1.2 Changes in the Operating Environment

There are various factors that can influence the achievement of goals set out in the 2nd generation AQMP. One of those factors include the changes in the operating environment, which are discussed below (Table 1-2).

Table 1-2: Changes in the operating environment, challenges experienced by the municipality and requests pertaining to areas of need within the air quality department in the Bitou LM.

Municipality	Changes	Challenges	Requests
Bitou	The previous AQO resigned (November 2024).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The national lockdown associated with COVID-19 influenced the working environmental and operational procedures, therefore influencing the timeframes. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Designation of a new AQO. Intern and/or specialised personnel that can dedicate all their time to air quality. Training for those in the air quality department.

Municipality	Changes	Challenges	Requests
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Understaffed. Air quality not taken seriously at the local level. Not enough resources to deal with air quality properly (budget, by-laws, etc). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Workshop with councillors at provincial level to raise awareness about air quality and to elaborate on problems faced by AQOs.

1.1.1.3 Conclusion

The Bitou LM demonstrated a commendable effort in achieving their set goals. Their active participation in air quality management, particularly through consistent communication with the GRDM and attendance at most AQOF meetings, highlights their commitment to improving air quality. While there is room for further progress, their efforts thus far reflect a positive direction toward fulfilling their environmental responsibilities. Moving forward, continued focus on overcoming challenges and enhancing performance will be key to achieving greater success in the goals set out in this AQMP.

REGULATORY BACKGROUND

2 REGULATORY BACKGROUND

The regulatory framework within an AQMP in South Africa provides the foundation for managing and improving air quality through a structured set of laws, regulations, and policies. Central to this framework is the NEM:AQA, which establishes the legal basis for air quality standards and emissions control in South Africa. The Act is supported by various regulations and standards issued by the DFFE and gives rise to the need for local legislation, like by-laws, to better control air quality in a particular region.

2.1 National Environmental Management: Air Quality Act 39 of 2004

The NEM:AQA, 2004 (Act No. 39 of 2004) represents a pivotal shift in South Africa's approach to air quality management, supplanting the former Atmospheric Pollution Prevention Act (No. 45 of 1965) (APPA). While it is evident that NEM:AQA has been in practice since 2004, it is important to understand that this legislative framework adopts an integrated effects-based management strategy, diverging from the previous emphasis solely on source-based control. Its core objectives encompass ensuring the protection and enhancement of air quality, preventing air pollution and ecological degradation, and facilitating ecologically sustainable development while promoting equitable economic and social progress.

Central to the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004) is the affirmation of every individual's right to an environment that preserves their health and well-being. This fundamental right underscores the Act's commitment to implementing measures that not only mitigate the impacts of air pollution but also foster a sustainable balance between environmental conservation and socio-economic development. It establishes a National Framework for Air Quality Management to guide policy and regulatory efforts across the country. The Act makes provision for the formulation of NAAQS for “substances or mixtures of substances which present a threat to health, well-being or the environment” (Act No. 39, 2004). At various levels of government, including national, provincial, and municipal, the act mandates the appointment of AQOs charged with coordinating air quality management initiatives. These officers play a pivotal role in the development, implementation, and monitoring of AQMPs, which outline specific strategies tailored to local environmental conditions and socio-economic contexts.

There are various provisions within the NEM:AQA, namely, a) Listed Activities, b) AELs, c) Controlled Emitters, d) Priority Pollutants, e) Ambient Air Quality Monitoring, and f) AQMPs.

- a) Listed Activities: These are activities defined as “activities which result in atmospheric emissions, which have or may have a significant detrimental effect on the environment, including health, social conditions, economic conditions, ecological conditions and cultural heritage.” The South African Listed Activities were initially promulgated in 2010 (Government Notice No. 248, 2010), amended in 2013 (Government Notice No. 893, 2013) and further amended in 2015 (Government Notice No. 551, 2015), 2018 (Government Notice No. 1207, 2018) and 2020 (Government Notice No. 421, 2020). Examples of Listed Activities include combustion installations, the petroleum industry, carbonization and coal gasification, the metallurgical industry, mineral processing, and thermal treatment of hazardous and general waste.

- b) Atmospheric Emissions License (AEL): Any activity falling within the list of Listed Activities requires an AEL to operate. Consequences of unlawful conduct of a Listed Activity are set out in the NEM:AQA (Act No. 20, 2014). Municipalities are responsible for issuing these licenses and are required to “designate an air quality officer [AQO] to be responsible for coordinating matters pertaining to air quality management in the Municipality” (Act No. 39, 2005).
- c) Controlled Emitters: These are defined as “any appliance or activity, or any appliance or activity falling within a specified category...[that] result in atmospheric emissions which through ambient concentrations, bioaccumulation, deposition or in any other way present a threat to health or the environment or which the Minister or MEC reasonably believes presents such a threat” When an activity or an appliance has been deemed a Controlled Emitter, it must comply with the emission standards established for said activity or appliance.
- d) Priority Pollutants: The Minister may declare substances contributing to air pollution as priority pollutants. A Pollution Prevention Plan will be required by any industries emitting these pollutants. GHGs have been declared as priority pollutants (Government Notice No. 172, 2014).
- e) Ambient Air Quality Monitoring: The NEM:AQA introduces compulsory monitoring of ambient air quality. The National Framework for Air Quality Monitoring (NFAQM) legislates protocols, standards, and methodologies for monitoring air quality and comparison with NAAQS (Government Notice No. 1210, 2009) can guide decision making regarding air quality.
- f) Air Quality Management Plans (AQMPs): The DFFE, Air Quality directorate, provinces, and municipalities are required to introduce AQMPs outlining actions to achieve prescribed air quality standards. Municipalities include AQMPs as part of their IDPs. A summary of the air quality responsibilities and functions of national, provincial and local government are given below (Table 2-1) (adopted from the City of Mbombela, Chris Hani District and the Highveld Priority Area AQMPs and checked against the National Framework).

Overall, the NEM:AQA (No. 39 of 2004) plays a critical role in managing and protecting air quality in South Africa by establishing legal and institutional frameworks, setting standards and regulations, promoting monitoring and reporting, and ensuring compliance and enforcement with air quality requirements.

2.2 Local Legislation

According to Section 156(1) of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa (1996), a municipality has executive authority to administer local government matters related to air pollution as listed in Part B of Schedules 4 and 5. The district air quality functions have been designated through National Legislation and the National Framework for Air Quality Management in South Africa (2017), for example the Licensing function. This includes the power to establish and enforce by-laws, as specified in Section 156(2), provided they do not conflict with national or provincial legislation. The Municipal Systems Act (Act No. 32, 2000) and Municipal Financial Management Act (Act No. 56, 2003) require Municipalities to allocate budgets for and provide atmospheric environmental services. Furthermore, under the National Health Act (Act No. 61, 2003), Municipalities must appoint a health officer to investigate any conditions that may contravene Section 24(a) of the Constitution, ensuring the right to an environment not harmful to health. The Promotion of Access to Information Act (Act No. 2, 2000), in conjunction with Section 32 of the Constitution, guarantees access to information necessary for protecting environmental rights. Additionally, the Promotion of Administrative Justice Act (Act No. 3, 2000) ensures fair administrative action and the right to reasons for decisions affecting environmental conditions and pollution control measures.

According to Section 156(2) of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa (1996), a local municipality is allowed to create and enforce by-laws to effectively manage the issues within its jurisdiction, provided these regulations do not contradict national or provincial law. As per the allowance within the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, most of the local municipalities within the GRDM have created and enforced their own by-laws. The Bitou LM has an air quality management by-law as published in the WCP Gazette.

“The purpose and objectives of this by-law is: (a) to give effect to the right contained in section 24 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 by controlling air pollution within the area of the municipality’s jurisdiction; and (b) to ensure that air pollution is avoided, or where it cannot be altogether avoided, is minimized and remedied.”

Part II of this by-law considers the “Duty of Care” including reasonable measures to prevent air pollution. Part III considers the “Air Pollution Control Zone” including the declaration of air pollution control zones. Part IV considers the “Smoke Emissions from Premises other than Dwellings”, covering the application, prohibition, installation of fuel-burning equipment, operation of fuel-burning equipment, presumption, installation and operation of measuring equipment, monitoring and sampling and exemption. Part V considers “Smoke Emissions from Dwellings”. Part VI considers the “Emissions caused by Open Burning”. Part VII considers the “Emissions from Compressed Ignition Powered Vehicles” including the prohibition, stopping vehicles for inspection and testing, testing procedure, and repair notice. Part VIII considers “Emissions that Cause a Nuisance” including the prohibition, compliance notice and the steps to abate the nuisance. Part IX considers “Offensive Odours”, Part X considers “Dust Nuisance”, Part XI considers “Fume Nuisance” and Part XII considers “Pesticide Spraying Emissions”. Part XIII considers “General Provisions” including appeal, municipality and state bound, conflict, offences and penalties, exemptions, savings, repeal of by-laws, and the short title and commencement.

CRITERIA POLLUTANTS & ASSOCIATED HEALTH IMPACTS

3 CRITERIA POLLUTANTS & ASSOCIATED HEALTH IMPACTS

Criteria pollutants are a set of air pollutants identified by regulatory agencies as having significant impacts on public health, as well as the environment. These pollutants are regulated under air quality standards and guidelines to protect human health (WHO, 2021).

3.1 National Ambient Air Quality Standards

National Ambient air quality standards (NAAQS) in South Africa are critical components of the country's air quality management framework, designed to protect public health, the environment, and the economy from the harmful effects of air pollution. These standards, set by the DFFE under the NEM:AQA (No. 39 of 2004), establish permissible concentration limits for a range of criteria pollutants (mentioned above). The criteria pollutants are typically monitored and regulated by environmental agencies, as is the case in South-Africa. The NAAQS, including permitted frequencies of exceedance and compliance timeframes, were issued by the Minister of Water and Environmental Affairs in December 2009 (Table 3-1). The ambient air quality standards serve as a benchmark for monitoring air quality across the country and are essential for guiding policy development, regulatory enforcement, and ensuring compliance with health-based thresholds. These standards are also integral to the successful implementation of air quality management plans, providing clear targets to reduce pollution and improve air quality at both the national and local levels. Each criteria pollutant is discussed in greater detail.

3.1.1 Sulphur Dioxide (SO_2)

The World Health Organisation (WHO, 2021) describes SO_2 as a colourless gas with a sharp, irritating odour that originates from the combustion of sulphur-containing fuels. It is prevalent in urban areas historically using coal for heating or industrial purposes. Health effects associated with exposure to SO_2 are also associated with the respiratory system (Orellano et al. 2021). Being soluble, SO_2 is readily absorbed in the mucous membranes of the nose and upper respiratory tract.

Short-term health impacts

Overall, SO_2 can impact the respiratory system, aggravate asthma and cause eye irritation (Orellano et al. 2021; WHO, 2021). More specifically, acute or short-term exposure of SO_2 concentrations can lead to severe bronchoconstriction in some individuals, while others remain completely unaffected. Response to SO_2 inhalation is rapid with the maximum effect experienced within a few minutes. Continued exposure does not increase the response. Effects of SO_2 exposure are short-lived with lung function returning to normal within a few minutes to hours (Orellano et al. 2021; WHO, 2000 and 2021). Exposure to SO_2 from 10 minutes to 24-hours should ideally not exceed $20 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$ to avoid adverse health effects (WHO, 2021). Previous studies of health impacts in ambient air polluted by industrial and vehicular activities, have demonstrated, at low levels, effects on mortality (total, cardiovascular and respiratory) and increases in hospital admissions. The specific thresholds may vary based on regional and population characteristics.

Long-term health impacts

Prolonged exposure to elevated levels of SO_2 can contribute to chronic respiratory conditions such as bronchitis and reduced lung function over time. There is evidence suggesting that chronic exposure to sulphur dioxide may also be linked to cardiovascular diseases, although the specific mechanisms are not fully elucidated (Kobayashi et al. 2020; WHO, 2021). The health effects of long-term SO_2 exposure can vary depending on individual susceptibility, duration of exposure, and presence of other pollutants. Therefore, impacts may differ across regions and populations.

3.1.2 Nitrogen Dioxide (NO_2)

The WHO (2021) describes NO_2 as a reddish-brown gas with a sharp, biting odour, that is formed through the oxidation of nitric oxide (NO). It is a potent oxidant that can form nitric acid and contribute to PM pollution through atmospheric reactions. It is emitted from combustion of stationary sources (heating, power generation) and from motor vehicles. NO_2 is an irritating gas that is absorbed into the mucous membrane of the respiratory tract. The most adverse health effect occurs at the junction of the conducting airway and the gas exchange region of the lungs. The upper airways are less affected as NO₂ is not very soluble in aqueous surfaces. Exposure to NO₂ is linked with increased susceptibility to respiratory infection, increased airway resistance in asthmatics and decreased pulmonary function (Faustini et al. 2014; WHO, 2000 and 2021).

Short-term health impacts

Overall, NO₂ causes respiratory system irritation, exacerbation of asthma and increased respiratory infections. More specifically, short term exposure of NO₂ (1 hour), at concentrations greater than 200 µg/m³ can lead to increased respiratory symptoms in sensitive individuals. The WHO recommends that for 24-hour exposure, a guideline value of 40 µg/m³ should be used to avoid adverse health effects from exposure to NO₂. Some symptoms may include coughing, wheezing, shortness of breath and throat irritation. In more extreme cases NO₂ exposure can increase susceptibility to bronchitis and pneumonia (Faustini et al. 2014; WHO, 2021).

Long-term health impacts

Long-term exposure to NO₂ is associated with the development and aggravation of Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD), reduced lung function, an increased risk of cardiovascular diseases like hypertension and ischemic heart disease, as well as respiratory mortality, particularly from lung cancer (Faustini et al. 2014; WHO, 2021). Long-term epidemiological studies have been undertaken on the indoor use of gas cooking appliances and health effects. Recent studies have shown that indoor gas cooking can contribute to indoor NO₂ levels, which can impact respiratory health, particularly in vulnerable in populations. Children aged 5 – 12 years have a 20% increased risk for respiratory symptoms and disease for each increase of 28 µg/m³ NO₂ concentration, where the weekly average concentrations are in the range of 15 – 128 µg/m³. Outdoor studies consistently indicate that children with long-term ambient NO₂ exposures exhibit increased respiratory symptoms that are of a longer duration. Current WHO guidelines and subsequent studies have shown that long-term exposure to NO₂ is associated with a range of health effects in adults, including respiratory and cardiovascular outcomes (WHO, 2021).

3.1.3 Particulate Matter (PM)

The WHO (2021) describes PM as a complex mixture of solid and liquid particles suspended in the air. These particles vary in size, shape, and chemical composition, and they can originate from both natural and human-made sources. Research (Chen & Hoek, 2020) has shown that the ability of PM to cause harm, depends on its characteristics (size, shape, chemical composition, source) (WHO, 2021). Particulate matter is categorised based on its aerodynamic diameter. Particles with a diameter of 10 micrometres or less are known as PM₁₀ or coarse particles. Particles with a diameter of 2,5 micrometres or less are known as PM_{2.5} or fine particles. The coarse particles mostly contain earth crust materials and fugitive dust from roads and industries (Harrison and Van Grieken 1998; Fenger 2002). The fine particles mostly contain secondary formed aerosols such as sulphates and nitrates, combustion particles and re-condensed organic and metal vapours. In terms of health impacts, particulate air pollution is associated with effects on the respiratory system (WHO, 2000 and 2021). When looking at human health, particle size is an important factor to consider because it controls where in the respiratory system a given particle will be deposited. Fine particles are thought to be more damaging to human health than coarse particles, as larger particles do not penetrate deep into the lungs compared to smaller particles. Larger particles are deposited into the extra thoracic part of the respiratory tract while smaller particles are deposited into smaller airways that lead to the respiratory bronchioles (WHO, 2000).

Short-term health impacts

Overall, PM affects the respiratory system and can have cardiovascular effects (WHO, 2021). More specifically, previous studies suggest that short-term exposure to particulate matter leads to adverse health effects, even at low concentrations of exposure (below $100 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$). Morbidity effects associated with short-term exposure to particulates include increases in lower respiratory symptoms, medication use and small reductions in lung function. Exposure to $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ can lead to increased cardiovascular events like heart attacks and strokes (Morakinyo et al. 2020; WHO, 2021). Those particularly vulnerable are the elderly or children with existing heart or lung diseases.

Long-term health impacts

Long-term exposure to low concentrations ($10 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$) of particulates is associated with mortality and other chronic effects such as increased rates of bronchitis, reduced lung function, hypertension, ischemic heart disease and lung cancer (WHO, 2000 and 2021). Those most at risk include the elderly, individuals with pre-existing heart or lung disease, asthmatics and children.

3.1.4 Ozone (O_3)

The WHO (2021) describes O_3 as an odourless, colourless gas made up of three oxygen molecules. Ozone and other photochemical oxidants are pollutants formed in the atmosphere through complex reactions involving nitrogen dioxide NO_2 and volatile organic compounds (VOCs), especially unsaturated ones.

Short-term health impacts

Short-term exposure to O_3 should not exceed an average concentration of $100 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$ (50 parts per billion, ppb) over a 1-hour period. Exposure above this level can lead to respiratory irritation, causing symptoms such as coughing and throat irritation, and exacerbate conditions like asthma and COPD (Morakinyo et al. 2020; WHO, 2021).

Long-term health impacts

When it comes to long-term exposure to O_3 , WHO advises that the average ozone concentration over an 8-hour period should not exceed $50 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$ (25 ppb) annually. Prolonged exposure to ozone above this guideline can contribute to the development and progression of chronic respiratory diseases, such as chronic bronchitis and emphysema (Morakinyo et al. 2020; WHO, 2021). In severe cases, long-term exposure to ozone may also increase the risk of mortality due to respiratory and cardiovascular diseases (Zhang et al. 2019).

3.1.5 Benzene (C₆H₆)

The WHO (2021) does not classify C₆H₆ as a criteria health pollutant; however, it is the only VOCs that is legislated in terms of the South African NEM:AQA (Act No. 34 of 2004) and is a well-known carcinogen. Essentially, benzene can be described as a colourless, flammable liquid with a sweet odour. It is one of the simplest aromatic hydrocarbons and is highly volatile, which means it easily evaporates into the air.

Short-term health impacts

Short-term exposure to C₆H₆ can cause acute toxicity where dizziness, headaches, nausea and vomiting can occur. It can also affect the Central Nervous System (CNS) where common symptoms include dizziness, headaches and confusion which could impair cognitive function coordination and decision-making abilities (Moy, 2005; Lourens et al. 2019; WHO, 2021).

Long-term health impacts

Long-term exposure to C₆H₆ increases the risk of cancer, particularly Acute Myeloid Leukaemia (AML), blood disorders, immunotoxicity and can have reproductive and developmental effects (WHO, 2021).

3.1.6 Lead (Pb)

The WHO (2021) does not describe Pb as a criteria pollutant, however, it is legislated in terms of the South African NEM:AQA (Act No. 34 of 2004) where it is described as a heavy metal element, naturally occurring in the Earth's crust. Lead is typically found in various forms, including lead compounds and alloys.

Short-term health impacts

Short-term exposure to Pb can lead to acute toxicity where abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting and diarrhoea are common symptoms. Exposure to Pb is also toxic to the CNS where irritability, difficulty concentrating, memory loss and mood changes are common symptoms. Lastly, exposure to Pb can affect the liver and kidneys leading to dysfunction and organ damage (Batterman et al. 2011).

Long-term health impacts

Long-term exposure to Pb, particularly during critical periods of foetal development and early childhood, can have serious and lasting effects on neurodevelopment and behaviour, where problems may include attention deficits, hyperactivity, impulsivity, aggression, and antisocial behaviour. Long-term exposure to Pb can also cause cardiovascular problems which promote oxidative stress, inflammation, and endothelial dysfunction. Lastly, long-term exposure to Pb can cause damage to renal tubules, impairing the kidney's ability to filter waste products and maintain fluid and electrolyte balance (Batterman et al. 2011).

3.1.7 Carbon Monoxide (CO)

The WHO (2021) describes CO as a colourless, odourless and tasteless gas. It is primarily produced through incomplete combustion of carbon-containing fuels, and it has a low solubility in water.

Short-term health impacts

Short-term exposure to CO can cause the CO to move into the human body where it reaches the lungs. When this happens, it diffuses rapidly across the alveolar and capillary membranes and binds reversibly with the haem proteins. Approximately 80 – 90% of CO binds to haemoglobin to form carboxyhaemoglobin. This causes a reduction in the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood which leads to hypoxia as the body is starved of oxygen. Severe hypoxia due to acute poisoning results in headaches, nausea and vomiting, muscular weakness, loss of consciousness and shortness of breath (Levy, 2015; WHO, 2021).

Long-term health impacts

Long-term exposure to CO can lead to more severe poisoning. This may cause both reversible, short-lasting neurological deficits and severe, often delayed, neurological damage. Neurobehavioral effects include impaired co-ordination, tracking, driving ability, vigilance and cognitive ability. Chronic exposure can also lead to cardiovascular effects, like an increased risk of heart disease (Levy, 2015; WHO, 2000 and 2021).

3.2 National Dust Control Regulations

The DEA issued National Dust Control Regulations (NDCR) on 1 November 2013 (Table 3-2). The updated NDCR, published on 25 May 2018, emphasizes not only monitoring but also proactive management of dust emissions to ensure compliance and mitigate adverse impacts on air quality and public health. The regulations prohibit activities which give rise to dust in such quantities and concentrations that the dustfall at the boundary or beyond the boundary of the premises where it originates exceeds:

- a) 600 mg/m²/day averaged over 30 days in residential areas (SANS 1137)
- b) 1 200 mg/m²/day averaged over 30 days in non-residential areas (SANS 1137)

Table 3-2: South African National Dust Control Regulations.

Restriction Areas	Dustfall Rate (D) ⁽¹⁾	Frequency of Exceedance
Residential Areas	$D < 600 \text{ mg/m}^2/\text{day}$	Two within a year, no two sequential months ⁽²⁾
Non-residential areas	$600 < D < 1200 \text{ mg/m}^2/\text{day}$	Two within a year, no two sequential months ⁽²⁾

Notes:

- (1) Averaged over 1 month (30±2-day average) (mg/m²/day)
- (2) Per dustfall monitoring site.

Any site exceeding the dustfall standards must develop and submit a Dust Management Plan (DMP) to the air quality officer within three months of a non-compliance notification. The DMP must include:

- Identification of dust sources: Comprehensive identification of all sources of dust emissions within the affected site.
- Mitigation measures: Detailing the best practicable measures to mitigate dust emissions, ensuring they are effective and feasible.
- Implementation schedule: Development of a clear timeline and schedule for implementing the mitigation measures.
- Responsibility assignment: Identification of management personnel responsible for overseeing and implementing the DMP.
- Dustfall monitoring plan: Incorporation of a detailed plan for ongoing dustfall monitoring to track effectiveness of mitigation efforts.
- Complaints register: Establishment of a register to record all complaints received regarding dustfall, including follow-up actions and responses to complainants.

The DMP must be implemented within a month of the date of approval. An implementation progress report must be submitted to the air quality officer at agreed time intervals. Community engagement, education and training should take place for both the local community and personnel involved. By focusing on these management aspects, the updated NDCR aim to not only monitor dustfall but also proactively manage and mitigate dust emissions to safeguard public health and environmental quality effectively.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE AREA

4 GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE AREA

The meteorological data, area, population distribution, and future developments are discussed in greater detail to provide context for the Bitou LM for the AQMP.

4.1 Meteorological Data

The meteorological information covers the air circulation, wind fields, precipitation, temperature, solar radiation and relative humidity in the GRDM, including the Bitou LM, over a few years. This data considered pertains to the whole GRDM as there is no specific meteorological data that covers the Bitou LM only.

4.1.1 Air Circulation

The dynamics of atmospheric circulations at both macroscale and mesoscale levels exert significant influence on airflow patterns and the dispersion of pollutants across Southern Africa. The region's climate is largely governed by three semi-permanent, subtropical high-pressure cells (Figure 4-1), which dominate throughout the year (Tyson and Preston-Whyte, 2000; Jackson, 2012; Jury, 2018). These anticyclonic systems induce stable, clear conditions due to subsidence, particularly pronounced over the interior plateau during winter. This subsidence leads to the formation of stable layers in the atmosphere, inhibiting vertical pollutant transport and contributing to phenomena like surface inversions that trap pollutants near ground level (Lo et al. 2006).

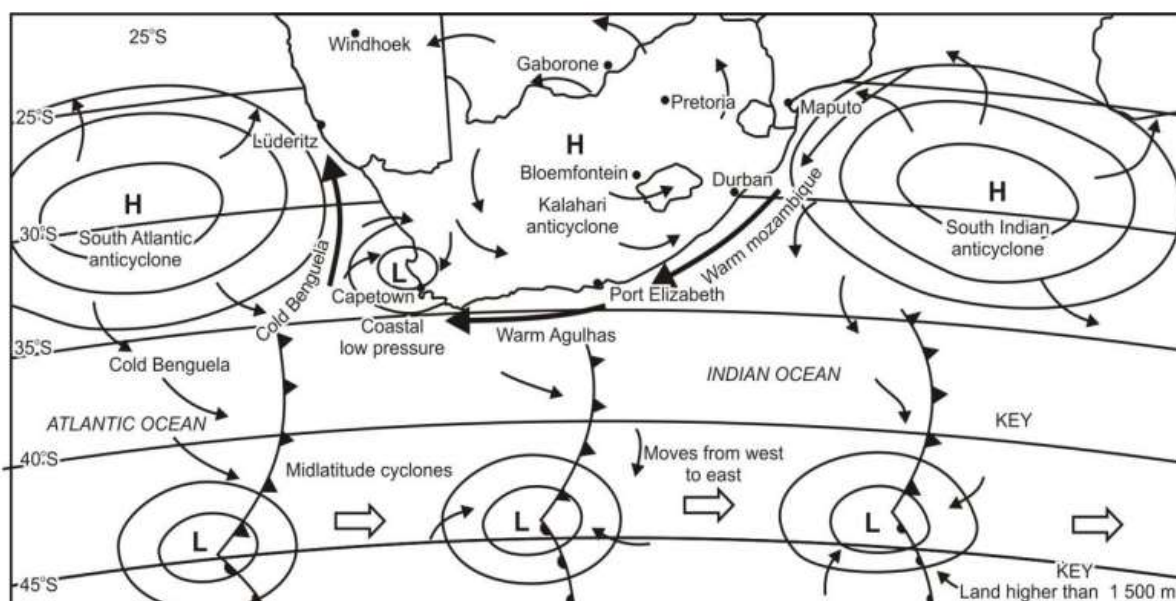

Figure 4-1: Air circulation in and around South-Africa (www.learnxtra.co.za: Section three: Factors that influence weather in South Africa).

Macroscale atmospheric circulations encompass a variety of systems. Easterly waves (Figure 2), prevalent during the summer months, generate strong uplift and instability due to surface convergence and upper-level divergence (Figure 4-2) (Tyson and Preston-Whyte, 2000; Jackson, 2012; Jury, 2018). These disturbances often result in significant rainfall in affected areas, contrasting with dry conditions ahead and west of their tracks. In contrast, westerly disturbances such as westerly waves (Figure 4-1), cut-off lows, and cold fronts are more frequent in winter (Tyson and Preston-Whyte, 2000; Jackson, 2012; Jury, 2018). They bring stable conditions preceding their arrival, followed by cloudiness and precipitation as they pass through the region, typically following a south-eastward trajectory into the Indian Ocean.

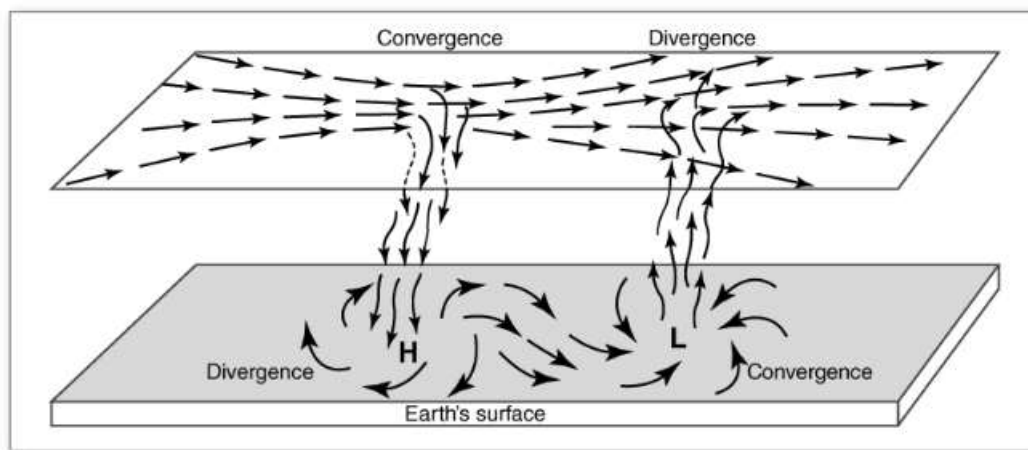

Figure 4-2: The relationship between horizontal and vertical motion in the troposphere (chegg.com).

At the mesoscale, local circulations are influenced by spatial temperature and pressure gradients, as well as topographic features like slopes and valleys (Atkinson, 1981). Diurnal variations on slopes contribute to the formation of anabatic (upslope) flows during the day and katabatic (downslope) flows at night (Figure 4-3). These local winds play a crucial role in the accumulation and dispersal of pollutants, with downslope flows often associated with the formation of frost hollows and fog accumulation (Atkinson, 1981). Similarly, valley circulations are influenced by valley orientation and daily heating patterns. For instance, east-west valley's experience up-slope winds in the morning and down-slope winds in the evening, while north-south valleys exhibit more complex flow patterns that can vary seasonally (Tyson and Preston-Whyte, 2000; Jackson, 2012; Jury, 2018).

Mountain-plain and plain-mountain winds further influence regional airflow dynamics, facilitating the transport of pollutants between cooler mountainous regions and warmer plains. These winds exhibit seasonal variations, with mountain winds predominating in winter when cooling is most pronounced, and valley winds dominating in summer when heating effects are strongest (Figure 4-3) (Tyson and Preston-Whyte, 2000; Jackson, 2012; Jury, 2018). These complex interactions between local and regional atmospheric circulations underscore their critical role in shaping meteorological conditions and the dispersion patterns of pollutants across Southern Africa.

Overall while macroscale circulations dictate broader weather patterns and precipitation trends, mesoscale circulations play a pivotal role in local airflow dynamics and the transport of pollutants within specific geographic features. Understanding these interactions is essential for effective air quality management and pollution control strategies in the region.

4.1.2 Wind Fields

The wind fields in the GRDM were characterized based on the surface meteorological weather data received from the GRDM from 2016 to 2023. From this data, wind roses were created that summarise the strength, direction and frequency of winds in the GRDM (Figure 4-4). Each directional branch on the wind rose represents wind originating from that direction and is divided into segments of colour, representing different wind speeds.

In 2023, wind patterns exhibited notable variations across different directions and times of day. Approximately 15% of winds came from a Westerly direction, while 12% originated from a West-North-Westerly direction. Similarly, 15% of the winds were from an Easterly direction. Among the highest wind speeds, which ranged from 7.5 to 14.45 m/s, 5% were from the East. During nighttime, wind directions included 13% from the West, 13% from the West-North-Westerly direction, and 13% from the East. Notably, 3% of the highest wind speeds at night were from the East.

Daytime wind patterns showed that 14% of the winds came from the West and 13% from the East. During this period, 4% of the highest wind speeds were recorded from the East. Seasonal variations were also observed: in spring, 16% of winds originated from the East, with 5% of the highest wind speeds coming from this direction. In summer, 22% of winds were from the East, and 4% of the highest wind speeds were recorded from this direction.

Autumn wind patterns indicated that 14% of winds came from the West and 14% from the West-North-Westerly direction. During this season, 3% of the highest wind speeds were from the East. Winter winds showed a different trend, with 22% originating from the West and 20% from the West-North-Westerly direction. In this season, 2% of the highest wind speeds were recorded from the West.

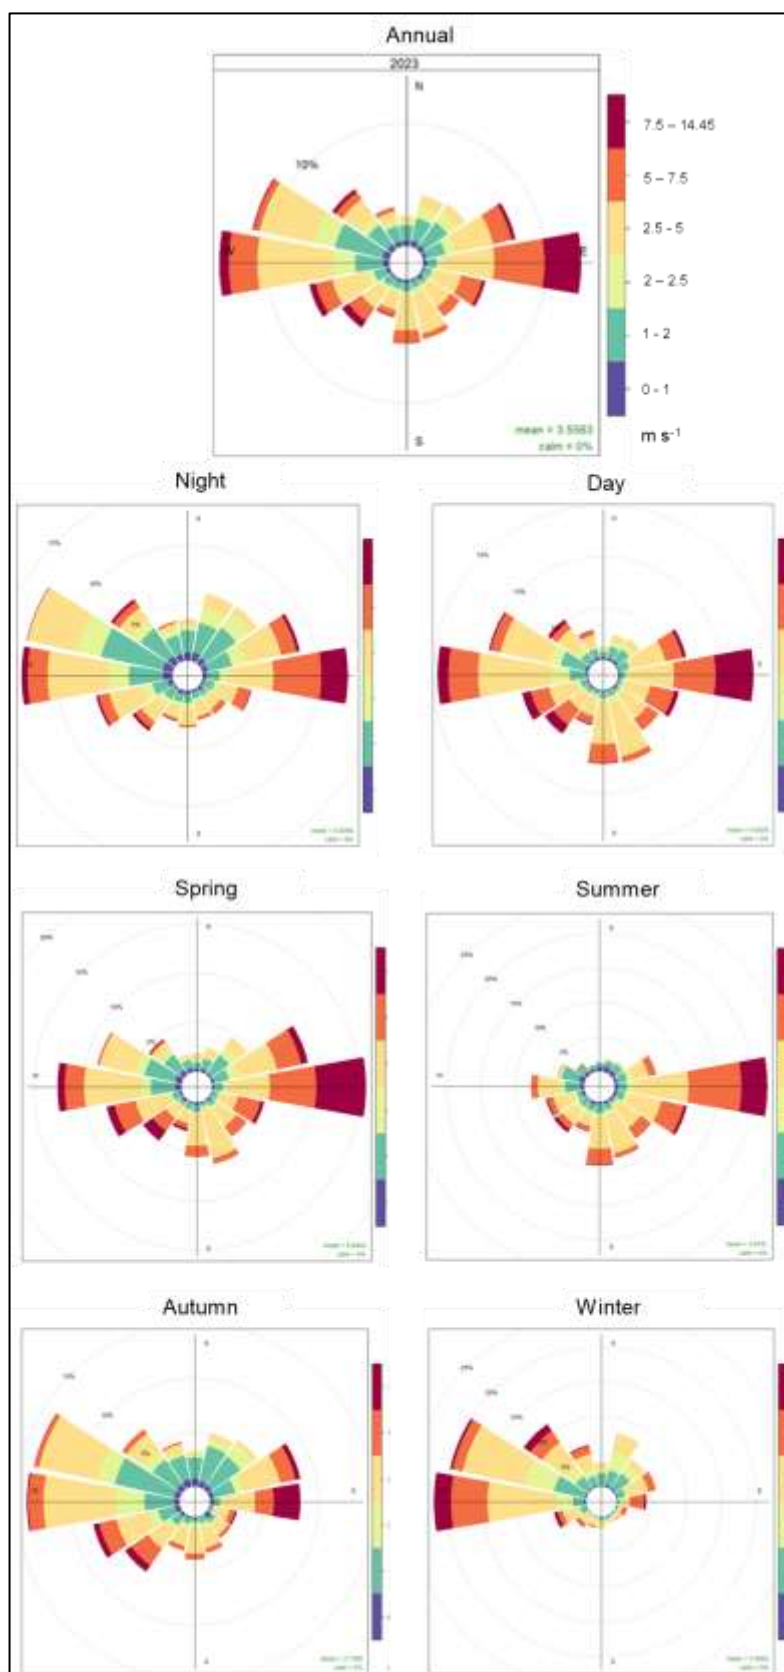

Figure 4-4: Wind roses to depict the wind strength, direction and frequency in the GRDM in 2023. Annual, day and night and seasonal wind roses are illustrated.

4.1.3 Precipitation

There is no reliable precipitation data for the GRDM. The below figures are historical rainfall maps obtained from South African Weather Service (SAWS) depicting the precipitation in South Africa from 2020 to 2024 (Figure 4-5) and for each month in the year 2023 (Figure 4-6).

In the year 2023, it is evident that the GRDM received most of its rainfall, ranging from 100 to 500 mm, in March, May, September and October (Figure 4-6).

4.1.4 Temperature and Relative Humidity

The average daily maximum and minimum temperatures from 2020 to 2024 (Table 4-1) as well as the seasonal average daily maximum and minimum temperatures (Table 4-2), were calculated from the surface meteorological weather data received from the GRDM.

Table 4-1: Average daily maximum and minimum temperatures in the GRDM from 2020 to 2024.

2020	35	5
2021	31	5
2022	35	5,1
2023	35,6	4,41
2024	33,9	10,1

Season	Average maximum temperature (°C)	Average minimum temperature (°C)
Autumn	35,6	8
Spring	34	6,11
Summer	38	11
Winter	32,3	5

The average daily maximum relative humidity values reached 100% each year from 2020 to 2024, whereas the average daily minimum relative humidity values were the lowest at 13.8% in 2022 and the highest at 31.1% in 2024. An average maximum relative humidity of 100% was reached in each season for the year, 2023, and the average minimum relative humidity was lowest during springtime at 9% and highest during autumn at 16.8%. These values were calculated from the surface meteorological weather data received from the GRDM.

4.1.5 Solar Radiation

The solar radiation data depicted below is per season for the year 2023 in the GRDM (Figure 4-7 to Figure 4-11). It is an indication of the amount of the sun's energy that strikes the earth at a given point or location, and it is expressed as energy per unit area.

4.2 Geographical Area, Population Distribution & Future Developments

The Bitou LM mission is to “partner with communities and stakeholders to sustainably deliver quality services so that everyone in Bitou can live and prosper together.” Their vision is “To be the best together/ Om saam die beste te wees/ Sobalasela Sonke”. Air quality management in the municipality falls within this overall mission and vision.

The Bitou LM covers an area of about 992 square kilometres and is one of the seven local municipalities within the GRDM (Figure 4-12). It is the easternmost municipality on the coast of the WCP with the Bloukrans River forming its eastern border with the Eastern Cape Province (ECP). It is bordered by the George local municipality (GRDM) to the north-east and the Knysna local municipality (GRDM) to the east. The municipality has a population of 65 240 people, according to the 2022 Census (StatsSA).

A meeting took place on the 20th of August 2024, with the town planners and other stakeholders in the GRDM regarding future developments in the area. It was emphasised that the town planning and air quality departments need to work closely together moving forward. It is believed that this will mitigate many town planning and air quality related complaints.

There are no current future developments that could severely impact the air quality in the Bitou LM, but as noted in the stakeholder engagement meetings, it is vitally important for the town planning and air quality departments to work together as new developments arise in the region. This will better ensure that residential areas are not located near industries, landfills or wastewater treatment works, which could cause emission, odour, noise or health issues.

AMBIENT AIR QUALITY STATUS QUO

5 AMBIENT AIR QUALITY STATUS QUO

Ambient air quality involves measuring and assessing the concentration of pollutants in the surrounding air, providing an indication of the air quality status of the outdoor environment. In the George LM, there is one fixed monitoring station, in the Mossel Bay LM there is one fixed station, in the Oudtshoorn LM there is an Earhsense Zephyr mobile station, and one mobile station is rotated throughout the GRDM. There used to be a fixed monitoring station in Oudtshoorn LM, but it has been decommissioned. The data considered in this section pertains to the whole GRDM as there is no specific ambient data available for the Bitou LM only.

5.1 Trends in Ambient Air Quality Data

To better understand the trends in ambient air quality in the GRDM, the ambient data available from the South African Air Quality Information System (SAAQIS) was provided by the GRDM and displayed for the permanent and mobile stations, for 2022 to 2024, below.

5.1.1 Permanent Stations

The figures below display ambient air quality monitoring data from the George ambient station, the Mossel Bay ambient station and the Mobile monitoring station. It is important to note that the data has been displayed in 24-hour increments and so the daily threshold has been used, where applicable, as stipulated in NAAQS. The data was inspected before being analysed and plotted. This allowed for the removal of missing data as well as the identification of faulty sensors where unusual spikes in the data were observed. For NO₂, O₃, and CO there are no daily thresholds available in the NAAQS, only hourly thresholds. Therefore, to most accurately analyse this data, the maximum concentrations for NO₂, O₃, and CO were calculated. None of the maximum values exceeded the hourly threshold as set out in the NAAQS and so there was no need to display these pollutants per hour.

At the George ambient monitoring station there were no exceedances observed for SO₂, NO₂, O₃, or CO (Figure 5-1). No exceedances were observed for the PM_{2.5} data recorded at the George ambient station (Figure 5-2), while some exceedances were observed for PM₁₀ (Figure 5-2). This could be explained by the faulty sensor, that has since been replaced and is working correctly. The short black lines on the graphs indicate periods where there was missing or inaccurate data.

At the Mossel Bay ambient monitoring station only PM₁₀ data was analysed and recorded due to the lack of and faulty data observed for all other pollutants measured at this ambient station (Figure 5-3). There were several exceedances observed at the beginning of 2023. The PM₁₀ analyser, belonging to Eskom, was faulty and so it has not been operational, which explains the lack of and exceedance of data (Figure 5-3).

5.1.2 Mobile Stations

At the mobile ambient station, no exceedances were recorded for NO₂, O₃, and CO, but a few exceedances were observed for SO₂ (Figure 5-4). It is important to note that the data that was analysed and plotted for SO₂ was sporadic which may account for some of the exceedances, particularly if the ambient station was recalibrated at those points. No exceedances were recorded for PM₁₀ and PM_{2.5} at the mobile ambient station (Figure 5-5). It is important to remember that the mobile station is used for screening purposes only. The SAWS is notified when the mobile station is moved so that the correct locations can be plotted. It would be important to include the data from each location to which the mobile station was moved, going forward. No data was provided for the Oudtshoorn LM mobile station, but it would be important to include this when the data becomes available.

5.2 Air Quality Reporting

Air quality reporting encompasses many different aspects, including air quality management practices, air quality monitoring, as well as air quality modelling. Air quality management practices refer to all the activities that an AQO or air quality department undertakes to help protect human health and the environment from the harmful effects of air pollution. In the GRDM, air quality has been given due consideration as evidenced in the past three AQMP's. The GRDM has established air quality goals aligning with the provincial air quality goals, determined emissions reductions, developed control strategies, implemented programs and undertaken on-going evaluation. They are also able to best manage air quality in the GRDM by monitoring and modelling air quality on a regular basis.

Air quality monitoring is crucial for safeguarding public health and the environment by providing essential data on pollutant levels and their sources. Accurate and continuous monitoring helps identify pollution hotspots, assess compliance with regulatory standards, and track changes over time. This information is vital for developing and implementing effective air quality management strategies, informing policy decisions, and raising public awareness about air pollution. Within the garden route there are two fixed monitoring stations and two mobile units, one of which is rotated throughout the GRDM and the other that belongs to the Oudtshoorn LM, as mentioned above. The local municipalities do passive sampling where they are able to. Alternatively, the district steps in to assist. This is generally the case due to the small or non-existent budget for air quality in many of the local municipalities.

Air quality modelling is vital for predicting and understanding the dispersion and impact of air pollutants in various environments. By simulating how pollutants travel and transform in the atmosphere, models provide valuable insights into potential pollution hotspots and the effectiveness of control measures. This predictive capability helps inform policy decisions, design targeted interventions, and assess the potential outcomes of different regulatory scenarios. Additionally, air quality modelling supports emergency response planning by forecasting pollution events and their potential impacts, thereby enhancing public health protection and environmental stewardship. There is a comprehensive dispersion modelling system in the GRDM that is used for these purposes, but this often requires a lot of time and many resources. For this reason, an alternative approach was used to identify hotspots in the GRDM.

To best identify air pollutant hot spots in the GRDM, the TROPOspheric Monitoring Instrument (TROPOMI) was used for air quality reporting purposes. The TROPOMI is part of the European Space Agency's Sentinel-5 Precursor mission and is a cutting-edge satellite instrument designed for atmospheric monitoring. It boasts high resolution capabilities with a spatial resolution of 7 x 3.5 km², allowing for detailed observation of air quality and trace gases. The TROPOMI covers a wide spectral range from ultraviolet to shortwave infrared, providing comprehensive data on pollutants such as SO₂ (Figure 5-6, Figure 5-7, Figure 5-8 and Figure 5-9), NO₂ (Figure 5-10), CO (Figure 5-11), O₃ (Figure 5-12), formaldehyde (HCHO) (Figure 5-13), and aerosols (Figure 5-14).

The high spatio-temporal resolution of Sentinel-5 mission makes it a potential earth observation tool to monitor the change in select pollutants over a time period at any given area. The column density band of the TROPOMI was utilised to determine the averaged mol per m² of SO₂, NO₂, CO, O₃, and HCHO for the 2023 period over the GRDM, as well as the averaged Ultraviolet Aerosol Index (UVAI) for the same period.

To derive a rough estimation of the quantity of micrograms per cubic metre (µg/m³), certain parameters were assumed. The g/mol ratios for the different pollutants used were as follows:

- SO₂: 64.07 g/mol
- NO₂: 46.0055 g/mol
- CO: 28.01 g/mol
- O₃: 47.9982 g/mol

The pollutants, SO₂ and NO₂, were determined to be trapped at approximately 1000m above ground level whereas the CO and O₃ depth layers were taken from the top of the tropopause (14km) for the conversions to m³.

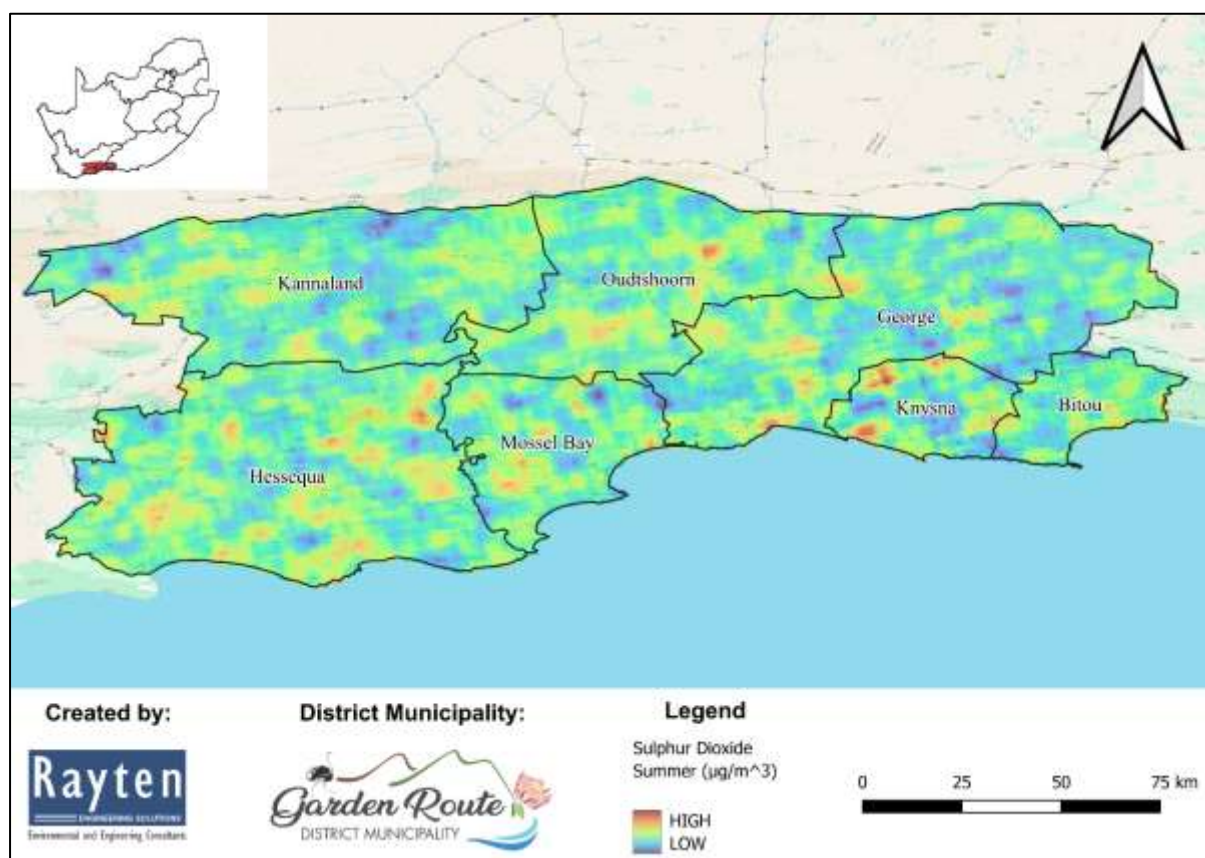

Figure 5-6: Air quality report map indicating concentrations of sulphur dioxide (µg/m³) in summer in the GRDM for each season.

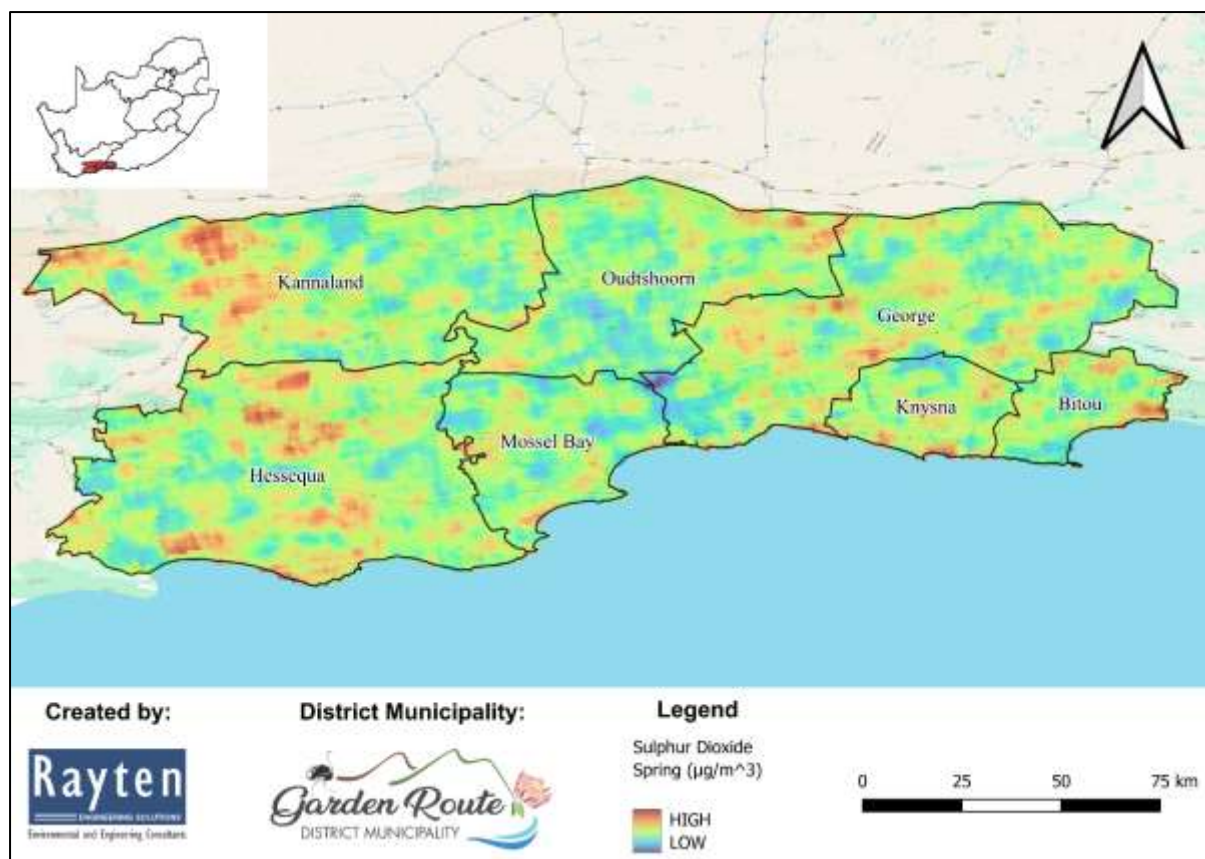

Figure 5-9: Air quality report map indicating concentrations of sulphur dioxide ($\mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$) in spring in the GRDM for each season.

The concentrations of SO_2 were mapped per season due to the variable dispersion patterns of SO_2 . The concentration of SO_2 is the lowest during the summer months (Figure 5-6), with the highest concentration reaching $25,23 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$, and highest in the winter months (Figure 5-9), with the highest concentration reaching $73,17 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$, in the GRDM. According to Calkins et al. (2016), SO_2 concentrations tend to be higher in winter due to a combination of meteorological and atmospheric conditions that enhance its emission and retention in the atmosphere.

As depicted in Figure 5-10 the concentrations of NO_2 are the highest, at $2,70 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$, in areas where industrial emissions are the highest (in the Mossel Bay and George local municipalities). This is because the primary source of NO_2 is combustion processes, like those in power plants, industrial facilities and factories that burn fossil fuels (Martin et al. 2003).

As depicted in Figure 5-11, the CO emissions are most concentrated near the coastal areas, along the main roads, in the GRDM. This may be due to the increased traffic on these roads as well as CO emissions from the harbour in Mossel Bay. The highest concentration of CO reached $6,58 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$ in 2023.

As depicted in Figure 5-12, the concentration of O_3 is highest, at $63,39 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$, near the coast compared to the inland areas. This may be due to the ocean breeze originating from the seaside of the mountain range in the GRDM. The ocean can act as a significant precursor of NO_x and VOCs, which produce O_3 when exposed to sunlight (Lin et al. 2007). The winds from the sea carry O_3 inland, increasing its concentrations on the windward side of the mountains (Lin et al. 2007).

As depicted in Figure 5-13, the concentrations of HCHO are randomly dispersed in the GRDM. This may be because HCHO is generally highest indoors where domestic fuel burning takes place. The areas where HCHO is depicted to be the highest in the GRDM, corresponds to the areas where biomass burning occurred in 2023 (Figure 6-4). Formaldehyde is one of the primary pollutants emitted when biomass is burned (Zhang et al. 2022) which explains this overlap.

As depicted in Figure 5-14, the concentration of aerosols in the GRDM are highest at the inland regions. The Kannaland and Oudtshoorn local municipalities form part of the Karoo regions which are known for being arid. Aerosol concentrations tend to be higher where there are more dust emissions from arid regions and where there is limited precipitation (Huang et al. 2014).

While the figures presented may not offer the precision of a dispersion model, they nonetheless highlight key hot spots within the GRDM and identify areas where criteria pollutants pose significant challenges. These insights can serve as a valuable guide for prioritising air quality management efforts in the region and for determining where targeted mitigation measures should be implemented.

EMISSIONS INVENTORY

6 EMISSIONS INVENTORY

An emissions inventory is a fundamental part of an AQMP because it provides information on the sources and magnitudes of air pollutants within a specific region. It supports the development strategies and policies aimed at improving air quality by offering a detailed overview of emission sources and their contributions to the overall pollution levels. The GRDM has an existing emissions inventory that includes emission from each local municipality, last updated in 2019. The revision and renewal of the existing emissions inventory will identify priority air pollutants and allow for evaluation of the effectiveness of emission control measures in the Bitou LM. This emissions inventory will provide a comprehensive overview of each sector, detailing the background information, the methodologies employed to gather the necessary data and perform calculations, and will subsequently present the results for each sector. It is important to remember that an emissions inventory is an ongoing, evolving tool that needs to be updated and maintained constantly to ensure accuracy and reliability.

6.1 Industrial Sector

6.1.1 Background

Industries, both large and small, have the potential to emit pollutants based on their operational processes, therefore impacting air quality. In South Africa, legislation regulates a diverse range of industries through their classification as Listed Activities (Government Notice No. 893, 2013; Government Notice No. 551, 2015; Government Notice No. 1207, 2018; Government Notice No. 421, 2020). Industries not classified as Listed Activities may fall under the Controlled Emitter regulations like those with small boilers or temporary asphalt plants.

Listed activities were initially defined as Scheduled Processes in the APPA (Act No. 45 of 1965) and were later included into the NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004). They were included in the NEM:AQA as Listed Activities that have the potential to negatively impact the environment. In 2013 the Listed Activities were published (Government Notice No. 893, 2013) with the amendments thereof published in 2015, 2018 and 2020 (Government Notice No. 551, 2015; Government Notice No. 1207, 2018; Government Notice No. 421, 2020). Small boilers, as defined within the Section 23 Controlled Emitter regulations, are defined as a boiler that has a design capacity equal to or greater than 10MW Net Heat Input but less than 50MW Net Heat Input. Any form of a boiler or combustion installation falling below the 10MW threshold is just considered as a boiler and can be utilised, not only in industries, but also in hospitals, hotels, and schools.

Global mining and quarrying include activities pertaining to mineral extraction and processing applied to metals and nonmetals, but not fossil fuels. In South Africa, legislation regulates mining and quarrying operations through the Mineral and Petroleum Resources Development Act (Act No. 28 of 2002), the National Environmental Management Act (NEMA) (Act No. 107 of 1998) and NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004). The regulations in these Acts require that mining and quarrying operations obtain necessary licenses and permits, and that Environmental Impact Assessments (EIAs) are conducted before mining activities commence. They also require that the operations adhere to air quality standards and implement measures to minimise dust and other air pollutants. Mines and quarries reported in the 2023 NAEIS submission will be considered in this section as well.

6.1.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet, sheet “Industrial Sector”, for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

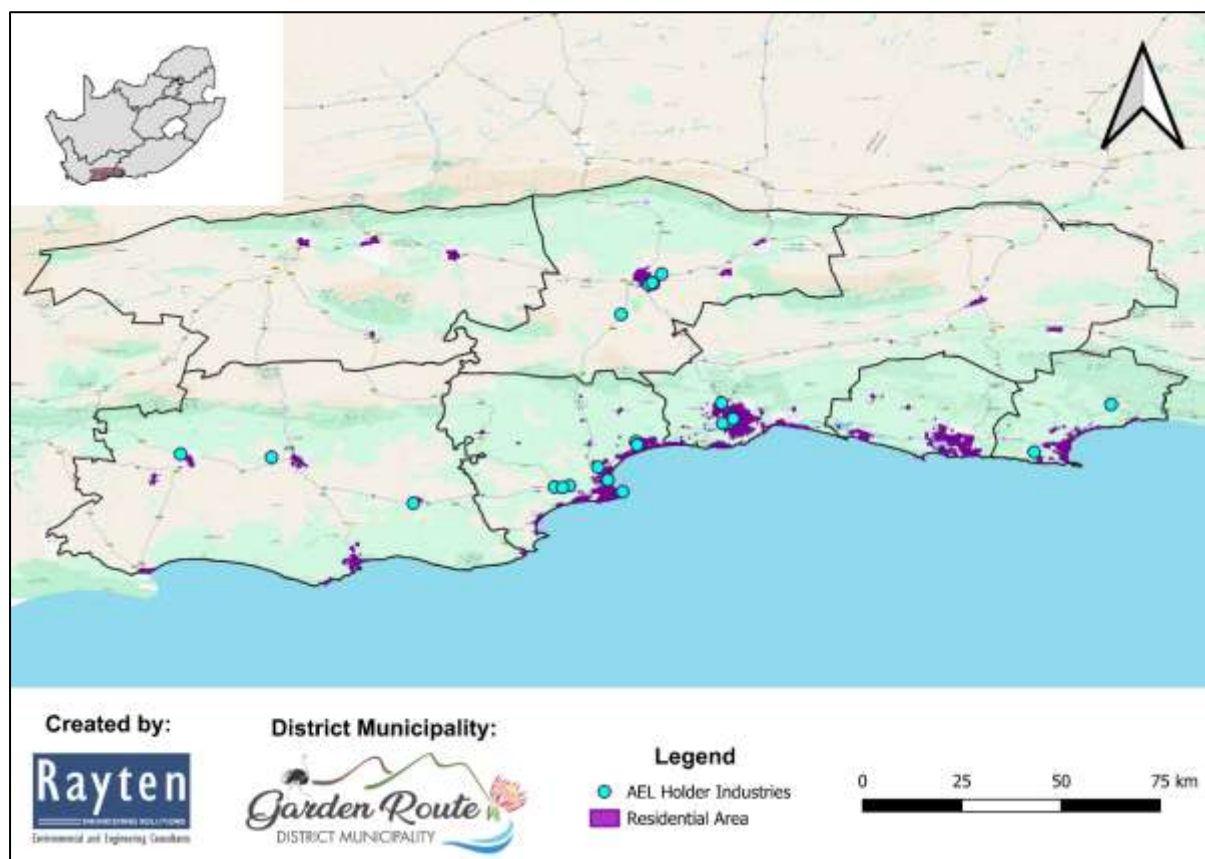

Figure 6-1: Map of all AEL holder industries in relation to residential areas in the GRDM (Made in QGIS).

Any industry that emits pollutants can be classified as either an AEL holder or a non-AEL holder. AEL holders include facilities that have been issued a license by a regulatory authority. This means that they are subject to specific emissions limits for certain pollutants as set out in their AEL's. AEL holders must adhere to strict monitoring, reporting and compliance requirements as set out in Section 21. Specific control technologies or practices may need to be implemented in order to meet their emission specifications and targets. Non-AEL holders include facilities that must adhere to specific air emission limits as set out in Section 23. These facilities do not require an AEL.

AEL Holders

To determine the emissions from AEL holder industries in the Bitou LM, the NAEIS reports for the year 2023, for each AEL holder industry were requested and used to determine the total emissions per pollutant. There were no calculations involved because the calculations were completed for the NAEIS submissions which are subject to an auditing process conducted by national authorities and as such, this data can be assumed to be verified and accurate.

Non-AEL Holders

A top-down approach was used to calculate the emissions from the non-AEL holder industries in the Bitou LM. A questionnaire was sent to each industry where the industry name, material throughput per year, fuel used, and a description of the processes was requested. Once this information was received, the relevant emission factors were sourced from literature and used to calculate the emissions for each pollutant. Where necessary, the emission factors were converted to the most convenient metric unit. The general formula used was as follows:

$$\text{Emissions for pollutant A} = \text{Material throughput} \times \text{Hours of operation} \times \text{Emission Factor for pollutant A}$$

AEL Holders

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-1) for all AEL holder industries in the Bitou LM. This summary shows the distribution of emissions in kilograms. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, the TSP emissions were the highest pollutant emitted, at 31842,00 kg/annum. The majority of TSP emissions were emitted from the Kurland Bricks facility.

Non-AEL Holders

There were no emissions recorded from non-AEL holders in the Bitou LM because there was no information received from the respective facilities (Table 6-2). It will be important to include this information in the emissions inventory when it becomes available.

6.2 Domestic Fuel Burning Sector

6.2.1 Background

Recent Census data indicates a decreasing reliance on fuel combustion for energy use in residential areas across South Africa (StatsSA, Census 2022). Despite this trend, the health impacts associated with domestic fuel burning remain a significant concern. Many low-income and informal settlements continue to depend on domestic fuels such as wood, coal, and paraffin for cooking and heating. These fuels are often combusted indoors using rudimentary cook stoves, which, combined with inadequate ventilation, lead to elevated pollutant levels within the home environment.

Domestic fuel combustion generates a range of pollutants, including PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, SO₂, (Nitrogen Oxides) NO_x, VOCs, Ammonia (NH₃), CO, and (Methane) CH₄. The emissions from domestic fuel burning exhibit distinct diurnal and seasonal patterns. Emissions typically increase in the early morning and the evening as households engage in space heating and cooking. During winter, the demand for space heating rises, leading to higher fuel consumption and, consequently, greater emission levels. Despite the known health risks associated with burning coal and wood, many residents in these communities continue to use these fuels due to the prohibitive cost of alternative energy sources (Balmes, 2019). The persistence of this practice underscores the urgent need for targeted interventions to address both the health impacts and the barriers to transitioning to cleaner energy alternatives.

6.2.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the "Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts" Excel spreadsheet, sheet "Domestic Fuel Burning Sector", for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

The emissions inventory for domestic fuel burning relies on national Census statistics. These statistics provide data on the types of energy used for cooking and lighting per household. Census respondents report the use of multiple fuel types, which can lead to the same household being counted more than once if it uses different fuels for different applications. To avoid double counting, the total fuel usage is calculated based on the average number of households using each fuel type for cooking and lighting and applying this to the total number of households within each municipality.

A top-down approach was used to calculate the emissions associated with energy used for cooking and lighting in domestic households, by considering the total number of households utilizing various energy sources (StatsSA, Census 2022). For cooking, the nine energy sources identified were electricity from mains, generators, gas, paraffin, wood, coal, animal dung, solar, and "other." For lighting, the seven energy sources identified were electricity from mains, generators, gas, paraffin, candles, solar, and "other." In both cases, electricity from mains was excluded, as its emissions have already been accounted for by the service provider and in the Greenhouse Gas Emissions Inventory, specifically by Eskom, and under AEL holders from the Gourikwa Power Station. Similarly, emissions from generators were not included in either section, as petrol and diesel emissions have been addressed within the Transport Sector's fuel sales data. The use of animal dung for cooking was excluded due to the limited number of households using it, and emissions from solar energy were not considered for either cooking or lighting, as no air quality-related emissions factors are currently available. While emissions factors for solar energy pertain solely to greenhouse gases, the sector should be included in the greenhouse gas emissions inventory. Finally, emissions from "other" energy sources were excluded in both cases due to the lack of specificity that hindered the identification of appropriate emissions factors. Additionally, emissions from candles were excluded for lighting, as insufficient information on the type of wax used and burn time made it difficult to determine the correct emissions factors.

Based on the information above, the emission factors were sourced for the remaining energy sources for both cooking and lighting in domestic households. The weight used per energy source was determined and used to calculate the overall emissions per pollutant by multiplying the weight used for the energy source by the emission factor and the number of households. The general formula used was as follows:

$$\text{Emissions for pollutant A} = \text{Weight used for energy source AA} \times \text{Emission Factor for pollutant A} \times \text{Number of households}$$

6.2.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-3) for domestic fuel burning in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, CO was the highest pollutant emitted, at 33091,13 kg/annum.

6.3 Transport Sector

6.3.1 Motor Vehicles

6.3.1.1 Background

Vehicle emissions represent a significant concern within urban environments due to the high population densities and elevated traffic volumes typical of these areas. In urban settings, vehicle emissions are estimated to account for up to 95% of CO emissions and up to 70% of NO_x emissions (DEA, 2016). Additionally, vehicle emissions contribute to the presence of other pollutants such as SO₂, PM, NMVOCs, NO_x, N₂O, NH₃, C₆H₆, and Pb. The emissions are released at ground level, where people are directly exposed, leading to substantial public health impacts.

Emission rates are influenced by several factors, including vehicle specifications, fuel characteristics and environmental conditions. In developing countries like South Africa, the expansion of road networks can enhance welfare and economic growth. However, this development must be weighed against the detrimental effects on air quality and public health. Vehicles can significantly contribute to pollution not only in localized areas but also throughout the surrounding airsheds. Despite dispersion effects often relocating the health impact away from the immediate source, vehicle emissions remain a major source of urban pollution.

6.3.1.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet, sheet “Transport Sector”, for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

A top-down approach was used to calculate the emissions from vehicles in the Bitou LM, vehicle count data was sourced from the WCG Road Network Information System (RNIS). The vehicle count data was sourced for each road in the Bitou LM, including minor roads, district roads, main roads and trunk roads. Each road was divided into sections with each section covering a set distance provided in km. The vehicle count data for each section of road was provided for light vehicles, heavy vehicles, taxis and busses. These categories, as determined on the RNIS website, were not defined and so the definitions of light and heavy vehicles were assumed based on the definitions provided in the European Monitoring and Evaluation Programme (EMEP)/ European Environment Agency (EEA). The “light vehicles” as determined on the RNIS website were assumed to be the same as “passenger cars” as defined in the EMEP/EEA, which states that passenger cars are “vehicles used for the carriage of passengers and comprising not more than eight seats in addition to the driver's seat”. The “heavy vehicles, taxis and busses” as determined on the RNIS website were assumed to be the same as “heavy duty vehicles” as defined by the EMEP/EEA, which states that heavy duty vehicles are “vehicles used for the carriage of goods and having a maximum weight exceeding 3.5 tonnes but not exceeding 12 tonnes. Vehicles used for the carriage of goods and having a maximum weight exceeding 12 tonnes. Vehicles used for the carriage of passengers and comprising more than eight seats in addition to the driver's seat and having a maximum weight not exceeding 5 tonnes. Vehicles used for the carriage of passengers and comprising more than eight seats in addition to the driver's seat and having a maximum weight exceeding 5 tonnes”. Fuel consumption was also required for the vehicle emission calculations. The use of petrol versus diesel versus liquid petroleum gas (LPG) in passenger cars and heavy duty vehicles was determined from the South African Department of Transport (SADT). For passenger cars in South Africa, approximately 75% utilise petrol, 20% utilise diesel and 5% utilise LPG overall. For heavy duty vehicles in South Africa, approximately 95% utilise diesel and 5% utilise petrol with very few vehicles utilising LPG (therefore 0%) overall. These percentages were then used to determine the total number of cars in each class. From this it was possible to source emission factors for each of the vehicle classes based on the type of fuel used. There was no emission factor available for heavy duty vehicles that utilised petrol, but there was an emission factor available for busses that utilised compressed natural gas (CNG). Because of this, the busses were excluded from the “heavy duty vehicles” class and made a class on its own. This resulted in five classes for vehicle emission calculations namely, passenger cars utilising petrol, passenger cars utilising diesel, passenger cars utilising LPG, heavy duty vehicles utilising diesel and busses utilising CNG. The weight of the fuel was then calculated by multiplying the Typical Fuel Consumption in g/km (EMEP/EEA) by the distance of each stretch of road in km. Next, the specific pollutant emissions were calculated for a single passenger car or heavy duty vehicle by multiplying the emission factor by the weight of fuel in kg's. Lastly the value emissions calculated for a single passenger car or heavy duty vehicle was multiplied by the total number of cars relevant to that class. This was done for each pollutant and the general formulas used were as follows:

Total number of cars in “passenger cars utilising petrol” class = Total number of passenger cars x 75%

Total number of cars in “passenger cars utilising diesel” class = Total number of passenger cars x 20%

Total number of cars in “passenger cars utilising LPG” class = Total number of passenger cars x 5%

Total number of cars in “heavy duty vehicles utilising diesel” class = Total number of passenger cars x 95%

Weight of fuel in g = Typical fuel consumption (g/km) x Distance (km)

Emissions for pollutant A for single car = Emissions Factor for pollutant A x Weight of fuel (kg)

Total emissions for pollutant A = Emissions for pollutant A for single car x total number of cars in relevant class

6.3.1.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-4) for vehicles in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, as expected, CO was the highest pollutant emitted, at 28888,35 kg/annum. It is important to note that because the vehicle counts were taken on different days, the holiday seasons and weekends were not considered in these emissions’ calculation. It will be important to include these aspects to ensure a more accurate emissions inventory in the future.

6.3.2 Aircrafts

Airports are significant sources of atmospheric pollution, primarily due to jet fuel storage and aircraft operations. The complexity of aircraft movement, including variations in distance and altitude, means that emissions from aircraft can impact air quality on local, regional, and international scales. It is estimated that approximately 10% of aircraft emissions occur while aircraft are on the ground or during take-off and landing phases, while most emissions are released at cruising altitudes. Although higher-altitude emissions are less likely to affect ground-level air quality directly, they contribute to broader atmospheric impacts, including stratospheric ozone depletion and global warming. Aircraft operations at airports contribute to various pollutants, including, CO₂, PM, NO_x, CO, SO₂ and VOCs.

Insufficient data was provided to calculate the aircraft emissions for the 2024 emissions inventory. There is an airport in Plettenberg Bay which is a small Category 5 airport which caters for private aircraft use and limited commercial operations. Data from this airport will need to be considered in this emissions inventory when it becomes available.

6.3.3 Ships

Ships operating in South African harbours represent a notable source of atmospheric pollution due to the combustion of marine fuels and port-related activities. The maritime sector plays a crucial role in the South African economy serving as key hubs for international and domestic trade. The emissions from ships can have significant implications for both local air quality and broader environmental health. Ships are sources of various pollutants, primarily from the burning of bunker fuel and other marine fuels. The main emissions include CO₂, PM, NO_x, CO, SO₂ and VOCs.

There are no harbours in the Bitou LM and so emissions were not considered for ships in the Bitou LM.

6.3.4 Railways

In South Africa, railway emissions primarily arise from diesel-powered locomotives, which emit NO_x, PM, SO₂, and CO. While electric trains reduce direct emissions, the impact depends on the source of electricity, which may involve fossil fuels. Emissions also come from maintenance activities and operational machinery running on diesel or gasoline. Urban rail systems contribute to local air quality concerns due to a mix of diesel and electric trains. Efforts to mitigate these emissions include increasing rail electrification and investing in cleaner technologies, in line with national air quality and climate objectives.

As per discussions with the District Air Quality Manager, a decision was made not to include railway emissions in this emission inventory as railways are not utilised enough in the GRDM or Bitou LM to warrant an emissions inventory pertaining to railway emissions.

6.4 Waste Treatment and Disposal Sector

6.4.1 Landfills

6.4.1.1 Background

The disposal of waste at landfill sites can significantly impact the environment, particularly through atmospheric emissions. These emissions not only contribute to environmental degradation but also pose health risks and nuisances to nearby communities. Landfill sites, whether licensed or informal, emit various pollutants that can affect both local air quality and broader environmental health. Under the National Environmental Management: Waste Act (No. 59 of 2008), all landfill sites in South Africa are required to obtain a waste management license from the DFFE before establishment and operation. This regulatory requirement aims to ensure that landfills are managed in a manner that mitigates environmental and health impacts. Despite these regulations, many landfills operate across the country, ranging from well-managed to poorly controlled sites. These unlicensed facilities can contribute to significant environmental and health issues due to inadequate waste management practices. Key emissions from landfills include GHGs, PM and C₆H₆.

6.4.1.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet, sheet “Waste Sector”, for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

It was difficult to gather up to date information for landfills in the Bitou LM, therefore the majority of the information pertaining to the landfills was sourced from the GIBB Report compiled in 2020 and from the Integrated Waste Management Plan (IWMP) for the GRDM compiled in 2020, including the name and location of each landfill and a description of the status of the landfill. Unfortunately, there was no information available for the exact type of waste accepted at each landfill. For this reason, an alternative method was used to calculate emissions from the landfills in the Bitou LM. The location of each landfill was used to access the historical data from Google Earth, which was then used to determine when the landfill was established. This was essentially done by viewing satellite images from many years ago. Once the year of establishment was determined, the age of the landfill could be determined. The age of the landfill was then multiplied by the relevant emission factor to get a rough idea of the emissions from that landfill. A top-down approach was used. The general formula used was as follows:

$$\text{Emissions of pollutant A in tons per annum} = \text{Emission Factor of pollutant A} \times \text{Age of the landfill}$$

Emissions of pollutant A were then converted into kg's by multiplying by 1000

It is important to note that this method does not result in the most accurate emissions estimations for landfills, and it is therefore imperative that landfill emissions be calculated more accurately when the data becomes available.

6.4.1.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-5) for the landfills in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. No emissions were recorded for landfills in the Bitou LM because the supposed landfills were all decommissioned or closed according to the IWMP. It will be important to include information from any new landfills in the emissions inventory when it becomes available.

6.4.2 Wastewater Treatment Works

6.4.2.1 Background

Wastewater treatment works (WWTW) play a crucial role in managing liquid wastes, including sewage, which often contain hazardous substances requiring careful treatment and disposal. The treatment processes at these facilities are essential for protecting public health and the environment; however, they also generate various pollutants and can lead to significant odour nuisance. Common emissions from WWTW's include VOCs, sulphuric acid (H₂S) and NH₃.

6.4.2.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the "Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts" Excel spreadsheet, sheet "Waste Sector", for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

It was difficult to gather up to date information for WWTWs in the Bitou LM, therefore most of the information pertaining to the WWTWs was sourced from the Green Drop Report (2023). The information sourced from the Green Drop Report (2023) included, the total design capacity in kl/d and the operational capacity as a percentage. From this the total design capacity was converted to kl/annum. The operational capacity percentage was then calculated based on the converted total design capacity value to get the throughput of the facility in kl, which was then multiplied by the relevant emission factor to get the total emissions for a particular pollutant. A top-down approach was used. The general formulas used were as follows:

$$\text{Emissions of pollutant A in g/annum} = \text{Emission factor of pollutant A} \times \text{Throughput in kl}$$

The Emissions of pollutant A were then converted into kg's by dividing by 1000.

6.4.2.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-6) for the WWTWs in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, VOCs were the highest pollutant emitted, at 2508,50 kg/annum.

6.5 Agricultural Sector

6.5.1 Crop Farming

6.5.1.1 Background

Crop farming plays a significant role in air quality, primarily through the emissions associated with agricultural practices. The cultivation of crops can lead to the release of various air pollutants, including PM, NH₃, and greenhouse gases such as CO₂ and N₂O. Practices like tillage, the application of fertilizers, and the use of fossil fuels for machinery contribute to these emissions. Additionally, the management of crop residues and the timing of planting and harvesting can further influence air quality outcomes.

6.5.1.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet, sheet “Agricultural Sector”, for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

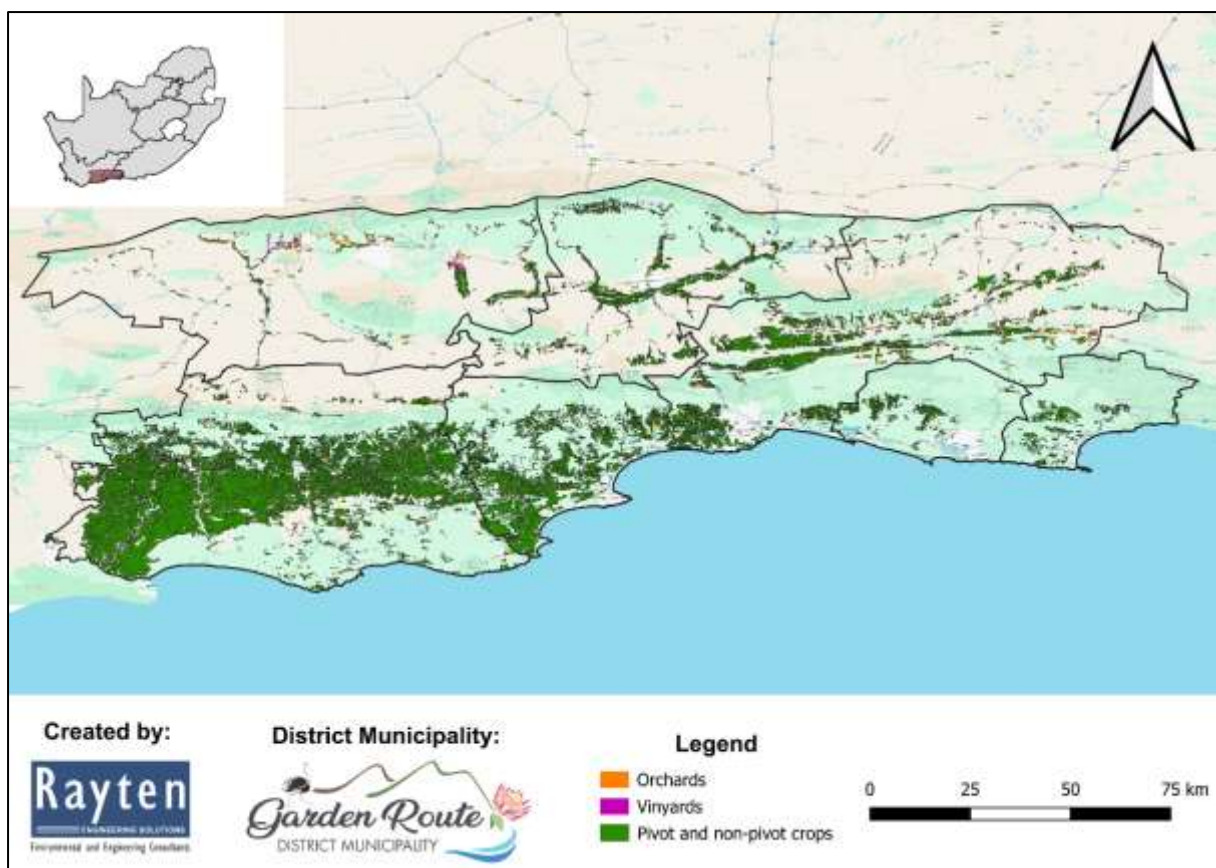

Figure 6-3: Map of the orchards, vineyards and pivot- and non-pivot crop farming in the GRDM (Made in QGIS).

A top-down approach was used to calculate the emissions from crop farming in the Bitou LM. The crops in the region were mapped using internal spatial analyses in QGIS (Figure 6-3). From this the area (ha) of crop farming in the region could be determined. The relevant emission factors were then sourced and multiplied by the area of crops planted. The general formula used was as follows:

$$\text{Emissions of pollutant A} = \text{Emission factor of pollutant A} \times \text{Area of crops planted (ha)}$$

The emission factors were converted to the relevant units where applicable.

Additional information pertaining to crop farming was sourced from Agriculture in the Garden Route: Towards resilience post-COVID19 (2020), where the area (ha) of various specific crops was provided for the inland and coastal regions in the GRDM. These areas were then used to determine the more specific emissions from particular crops. To ensure greater accuracy in the emissions calculations the percentage of specific crops fertilised as well as Nitrogen fertilizer use rate (kg/ha) were sourced. From this the fertilizer emission factors per pollutant were sourced to calculate the overall emissions from the specific crops. The areas (ha) for the inland and coastal crops were totalled per specific crop and then the total area of crops fertilised was calculated using the percentage of specific crops fertilised. From this the total area of crops fertilized was multiplied by the Nitrogen fertilizer use rate (kg/ha) which was then multiplied by the fertilizer emission factor to obtain the total emissions for that pollutant. The general formulas used are as follows:

$$\text{Total area of crop A (ha)} = \text{inland area of crop A (ha)} + \text{coastland area of crop A (ha)}$$

$$\text{Area of crop A fertilized (ha)} = \text{Total area of crop A} \times \text{Percentage area of crop A fertilized}$$

$$\text{Emissions of pollutant BB} = \text{Area of crop A fertilized} \times \text{Nitrogen fertilizer use rate (kg/ha)} \times \text{Emission factor for fertilizer of pollutant BB}$$

6.5.1.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-7) for the crops in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, most of the pollutants emitted into the air, arise from dust from tilling and ploughing activities as seen in the increased PM₁₀ and PM_{2.5} values, not from the crops themselves. The nitric oxide and ammonia emissions, shown below, arise from the fertilisers used for crop farming.

6.5.2 Livestock Farming

6.5.2.1 Background

Livestock farming is a significant agricultural activity that contributes to various atmospheric emissions. These emissions arise from different aspects of livestock management and agricultural practices, each impacting air quality in distinct ways. Understanding these sources is crucial for managing and mitigating their environmental effects. Key emissions sources include livestock housing and manure management.

6.5.2.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet, sheet “Agricultural Sector”, for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

A top-down approach was used to calculate the emissions from livestock in the GRDM, livestock count was sourced from Agriculture in the Garden Route: Towards resilience post-COVID19 (2020), where the total number of specific livestock was provided for the year 2017. The relevant emission factors were then sourced and then multiplied by the number of specific livestock to obtain the total emissions for a particular pollutant. The general formula used was as follows:

$$\text{Emissions of pollutant A} = \text{Emission factor of pollutant A} \times \text{Total number of animal BB}$$

6.5.2.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-9) for livestock in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, CH₄ was the only pollutant considered in this section due to a lack of additional livestock farming information. It will be important to consider more pollutants that are emitted from livestock farming when the information becomes available.

6.6 Biomass Burning Sector

6.6.1 Background

Biomass burning is a significant and persistent source of atmospheric pollution in South Africa, contributing to both gaseous and particulate matter emissions. This practice is primarily anthropogenic, employed for various land management purposes such as preventing bush encroachment and creating firebreaks, but can also occur naturally. The emissions from biomass burning are a major concern for air quality due to their extensive environmental and health impacts. The incidence of biomass burning is closely related to seasonal variations, particularly in the dry season when fires are more common due to lower rainfall resulting in higher potential fuel load. Aerosols from burning practices can persist as a haze layer over the area, especially during periods of dry weather. The combination of vegetation types and climatic conditions results in varying potential for veldfires across different areas.

6.6.2 Methodology

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet, sheet “Biomass Burning Sector”, for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations. Emission factors and their sources are provided in the document as well.

A top-down approach was used to calculate the emissions from biomass burning in the Bitou LM. The burned area for the period of August 2023 to July 2024 was mapped using internal spatial analyses in QGIS (Figure 6-4). Data was then extracted from the map to obtain the total area (ha) burned in the region. These burnt areas were then further classified into the respective biomes that burned. This resulted in five biomes for consideration namely, shrublands, fynbos, grasslands, forests and cultivated land. Next, the weight of each biome as well as the relevant emission factors were sourced to complete the emissions calculations. The weight of the biome was converted to kg/ha and then this converted weight was multiplied by the area burnt. This value was then multiplied by the relevant emission factor to obtain overall emissions for a particular pollutant. The emission value in kg/ha was then standardised across each municipality by multiplying by the municipal area. This ensured a more accurate representation of biomass burning in the region. The general formulas used is as follows:

Weight of the biome converted to kg/ha.

Emissions of pollutant A = Weight of the biome (kg/ha) x Total area burnt for biome BB x Emission factor for pollutant A

This method was used for four out of the five biomes. Since the internal spatial analysis from the map could not provide specific crop areas, the emission factor for the largest specific crop produced in the GRDM (Table 6-8) was used to calculate the emissions for the burnt cultivated lands. The “weight of lucerne” was therefore used instead of “weight per biome”. The emission factors were sourced from Poilliot, et al. (2012) and the same formulae as above were used to estimate the overall emissions from burnt cultivated lands in the region.

6.6.3 Results

A summary of the emissions of each pollutant are provided below (Table 6-10) for biomass burning in the Bitou LM. A more detailed breakdown is provided in Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM at the end of the report. In summary, CO was the highest pollutant emitted, at 1794232,04 kg/annum.

6.7 Summary of Emissions in the Bitou LM

Please note: Refer to the “Master Emissions Inventory 2024 and Charts” Excel spreadsheet for a more detailed layout of the emissions calculations and chart creation.

This section of the report examines the contribution of each sector to emissions within the Bitou LM. While the summary tables presented earlier include a wide range of pollutants from each sector, only the criteria pollutants and other key pollutants of concern are discussed. It is important to note that not all sectors emitted the same types of pollutants, therefore potentially causing the skewed representation of the sectors on the charts below. This is mainly due to the lack of emission factors for certain pollutants as they relate to each sector.

Table 6-11: Colours coordinated to each sector pertaining to the pie charts.

Sector	Colour coordinated to sector
Industrial

Biomass Burning

The main pollutants of concern in the Bitou LM include PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, SO₂, CO, VOC's, NMVOC's, NO_x and NH₃ (Figure 6-6 to Figure 6-13).

The industrial sector (84,03%) contributed the most to PM₁₀ emissions in the Bitou LM, with the agricultural (15,22%) and domestic fuel burning (0,76%) sectors contributing to the remaining PM₁₀ emissions. Similarly, the industrial sector (78,49%) contributed the most to PM_{2.5} emissions in the Bitou LM, with the domestic fuel burning (15,83%) and agricultural (5,68%) sectors contributing to the remaining PM_{2.5} emissions. Other sectors had negligible contributions according to the emissions inventory for the Bitou LM.

The industrial sector (99,38%) contributed the most to SO₂ emissions in the Bitou LM, while the domestic fuel burning sector (0,62%) contributed to the remaining SO₂ emissions. Other sectors had negligible contributions according to the emissions inventory for the Bitou LM.

The biomass burning sector (95,95%) contributed the most to the CO emissions in the Bitou LM, while the domestic fuel burning (1,77%), transport (1,54%) and industrial (0,74%) sectors contributed to the remaining CO emissions. Other sectors had negligible contributions according to the emissions inventory for the Bitou LM.

The domestic fuel burning sector (60,41%) contributed the most to the VOC emissions in the Bitou LM, while the waste treatment and disposal sector (33,46%) and the industrial sector (6,14%) contributed to the remaining VOC emissions. Other sectors had negligible contributions according to the emissions inventory for the Bitou LM.

The biomass burning sector contributed the most to the NMVOC (97,30%), NO_x (70,58%) and the NH₃ (96,86%) emissions in the Bitou LM, with the transport sector (2,68%) and waste treatment and disposal sector (0,02%) contributing to the remaining NMVOC and the transport sector (3,14%) contributing to the remaining NH₃ emissions in the area. The transport sector (18,30%), industrial sector (10,06%) and the domestic fuel burning sector (1,06%) contributed to the remaining NO_x emissions. Other sectors had negligible contributions according to the emissions inventory for the Bitou LM.

A visual representation was created for all AEL holders in the Bitou LM in relation to residential areas (Figure 6-13), to highlight the importance of collaboration between the town planning and air quality management departments within the local municipality, not only to minimise complaints but to ensure that harmful emissions are not in close proximity to where people live.

The agricultural activities (Figure 6-14) and biomass burning areas (Figure 6-15) have also been presented below to give a better indication of where these particular emission originate in the local municipality.

6.7.1 Discussion

The emissions inventory for the Bitou LM reveals a concentrated distribution of air pollution sources, with certain sectors standing out as dominant contributors to various pollutants. The industrial sector emerges as the primary contributor to PM_{10} and $PM_{2.5}$ emissions, responsible for 84.03% (Figure 6-5) and 78.49% (Figure 6-6) of emissions, respectively. It is important to note that the emissions from the industrial sector are only from AEL-holder facilities and not from the non-AEL holder facilities because information was not received from these facilities. It would be important to include this information when it becomes available. This highlights the need for targeted actions within the industrial sector, particularly focusing on cleaner production methods, improving energy efficiency, and enforcing stricter emissions controls to mitigate the impact of these fine particulate pollutants. Agricultural activities and domestic fuel burning make smaller contributions to these particulate emissions, accounting for 15.22% and 0.76% for PM_{10} (Figure 6-5), and 5.68% and 15.83% for $PM_{2.5}$ (Figure 6-6), respectively. Although these sectors contribute less, improving agricultural practices and transitioning to cleaner energy sources for domestic use should still be considered as part of a broader air quality strategy.

For SO_2 emissions, the industrial sector is by far the largest contributor, responsible for 99.38% of emissions (Figure 6-7). This underscores the critical need for interventions in industrial processes, such as transitioning to cleaner energy sources, improving fuel efficiency, and adopting technologies that capture or reduce SO₂ emissions, all of which could significantly reduce the municipality's overall SO₂ footprint.

CO emissions in the Bitou LM are dominated by the biomass burning sector, which contributes 95.95% (Figure 6-8). Domestic fuel burning (1.77%), transport (1.54%), and the industrial sector (0.74%) contribute marginally to CO emissions. Effective strategies to reduce biomass burning, such as the promotion of fire management techniques, firebreaks, and transitioning to cleaner energy sources, would be key to addressing this pollutant. Additionally, promoting alternative, cleaner fuels for domestic use, especially in rural communities, could substantially reduce CO emissions.

The domestic fuel burning sector is the leading source of VOC emissions, contributing 60.41%, followed by waste treatment and disposal (33.46%) and the industrial sector (6.14%) (Figure 6-9). Addressing VOC emissions could be achieved by reducing reliance on biomass and other traditional fuels for domestic energy needs, promoting cleaner cooking technologies, and improving waste management practices, such as reducing organic waste sent to landfills or incinerating waste with proper emission controls.

For NMVOC emissions, biomass burning again takes the lead, accounting for 97.30%, with the transport sector contributing a small fraction (2.68%) (Figure 6-10). Similarly, biomass burning is a dominant source of NO_x emissions (70.58%), with transport (18.30%) and industrial (10.06%) sectors making smaller contributions (Figure 6-11). Strategies to reduce biomass burning and promote cleaner energy sources for transport and industry are vital in addressing both NMVOC and NO_x emissions, which have significant health and environmental impacts.

NH₃ emissions in the Bitou LM are also predominantly from biomass burning (96.86%), with a small contribution from the transport sector (3.14%) (Figure 6-12). The reduction of open-field burning and the adoption of more sustainable agricultural practices, including improved manure management and nitrogen fertilizer use, would be effective in addressing NH₃ emissions in the region.

The Bitou LMs emissions inventory highlights the overwhelming influence of the industrial sector on PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, and SO₂ emissions, while biomass burning significantly impacts CO, NMVOC, NO_x, and NH₃ emissions. Domestic fuel burning also plays a key role in VOC emissions. A comprehensive air quality management strategy for the municipality should prioritize the following:

1. Enhancing industrial emissions control: Strengthening regulations and encouraging cleaner industrial processes to reduce PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, SO₂ and VOC emissions.
2. Reducing biomass burning: Promoting fire management practices and transitioning to cleaner fuels to address CO, NMVOC, NO_x, and NH₃ emissions.
3. Improving domestic fuel use: Promoting cleaner cooking technologies and alternative energy sources for rural households to reduce VOC and CO emissions.

4. Improving waste management: Reducing organic waste and promoting cleaner waste disposal methods, such as controlled incineration with emission controls, to mitigate VOC and other pollutants.
5. Fostering sustainable agricultural practices: Encouraging better soil management and reducing open-field burning to mitigate PM₁₀, NH₃, and other emissions.
6. Promoting cleaner transport options: Reducing emissions from the transport sector by encouraging the adoption of cleaner, more efficient vehicles and enhancing public transportation options.

By implementing these measures, the Bitou LM can significantly reduce its air pollution levels, improving both the environment and public health for its residents. However, continued effort and collaboration among stakeholders are essential to achieving these goals.

OPERATIONAL CAPACITY

7 OPERATIONAL CAPACITY

The operational capacity refers to how the GRDM and its respective B-municipalities, of which Bitou LM is one, effectively manage and control emissions within its operational framework. This includes the resources, infrastructure and processes required to monitor, regulate and mitigate air pollution. This also encompasses the technical, financial and human resources available, the efficiency of emission control technologies, the robustness of data collection and analysis systems, and the implementation of regulatory compliance measures. Effective operational capacity ensures that air quality management practices are not only in place but are also capable of achieving the desired environmental and public health outcomes. It is, therefore, important to consider the government structures in place to guide operational capacity, the current capacity of the Bitou LM and capacity building within the Bitou LM.

7.1 Government Structures

This section evaluates the capacity for air quality management within the GRDM, including the Bitou LM, by examining the relevant government structures and functions across various levels of administration. The assessment will encompass the provincial, district, and local government spheres, providing a comprehensive overview of the governance frameworks and operational mechanisms in place.

7.1.1 Provincial Level

As per the NEM:AQA (Act no 39 of 2004), those in charge of environmental matters in the province have exclusive responsibilities related to air quality management. Some of these responsibilities include appointing an AQO, developing an AQMP for the province, developing annual reports to outline the progress of implementing the AQMP, handling AELs where necessary and reviewing AQMPs compiled by district, local municipalities and industries, particularly those located in High Priority Areas (HPAs).

In the WCP, the Department of Environmental Affairs and Development Planning (DEA&DP) oversee air quality in the region. More specifically, Dr Joy Leaner is the director of air quality management in the WCP. The DEA&DP supports the functions and responsibilities of the district and local municipalities regarding air quality management.

7.1.2 District Level

Within the province, the district municipalities have governance responsibilities and exclusive authority regarding air quality management. To adhere to these responsibilities, DMs must designate an AQO for the district municipality, they must develop an AQMP to be included in their respective IDPs and they need to develop an annual report addressing the progress and implementation of various aspects in the AQMP (NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004)). The DMs are also responsible for the AELs in the region and therefore need to perform the functions of the licensing authority. In the GRDM, Dr Johann Schoeman is the District Air Quality Manager with Mr Angus Andries, the District Environmental Officer for Air Quality, and Ms Jenay Van Niekerk, the administrative assistant, assisting them in the air quality department.

7.1.3 Local Level

Within the province and district, local municipalities have governance responsibilities and exclusive authority regarding air quality management. Each municipality must have a designated AQO, as determined at the local municipality level (NEM:AQA (Act No. 39 of 2004)). The AQO is responsible for the air quality management in the local municipality. The Bitou LM had a designated AQO at the start of the project who has subsequently resigned. It will be important to designate a new AQO as soon as this AQMP has been completed. An organogram for the Bitou LM is presented below (Figure 7-1)

7.2 Current Capacity

The National Framework outlines specific responsibilities for managing air quality at various levels of government. However, the development of the necessary organisational capacity to carry out these responsibilities is left to the discretion of each department or municipality. Each tier of government must detail how it plans to build this capacity within its AQMP. The air quality governance, complaints register, data monitoring and reporting practices, emissions inventory and human resources are discussed in greater detail below. Refer to Table 1-2 for the changes in the operating environment for the Bitou LM as determined in the review process of the previous AQMP.

7.2.1 Governance

For the Bitou LM to maintain an effective AQMP, it is crucial to ensure cooperative governance across all levels of government. There is no dedicated air quality department within the Bitou LM, and even though the responsibilities for air quality are managed by the AQO, this AQO has additional responsibilities outside of the field of air quality management. The Air Quality Manager in the district provides additional support to the Bitou LM, particularly in monitoring activities where required. There is no current SLA between the Bitou LM and the GRDM. An AQOF meets quarterly to discuss matters related to air quality in the GRDM. All designated AQO's from each B-municipality are expected to join these meetings to remain up to date with air quality related topics in the region. The AQO of the Bitou LM attended these meetings as regularly as possible during the period of the previous AQMP.

7.2.2 Complaints Register

Complaints related to air quality must be recorded, investigated, and addressed at all levels of government. When such complaints arise in the Bitou LM, it is crucial for the designated AQO, in the respective local municipality, to be informed promptly. The GRDM is responsible for complaints relating to listed activities and controlled emitters, whilst the Bitou LM deals with the other air quality complaints in the region. Complaints within the region may involve issues related to smoke, dust, offensive odours, illegal burning, spray painting, industrial activities, health nuisances, noise, and other general air pollution incidents. Upon receipt, these complaints are addressed in a timely manner and documented using the "Collaborator" system, which the GRDM and Bitou LM utilize for communication and record-keeping. At the quarterly AQOF meetings, complaints, and effective solutions to these complaints are discussed in greater detail to ensure that everyone is aware of how to deal with these situations when they arise.

7.2.3 Data Monitoring and Reporting Practices

There are no fixed or mobile air quality monitoring stations in the Bitou LM. There are, however, two fixed Provincial air quality monitoring stations in the GRDM, one in George and one in Mossel Bay, as well as a mobile air quality monitoring station used as needed in the GRDM. The Oudtshoorn LM also has a mobile station like the one utilised by the GRDM. Additionally, passive sampling is conducted by the local and district municipalities, throughout the GRDM on routine or when required. Data from the provincial monitoring stations is reported on the South African Air Quality Information System (SAAQIS). Furthermore, reporting to the National Atmospheric Emission Inventory System (NAEIS) occurs annually, in accordance with the National Environmental Management: Air Quality Act (NEMA:QA), which mandates that operators of specific industrial processes and facilities submit their emissions data to the NAEIS. There are only two AEL-holder facilities that report to the NAEIS in the Bitou LM.

7.2.4 Emissions Inventory

An emissions inventory provides a detailed account of the pollutants released into the atmosphere within a specific region. It is, therefore, important to consistently update and manage an emissions inventory on an annual basis. It includes information on pollution sources, the characteristics of these sources, and the emission rates of each pollutant. The GRDM has an existing emissions inventory, of which the emissions in the Bitou LM form part, which was last updated in 2019 and now requires revision. A review of the 2019 emissions inventory highlighted areas of concern and improvement as there were inconsistencies that should be addressed to ensure a more accurate and comprehensive record which would allow for better management practices.

7.2.5 Human Resources

As previously noted, cooperative governance is essential for effective air quality management within a region. In the Bitou LM there was a designated AQO, who has subsequently resigned. Furthermore, there is a shortage of staff in the Bitou LM departments, preventing the appointment of personnel specifically dedicated to air quality issues. This situation underscores a significant gap in air quality management at the local municipal level. This also adds pressure to the district as the Bitou LM seeks guidance and assistance from the GRDM.

7.3 Capacity Building

Capacity development is a vital aspect of environmental governance, influencing every component of the system. In South Africa, the lack of skilled professionals poses a significant barrier to effective service delivery, particularly in air quality management. While capacity development is often equated with simply increasing financial resources or staffing levels, it encompasses a broader strategy aimed at enhancing an organization's ability to perform its functions efficiently and effectively.

According to the National Framework, capacity development strategies can be grouped into several categories:

- Enhancing financial and physical resources: Allocating additional funding and resources to support initiatives.
- Improving organizational and technical skills: Fostering the development of competencies within the workforce.
- Establishing a clear strategic direction: Defining a focused pathway for organizational goals and objectives.
- Encouraging innovation and learning: Creating an environment that supports creativity and continuous improvement.
- Strengthening organizational structures: Building robust systems that promote effective governance and management.
- Fostering a supportive environment: Cultivating conditions that facilitate collaboration and effectiveness.
- Implementing performance incentives: Developing mechanisms that motivate and drive organizational performance.

By adopting these strategies, organizations can better position themselves to address challenges in air quality management and contribute to improved environmental governance in South Africa. The air quality responsibilities of district and local municipalities are discussed in greater detail below (Table 7-1).

GAP ANALYSIS

8 GAP ANALYSIS

The gap analysis of operational capacity within the Bitou LM is essential for assessing performance and identifying areas for enhancement. By systematically evaluating current strengths and weaknesses, this analysis aims to pinpoint specific gaps that, when addressed, will optimize the effectiveness of air quality management in the Bitou LM.

8.1 Governance

There is communication from the AQO in the Bitou LM to the air quality department at the GRDM, but this communication can be more effective and efficient. We recognize that this may be attributed to the additional responsibilities of the designated AQO. Nevertheless, effective communication remains essential for the optimal functioning of air quality management in the Bitou LM. To enhance this communication, it is crucial to strive for the designation of a dedicated AQO, allowing them to focus primarily on air quality issues without additional responsibilities. It will be important for the new designated AQO of the Bitou LM to continue to attend the AQOF meetings to remain on top of all matters related to air quality in the region. This commitment can play a significant role in improving the region's air quality and the management thereof, ensuring it is given the attention it deserves.

8.2 Complaints Register

Complaints related to air quality in the region are recorded and investigated promptly. Serious complaints are discussed during the quarterly AQOF meetings, highlighting the importance of these gatherings in staying informed about and addressing air quality issues within the GRDM, and particularly within the Bitou LM. While it appears that complaints are currently managed effectively, as discussed in the interview with the AQO of the Bitou LM, it is essential to maintain this standard and avoid any decline in attention to this critical area. Consistent engagement in the AQOF meetings will ensure that air quality concerns continue to be addressed proactively and effectively.

8.3 Data Monitoring and Reporting Practices

There are no air quality monitoring stations in the Bitou LM. It would be important to consider procuring a mobile monitoring station to begin with, especially considering that there are viable complaints from the public in the Bitou LM. It would be important to attend any training presented by the GRDM relating to air quality monitoring. To better manage air quality in the LM it will also be important to become proficient in passive sampling so that the GRDM does not have to do this for the Bitou LM when the need arises.

8.4 Emissions Inventory

The GRDM has an existing emissions inventory, of which emissions in the Bitou LM are a part of, that was last updated in 2019. Although updating this inventory was identified as a key action point in the previous AQMP, covering the period from 2019 to 2024, it has not been revised since then. The prior inventory contained several inconsistencies, and the lack of an update has hindered efforts to improve upon it. To accurately reflect the current state of air quality in the Bitou LM, it is imperative to implement measures for regular updates to the emissions inventory in the forthcoming AQMP. Consistent updates will enhance the reliability of emissions data and facilitate more effective air quality management strategies. The emissions inventory has been reviewed and updated as part of the review and renewal of this 3rd generation AQMP and from this it has been determined that the Bitou LM should focus on the following to improve on emissions in the region in the coming years:

1. Enhancing industrial emissions control: Strengthening regulations and encouraging cleaner industrial processes to reduce PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, SO₂ and VOC emissions.
2. Reducing biomass burning: Promoting fire management practices and transitioning to cleaner fuels to address CO, NMVOC, NO_x, and NH₃ emissions.
3. Improving domestic fuel use: Promoting cleaner cooking technologies and alternative energy sources for rural households to reduce VOC and CO emissions.
4. Improving waste management: Reducing organic waste and promoting cleaner waste disposal methods, such as controlled incineration with emission controls, to mitigate VOC and other pollutants.
5. Fostering sustainable agricultural practices: Encouraging better soil management and reducing open-field burning to mitigate PM₁₀, NH₃, and other emissions.
6. Promoting cleaner transport options: Reducing emissions from the transport sector by encouraging the adoption of cleaner, more efficient vehicles and enhancing public transportation options.

It is evident that many of these suggested action points will be difficult to achieve alone and so an SLA could be put in place with the GRDM to ensure that the emissions inventory is kept up to date.

8.5 Human Resources

There is no air quality department in the Bitou LM and so there are currently no staff members solely focused on air quality at the local municipality level due to the additional responsibilities assigned to the designated AQO. The designated AQO of the Bitou LM resigned at the end of 2024 and so a new AQO will need to be designated very soon. If capacity allows, employing interns dedicated to air quality in the Bitou LM would be highly beneficial. This initiative would not only provide valuable educational and work opportunities for interns but could also be implemented at a relatively low cost.

VISION & MISSION

9 VISION & MISSION

Given the identified issues related to operational capacity and the insights gained from the gap analysis, it is essential to establish a clear vision and mission to use as a foundation on which to build the next AQMP. A well-defined vision and mission not only provide a framework for addressing current challenges but also serve as guiding principles for future initiatives. By building the next AQMP around this vision and mission, we can ensure that all efforts are aligned and contribute to the overarching goal of improving air quality in the region. This integrated approach will promote a cohesive strategy that fosters collaboration and drives positive outcomes for the community's air quality.

9.1 Vision

The vision of the Bitou LM is as follows:

“To be the best together/ Om saam die beste te wees/ Sobalasele Sonke.”

While there is no specific vision related to air quality in the Bitou LM, “to be the best together”, air quality also needs to be taken seriously in the LM. For this reason, the vision of the GRDM AQMP has been amended and included as a vision for air quality in the Bitou LM:

“To have air quality worthy of the name “The Garden Route”, of which the Bitou LM forms part.”

It will be important to base the forthcoming AQMP on the above visions to ensure cohesion within the Bitou LM.

9.2 Mission

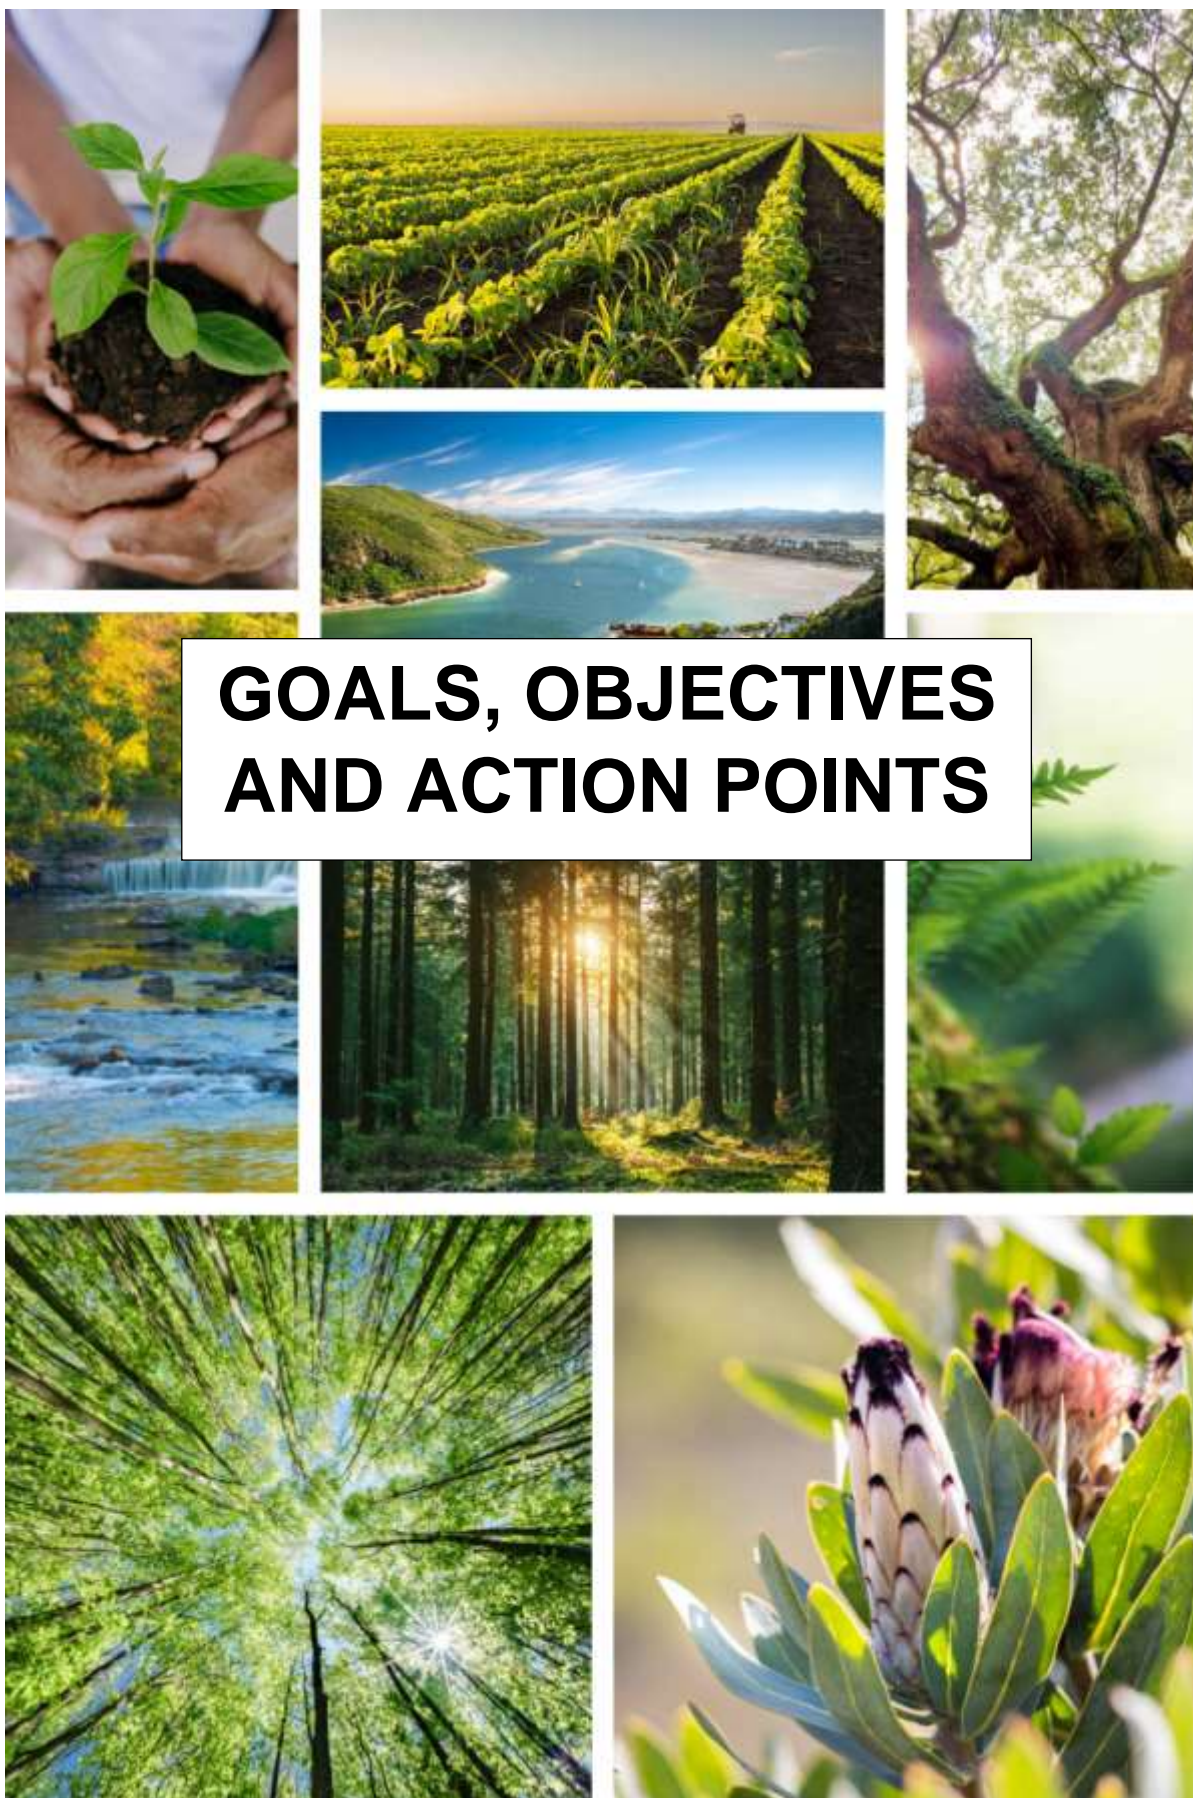

The mission of the Bitou LM is as follows:

“To partner with communities and stakeholders to sustainably deliver quality services so that everyone in Bitou can live and prosper together.”

While there is no specific mission statement related to air quality in the Bitou LM, for “everyone in Bitou [to] live and prosper together”, a mission statement for air quality also needs to be present. For this reason, the mission statement of the GRDM AQMP has been amended and included as a mission statement for air quality in the Bitou LM:

“To minimise the impact of air quality pollutant emissions on the population and the natural environment of the Bitou LM.”

GOALS, OBJECTIVES AND ACTION POINTS

10 GOALS, OBJECTIVES & ACTION POINTS

The goals, objectives, and action points outlined in this AQMP are informed by the framework provided in the WCP AQMP (Western Cape Air Quality Management Plan, 2021). While the overarching goals align with the regional priorities set forth in the WCP AQMP (Western Cape Air Quality Management Plan, 2021), this plan also tailors specific objectives and action points to address the unique responsibilities and needs of the Bitou LM. These tailored action points are designed to reflect the requirements set out in relevant air quality legislation and the outcomes of the comprehensive gap analysis that has already been completed. This approach ensures that the Bitou LM can effectively contribute to improving air quality in a way that is both regionally coordinated and locally relevant, while also ensuring compliance with legal obligations. By focusing on region-specific needs and addressing existing gaps, the plan aims to foster collaborative and efficient air quality management efforts across the Garden Route District, particularly in the Bitou LM.

As outlined in the WCP AQMP (Western Cape Air Quality Management Plan, 2021), the aim of each goal and its respective objectives is summarised as follows:

Goal 1: Ensure effective and consistent air quality management.

This goal focuses on building human resources for effective air quality management by designating AQOs at various levels of government and strengthening their capacity through training and support. It also emphasizes the role of industry in air quality management, with the appointment of Emission Control Officers and the development of training courses for air quality officials. Cooperation between government spheres is encouraged through platforms like the Premiers' Coordinating Forum and the AQOF to share information and improve governance. Efficient institutional mechanisms and organizational structures are essential for successful air quality management, including monitoring, evaluation, and reporting at all levels. Finally, municipalities are encouraged to secure adequate funding and resources to implement their AQMPs effectively.

Goal 2: Continually engage with stakeholders to raise awareness with respect to air quality management and climate change response.

Effective communication is crucial for sharing air quality information with stakeholders, and the DEA&DP aims to utilize innovative channels, including social and digital media, to raise awareness on air quality management and climate change. The WCP AQMP also prioritizes gender mainstreaming, incorporating initiatives such as promoting women and youth involvement in the RAC sector and expanding programs like the Garden Route Clean Fires Campaign. The plan encourages collaboration with Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) and Community-Based Organisations (CBOs) to engage marginalized groups in air quality awareness and recommends the development of an Air Quality Communications Strategy that includes gender-specific considerations.

Goal 3: Ensure effective and consistent compliance monitoring and enforcement.

The Air Quality Compliance and Enforcement Programme should continue to be implemented in the WCP, ensuring effective monitoring and enforcement of air quality regulations. This includes identifying and investigating illegal activities impacting air quality and taking necessary administrative actions. The WCP also emphasizes promoting self-regulation and voluntary compliance, which will reduce the burden on authorities and enhance air quality management efforts.

Goal 4: Support air quality and climate change response programmes, including promoting and facilitating the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions.

This goal aims to reduce air pollution and its associated climate change impacts by adopting technical, policy, and economic interventions, including vehicle emissions control, eco-driving programs, and alternative cooking and heating incentives. It emphasizes integrating air quality and climate change programs to ensure effective responses across the WCP. The DEA&DP will continue to implement recommendations from the Human Health Risk Assessment (HHRA) Study and promote initiatives like the SMART-air Programme, which recognizes emission reduction best practices in various sectors. Additionally, the refrigeration and air conditioning (RAC) sector will focus on transitioning to low-global warming potential refrigerants to reduce GHG emissions. The SMART-air Programme and the Climate-Friendly RAC Project will play key roles in achieving this goal, with ongoing collaboration with international partners.

The goals, objectives and action points for the 3rd generation AQMP for the Bitou LM are provided below (Table 10-1). The timeframe, responsible party and budget are provided alongside each applicable action point for better management purposes. The timeframe has been divided into three categories, short term (0-1 year), medium term (2-3 years), and long term (4-5 years). It is important to note that “long term” does not mean that the action point should only be considered after 4 to 5 years, it means that by the 4th year of implementation of this AQMP, the action point should be achieved. The same applies for the “medium term”. The budget is only applicable to certain action points, hence why there is not a budget allocation for each action point.

STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT

11 STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT

It is legislated, in the NEM:AQA (Act no. 39 of 2004), that the public should be involved in the development, review and implementation of an AQMP. The NEM:AQA also encourages public involvement at both the local and national level. Public participation may look different for different AQMP's. The procedure followed for the public participation portion of the review and renewal of the GRDM AQMP is described in greater detail below.

The process for the review and renewal of the GRDM and the respective B-municipalities' AQMP's was officially initiated in June 2024. Notices announcing this process were published in the George Herald newspaper and were also made available on the websites of both the GRDM and Rayten Engineering Solutions, as well as on Rayten Engineering Solutions' social media platforms. These notices outlined a three-month registration period for individuals and organizations wishing to register as interested or affected parties in relation to the AQMP.

In addition to the notices, a Background Information Document (BID) was circulated in each of the local municipalities and made available to the public for those seeking further information on the project.

In accordance with the agreed-upon project plan, a series of in-person public participation meetings were scheduled to take place in each of the local municipalities. Advertisements for these meetings were distributed within the municipalities at the beginning of October 2024. The public participation meetings were held in the month of November 2024, during the week of the 4th to 8th, providing an opportunity for community members to engage directly with the project team and raise any concerns or questions regarding the AQMP. The Bitou LM meeting took place on the 7th of November from 9 to 12am at the Piesang Valley Community Hall.

The AQMP was also presented at the Garden Route Air Quality Working Group meeting, ensuring direct communication of the project with industry. All Listed Activities and Controlled Emitters in the GRDM form part of the working group. Industry was made aware of the project and allowed the opportunity to comment on the process and attend the public meetings.

The Bitou LM public meeting was held at venue open to the public, ensuring accessibility for all interested parties. The structure of this meeting was designed to facilitate clear communication and active participation, and followed a consistent format:

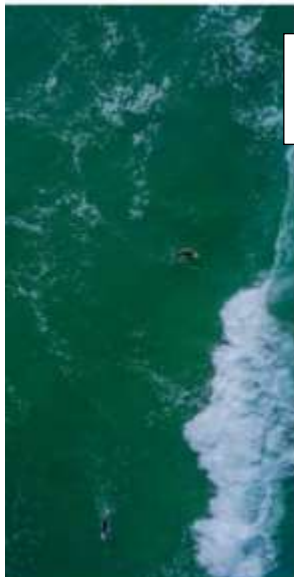

- i. Introduction by the District: The meeting commenced with a welcoming address and an overview of the project by representatives from the GRDM, either Dr Johann Schoeman or Mr Angus Andries.
- ii. Presentation by Rayten Engineering Solutions: Following the introduction, a detailed presentation was delivered by Rayten, providing an overview of the AQMP review and renewal process, as well as key objectives and actions proposed in the plan.
- iii. Open forum for questions, comments, and discussion: The floor was then opened for attendees to ask questions, express concerns, and engage in discussions regarding the AQMP and its implications.

To ensure a thorough and organized record of the feedback received during these meetings, a summary table was prepared for the meeting in the Bitou LM (Table 11-1). This table clearly outlines the concerns and questions raised by the public, along with the responses and actions taken to address them. This approach allows for transparent documentation of the feedback and ensures that all issues are appropriately addressed in the context of the AQMP review process.

1	Concerns and questions regarding chemtrails in the municipal area where raised. A question was raised relating to criteria pollutants and how it is measured.	-It was stated that chemtrails or the spraying of unknown chemicals is not regulated by the NEM:AQA (Act 39 of 2004). -The AQOs of both GRDM and Bitou local municipality are appointed in terms of the Air Quality Act. Mr A Andries stated that he is unsure who the competent authority for regulating the spraying of chemicals via aircrafts would reside under and mentioned that he would raise the question at the Western Cape AQOF Meeting. -Concerned residents may also directly lodge an enquiry to the Minister of Environmental Affairs or to the Provincial or National AQO. The contact details are provided below: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Dr Dion George – Minister of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment: ministerg@dfre.gov.za (personal assistant (PA) Mr Jacques Scholtz) • Dr Joy Leaner – Provincial AQO: joy.leaner@westerncape.gov.za • Dr Patience Gwaze – National AQO: pgwaze@environment.gov.za • Ms Nomfundo Tshabalala – Director General of Department of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment (DFFE): dg@dfre.gov.za • Ms Siphokazi Nkosi – PA of Director General: SVNkosi@dfre.gov.za -The criteria pollutants include: PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, SO₂, NO₂, CO, Pb, O₃ and C₆H₆. -In terms of the 2017 National Framework for Air Quality Management in the RSA, the monitoring of ambient air quality is both the responsibility of the district and local municipality. The monitoring equipment is expensive thus the reason that the DFFE is exploring the use of low-cost monitoring equipment. Part of the AQMP review and renewal process is set goals and objectives which will address ambient air quality monitoring in each local municipality.

2	How are pollutants detected and measured.	-It was shared that in the GRDM there are two stationary ambient air quality monitoring stations owned by DEA&DP as well as one mobile analyser that are utilised in the region to monitor ambient air quality. All three stations report live to the SAAQIS, and the information is available to the public. -In terms of reporting atmospheric emissions, Listed Activities (activities that requires an AEL) and Controlled Emitters are required to report their annual emission on the NAEIS. The emissions from the regulated facilities are known and the information is used for the compilation of National Emissions profiles in line with AQMPs. -Mr Christopher Rankin added that GHGs are reported on the South African Greenhouse Gas Reporting System (SAGERS).
3	Mention of National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) planes as part of the Chemtrail concern mentioned above. Requested that data be made available pertaining to particular pollutants being spread in the atmosphere.	-Mr Angus Andries suggested that NASA data/information be requested by the relevant parties at a national level as chemtrails are not regulated on a local or district level in terms of Air Quality Management.
4	Geo-engineering is the umbrella term used to speak about Chemtrails.	-Noted.
5	Sewage concern in the area.	-Noted. Odours form a part of air quality management. This is also a matter of town planning that will need to be considered going forward.
6	An extraction fan from one of the fast food restaurants near residencies is causing odour issues.	-Noted.
7	Complaint about noise and emissions from garden services (weed eaters and mowers) near residencies.	-Mr Angus Andries mentioned that noise monitoring can take place, but also to bear in mind that if the noise level is within acceptable limits, unfortunately not much can be done to rectify the situation. Noise falls under the jurisdiction of the local municipality in terms of the 2017 National Framework for Air Quality Management in the RSA.

WAY FORWARD

12 WAY FORWARD

The successful implementation and ongoing evaluation of the AQMP for the Bitou LM is a crucial step in ensuring that air quality within the region is effectively managed and improved. This AQMP is aligned with the guidelines set forth in the NEM:AQA (Act no. 39 of 2004) of South Africa and will be periodically reviewed to ensure continued compliance with national standards and local needs.

Moving forward, the Bitou LM will continue to adhere to the process outlined in the AQMP, ensuring that all air quality issues are appropriately identified and addressed. This will be achieved through regular monitoring and the implementation of the proposed, measurable objectives that guide the management of air quality in the region. Additionally, the AQMP will be evaluated annually through annual reporting, in line with the requirements of NEM:AQA (Act no. 39 of 2004), to assess the progress and effectiveness thereof. This process will include an analysis of whether air quality has improved, if there is a need for updating or revising information, and whether the mission statement and overall goals of the AQMP remain relevant.

The implementation of the AQMP will be carried out in a transparent and structured manner, with an emphasis on co-operative governance among all stakeholders. The existing structures will be used to implement this AQMP. This collaborative approach will ensure that all sectors play a role in air quality management, and that necessary resources and expertise are directed towards the implementation of air quality initiatives.

In line with NEM:AQA (Act no. 39 of 2004), annual reporting will be a key component of the AQMP, outlining the progress made in air quality management, monitoring activities, and compliance with regulatory standards. These reports will serve as a basis for determining whether any revisions are necessary and will also highlight any challenges faced during the implementation process, providing a foundation for their resolution.

After five years (2024 to 2029), a comprehensive review of the AQMP will be undertaken, realigning goals where necessary and incorporating new data or emerging challenges. This ensures that the AQMP remains a dynamic and responsive document, capable of addressing the evolving air quality concerns of the Bitou LM.

By adhering to these guidelines and engaging in ongoing dialogue and evaluation, the Bitou LM will be positioned to effectively manage air quality and contribute to the improvement of environmental health for all communities within the region. Through a collaborative and proactive approach, the AQMP will fulfil its role in securing a healthier and more sustainable future for the Bitou LM.

PROPOSED MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING/AGREEMENT BETWEEN BITOU MUNICIPALITY AND FREE MARKET FOUNDATION

Demarcation: All Wards

File Ref: 9/1/6

Delegation: Council

Attachments Annexure A: Memorandum of Understanding
Annexure B: Brochure of Khaya Lam (FMF)

Report from: Director Planning and Development

Author: Manager Integrated Human Settlements

Date: 09 May 2025

PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

For Council to approve the use of Free Market Foundation services and that the municipality formally sign the Memorandum of Understanding between the two parties

BACKGROUND /DISCUSSION

Bitou Municipality and in particular, Integrated Human Settlements Section depends solely on services of Service Providers in the form of Conveyancers for purposes of property registrations and transfers for ownership. With regards to transfers of properties relating to low-cost housing, Bitou Municipality is flagged as one of the municipalities with a huge backlog within the province. The municipality is currently in the process of investigating affordable information and communication technology (ICT) platforms that can be used by various municipal departments including Integrated Human Settlements, Land Use Management, Human Resources, Revenue and Legal Services for searches that relate to property registration processes, progress, transfers and issuing of title deeds, amongst other uses.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Municipality has been approached by Mr Terry Markman of Free Market Foundation for purposes of establishing working relations. The attached draft MoU, Annexure A proposes a relationship that must be forged between the two parties. It can also be confirmed that Free Market Foundation is working with other municipalities within the Western Cape Province including our neighbouring Knysna Municipality, see Annexure B. The Free Market Foundation is an independent registered Non-Profit organization that source its funding through membership subscriptions, donorships and sponsorships.

Bitou Municipality is currently without the Legal Services panel of consulting firms since 01 July 2024, with new and old properties that must be transferred, the inexistence of the panel is putting a strain to the already strained capacity to process property transfers. FMF will be instrumental in assisting with the transfer of “Title Deed Restoration Project”, that is, properties that were handed over pre-1994, post 1994 to 2014 but were never registered and transferred to the rightful owners. It is also important to note that the Municipality has been denied receipt of Title Deeds related grant funding due to lack of reconciliations that cannot be confirmed by the previous Service Providers that were used by the Municipality. FMF will also be instrumental in assisting with tracing which properties that are categorized as the “Title Deed Restoration Project” that were transferred and ensure that reconciliation is achieved.

About the FMF

The FMF is an independent, non-profit, public benefit organisation, created in 1975 by pro-free-market business and civil society national bodies to work for a non-racial, free and prosperous South Africa. As a policy organisation it promotes sound economic policies and the principles of good law. As a think tank it seeks and puts forward solutions to some of the country's most pressing problems: unemployment, poverty, growth, land reform, education, health care, electricity supply, and more. The FMF was instrumental in the post-apartheid negotiations and directly influenced the Constitutional Commission to include the property rights clause in the Constitution: a critical cornerstone of economic freedom and one that needs to be defended.

Your donations are tax-deductible

The FMF is an independent registered Non-Profit and Public Benefit Organisation. It has Section 18A(1)(a) tax approval, which means that it is exempt from tax, and donations to it are tax-deductible up to 10% of the taxable income of donors. Khaya Lam (My Home) Land Reform Project

This is Mrs Maria Mothupi at 99 years of age. She was born just three years after the 1913 Land Act banned land ownership by black South Africans. This photo, taken 2015, shows Mrs Mothupi a few minutes after she received a title deed to the council-owned property where she built the house in which she has lived for many years. Mrs Mothupi is just one of several thousand council tenants to benefit from the FMF's Khaya Lam (My Home) Land Reform Project.

This is one of those rare opportunities where one can get involved in a project with a huge element of heart and compassion; a project that brings hope in the future to your fellow South Africans
 – Christo Wiese

Wow...wow...wow! What an amazing experience! I'd like to thank you for all the hard and great work you did with managing this project – it was a highlight of my career. Thank you for guiding us to change people's lives. Thanks to the Free Market Foundation team for your great work and for choosing us as your partner. You have brought about a meaningful point to the work we do every day.
 – Boitumelo Phungwayo, Head of Affordable Housing Products & Strategic Partners, Standard Bank

Initiated in 2010 in Ngwathe (Parys), Free State, the FMF's Khaya Lam (My Home) Land Reform Project serves to convert land currently held under a complex variety of restrictive tenures and apartheid titles to unambiguous, freely tradable ownership.

Khaya Lam (My Home) Land Reform Project objectives

- To have all council-owned properties in Ngwathe (approximately 11,000) upgraded to full freehold title at no cost to the lawful residents.
- To replicate the Ngwathe experience in all other areas of South Africa in which old forms of apartheid occupation exist (approximately 5 million properties). Already FMF is working with councils in towns and cities in six provinces.

Having ironed out a wide range of issues and considerably simplified the process of converting ownership from council to legal resident, FMF has managed to reduce the cost per transfer to R2,950. In other words, for a mere R2,950 YOU can make it possible for the FMF and its partner councils to transfer a home worth approximately R120,000 to the legal resident and help set a precedent for replication elsewhere in South Africa.

Please note: Your donations are tax-deductible. On receipt of payment, you will be issued with a Section 18A certificate for SARS. To donate, see back page.

It is hard to think of a single idea that would boost South Africa more than this project, which unleashes the wealth in land into the hands of the people, and, through them, into the economy at large

– Leon Louw

Below is Mrs Molalogi's house, self-built over many years, before she received title to her council-owned erf and after. Mrs Molalogi says, "The title deed says to me that where I am now is my place. Everything that is here belongs to me. Whatever I do, I know that it is in my name."

An extraordinary land reform project

More than twenty years after the end of apartheid, the great majority of black South Africans still live in apartheid-style state-owned rental accommodation. The phrase Khaya Lam means "my home". Everyone living in a council-owned rental house will tell you, "Khaya Lam" (this is my home). This is true, up to a point, because tenants have usage rights which can be passed on to a child and into future generations. However, tenants cannot sell their usage rights, or rent their homes to anyone else. To retain their rights, they have to live in the home, putting tenants under virtual "house arrest".

Now, if tenants had full freehold property titles, Khaya Lam would have a completely different meaning. The house would be theirs to improve, mortgage, let, sell or do anything else they wish to do with it. They would not be "housebound" any longer. They would be free to take advantage of jobs and other opportunities offered elsewhere, whether temporary or permanent. They would own an asset; they would feel secure.

Estimated cost of completing the Ngwathe pilot project

At R2,950 per property, transferring all 11,000 properties owned by the Ngwathe council will cost approximately R28 million. At an estimated value of R120,000 per property, the "dead capital" in housing in Ngwathe, once transferred, will be transformed into "dynamic capital" with a total owned and tradable value of an estimated R1.3-billion.

Estimated cost of converting all properties in the country

Extrapolating the figures to the rest of the country would suggest a total cost of R13.5-billion to R19.3-billion to convert all the dead capital in housing in the country to a total owned and tradable value of an estimated R840-billion to R1.2-trillion. The cost will be a small price to pay for increased economic stability and a substantially increased middle class in South Africa.

Secure property rights represent one of the most important requirements for the protection of both economic freedom and civil liberties. The FMF remains concerned about the slow pace of land reform, especially as the solutions that exist require only political will to implement. The FMF proposes that:

- (1) All black occupied council-owned urban plots be converted to full ownership ("freehold").
- (2) Superfluous government land be redistributed to the victims of apartheid.
- (3) Pre-emptive clauses be removed from existing and future RDP titles.
- (4) Traditional communities be allowed full title over homesteads and communal rights over arable land.
- (5) The Subdivision of Agricultural Land Act, 1970 be repealed.
